The Rev. J. Smye officiated at the wedding of Mary Frances Marcoux and Dugald Dick in St. Joseph's Catholic Church on June 28 in a double ring ceremony.

George Elliott played the Theme from Romeo and Juliet, Amazing Grace and Song of Joy on the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Marcoux, Acton, and is a secretary in a legal firm in Brampton. The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dick, is an electrician with Holley Electric, Brampton.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore an early Canadian pure silk chiffon gown with Chantilly lace bodice. It had long puffed sleeves narrowing at the wrist with lace trimmed ruffled cuff. The hem of the gown was finished with four rows of Chantilly lace falling into a long train. A Juliet cap head piece trimmed with lace held a bouant veil edged in lace. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow daisies with baby's breath.

Bridal attendants
Matron of honor was Mrs. Anne Ridley, Acton. Bridesmaids were the sister of the groom, Miss Sally Dick, Edmonton, Alberta, and the bride's cousin, Miss Cynthia McPherson, Kitchener. Another cousin of the bride, Miss Kathleen Nolan, was junior bridesmaid.

They wore mint green polyester gowns with bell sleeves and a deep ruffle on the bottom trimmed with white lace. White straw picture hats complemented the outfit. They carried colonial bouquets of white daisies and baby's breath.

George Cook was his friend's best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Michael, and another friend Randy Ridley.

Reception
At the reception at the Acton Meadows Golf Club, the bride's mother received for her daughter wearing a soft melon coloured dress with Chanel jacket. She also wore a white orchid corsage.

The groom's mother received for her son wearing a pale yellow floral sheer gown with jacket and a white daisies corsage.

For travelling to Cove Haven, in the Pocono Mountains, Pennsylvania, the bride wore a two piece powder blue and rose printed jersey ensemble with a white orchid and white accessories.

Guests attended the wedding from Quebec City, Montreal, Toronto, St. Catharines, England, Hamilton, Acton, Mount Forest, Edmonton, Kitchener and Guelph.

Showers
Wedding showers were given in the bride's honor by Mrs. Anne Ridley, a friend; Mrs. Jackie Nolan, an aunt, and Mrs. Cliff Ashley, a neighbour. Two presentations were made by the girls in her office and from classmates at Sheridan College. A stag for the groom was held at the Acton Legion.

The newlyweds are now living at 6 John St., Acton.

Raise $50 for Oxfam at market

Selling fresh-picked vegetables on the Brampton farmers' market, Acton Oxfam volunteers Saturday raised $50.76. They are well satisfied with the amount and are already thinking of doing it again next year.

Manning the Oxfam booth were Daphne King, Dorothy Allen with her son Jimmy, Carol Fuller with her boys Jeffrey and Steven.

They were impressed by the kindness and generosity of the people who donated produce from their own gardens, to raise money for the project.

They are very grateful to the people who assisted them.

They also mention two young boys who said they would help—the only two outside volunteers heard from!

Grading
When they set up their booth at the market they were told the produce would have to be graded. Someone helped them do this novel task, and they were happy to learn almost everything they had brought would be categorized Grade A.

Any leftover produce was given to Mapleview Lodge and Kelly's Nursing Home.

The current project for the local Oxfam group is to raise money toward the purchase of a printing press for a co-op in Bangladesh. Oxfam employee Catherine Harvey had told the Actonians about the self-help endeavors and its needs last winter.

PICNIC TABLE is banked high with perfectly-formed vegetables and bright flowers, destined for the Brampton market. Donations were sold and raised over $50 for Oxfam. Collecting the mouth-watering produce are Carol Fuller, Rosemary Rd., and son Steven, who is six.

Planters blooming

When the street planters were first introduced, there were problems with people idly spoiling some of the flowers. There have been instances of the police requesting residents to please report what they had uprooted.

This year, however, according to the O.P.P., there has been little problem with the planters.

They were planted by the town, which has apparently taken over the job from the defunct development commission.

Trees cut
Several trees were cut down in town the past week. In some cases, neighbors had asked that the trees be cut since they were dangerous.

Music in pool adds to swim

By Mrs. Emily Price
The Friends-In-Deed group for the physically handicapped were very pleased to have as many people out to the pool on Sunday. Music was supplied to help make the swimming and exercising much easier and games are now being enjoyed in the water. It is such a good way to relax.

Following pool next Sunday, August 17, we are having a barbecue at Herb and Ann Dodds on McDonald Blvd. We hope we have a good representation. We also hope, as the holidays draw to a close, to have all our members out on Sundays and at the meetings. We miss each and every member of the organization.

In closing, I want to remind everyone of our next meeting on August 24, and to invite new members to come and enjoy our get-together. Any interested persons can get in touch with me at 853-2324, or Herb Dodds at 853-2423.

We hope to see everyone on Sunday at the pool and at the barbecue. We hope to be able to plan a picnic following our monthly meeting, but will have more details on that later.

Ouch
The fair is only five weeks from this Saturday.

The groom's mother received wearing a floor-length green and yellow flowered gown with matching coat and white accessories. She wore a yellow rose corsage and yellow carnations in her hair.

The bride's cousin Wayne Barber was the master of ceremonies. Mrs. Wm. McDonald of Eden Mills made the cake. The bride wore a gold necklace, a gift from the groom, who wore monogrammed cufflinks, a gift from his new wife.

The bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Longstreet of Dundalk attended the wedding ceremony, along with the groom's grandmothers Mrs. L. Inglis of Acton, and Mrs. W. Roszell of Acton. Other guests attended from Guelph, Georgetown, Kitchener, Cheltenham, Eden Mills, Dundas, Erin, Brampton, Dundalk, Hespeler, Ballinacraig, Galt, Milton, Rockwood, Lestowel, and Tilsonburg.

Showers
Prior to her marriage, the bride was guest of honor at several showers. A miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. L. Inglis and Mrs. W. Roszell. Sharon Bard and Kathy Barber gave a personal shower. Two other miscellaneous showers were held by Mrs. Sandy McEachern and Karen Davey. A Jack and Jill miscellaneous shower was held by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Longstreet and a rehearsal party was held by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roszell. John Bard held a stag at the Rockwood Hall for the groom.

For travelling to the Cove Haven honeymoon resort in the Pocono Mountains, Pennsylvania, the bride wore a dress with a floral bodice and coral skirt and a coral matching jacket with brown accessories, and a yellow sweetheart corsage.
