

AIN'T NOTHIN' But a Hound Dog was the tune and Mark Staley and Leonard Miller were two of the most energetic dancers. Greaser day was Friday at the Robert Little school.

"WATERMELON FOR ALL" was the cry that produced a few moments' quiet in the R. L. gym Friday. The greaser music, costumes and decorations heralded another special event for the three town playgrounds.

ALL SHOOK UP, blared the record, and Robert Jennings was one of the shakingest of all the shook up people.

Parade, carnival mark end of playgrounds

Halton Hills summer playgrounds come to an end this Friday, but not without a grand finale. A parade is scheduled to take place tonight (Wednesday). Marching in this affair will be children from all Acton and Esqueping playgrounds, including Limehouse, Speyside, and Ballinadfad. It is hoped the children from out of town can get out in great numbers for the occasion.

The parade leaves from the railroad tracks on Fellow St. at 7 o'clock, proceeding to Mill St. From here they will venture down Main St., to Knox Ave., and on into Prospect Park.

Band, too. The Acton Citizens' Band plans to march in the parade and each playground will have a float. Once the children arrive at the park, a Penny Carnival will get underway. Each playground will have two booths set up with the monies raised going toward charity. Speyside children will be having a kissing booth and a bean bag throw. Ballinadfad will feature ring toss and a tin can hit with Limehouse having a penny throw. A fish pond and apple bobbing will be sponsored by the boys and girls from Prospect Park playground, with M. Z. Bennett playground children having a sponge throw and a candle skirt. A fortune telling booth and a knick knack sale will be put on by the children of Robert Little playground.

All welcome. Everyone is welcome to Prospect Park tonight to help mark the closing of the playgrounds for this summer.

CRITICS OF playground Greaser Day were Christine Miller and Darrin Robb. "Too noisy," they explained. It sure was.

BEST DANCERS on Greaser Day were proclaimed—Carolyn Gibson and Michelle Scott.

The Scout hall addition is progressing well. The blocks for the basement have all been laid and the ground floor is ready to be built. Please remember that we are building this for your children, so don't be shy and offer a helping hand.

Related congratulations go out to Leonard Miller, the latest recipient of a challenge award, the bronze chain.

Camp First Acton Scouts will be having their troop camp this weekend. Scouts must bring their signed forms and fee to the meeting Thursday. If you did not get a form a signed slip of paper from your parents granting permission to attend will suffice. It is the regular camp fee.

Leaders are asked to watch this column for an official announcement concerning the pre-registration organization meeting at the end of this month.
