

THURSDAY NOON HOUR CONCERT SERIES

Concert Management's outstanding noon hour concerts are always a popular way of spending the noon hour, not only for faculty, staff and students, but for the general public as well. The free concerts are presented twice each Thursday noon from 12:10 to 12:45 p.m. and again from 1:10 to 1:45 p.m. and are held in Music Room 107, Arts Building.

BIOLOGY HOUR

The University of Guelph's Biology Hour series, which is going into its sixth season, has proved to be a tremendous success, not only with members of the university community, but with the general public.

Beginning again in October, the sessions will be held each Thursday from 12 noon to 1 p.m. in room 130 of the botany, genetics and zoology building.
There is no admission charge and you are invited to bring your lunch. The sessions will cover a wide range of popular biological topics and detailed information on them will be arranged later. The series is sponsored by the university's college of biological science.
