

JOANNE AND Johnny, who live with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Sid DeVries on the farm, obviously don't mind the birds. Their mom says "They like those turkeys. They're always down there."

WHILE 20 thousand turkeys spend their short 13½ week span in the three huge barns, over 23,000 enjoy the outdoor life on the farm. Mr. Nagtzaam ships around 120,000 per year.

UNAWARE THAT he is being shipped to market the next day, this gobbler puts on a show for visitors. Birds like this used to disappear often till the erection of a higher fence made it difficult for passers-by to help themselves.

NOTICE from GEORGE KERR
Solicitor General

Thank you to the voters of the new Riding of HALTON-BURLINGTON who were formerly in the Riding of HALTON WEST for their support at the polls in previous provincial elections.

I am running in the Riding of BURLINGTON this election but I still solicit your support for our P. C. Government by voting for GARY DAWKINS on September 18th.

Sincerely

George A. Kerr, Q.C.
Solicitor General

OVER 60 tons of feed per week fattens turkeys to their 15 pound market weight. Automatic feeders make the work easier on Andy Nagtzaam's First Line Farm.

Committee on lookout for four new advisors

The Acton Recreation Advisory Committee is looking for four people to fill vacant positions.

Following a special request from Ed Wood and Pam Sheldon, letters of resignation were received from Brendan Ahearne and Gil Malcolm. Letters had been sent to these two men as well as Barry Incoe from the town clerk's office on behalf of the committee members asking their intentions. It was decided at September 3 regular meeting of the committee that Mr. Incoe was resigning, although no letter was received from him.

Diane Spielvogel decided to leave the committee last May.

Mrs. Sheldon was concerned over the resignation of Mr. Ahearne. "I'm sorry to see him go," she told the other members.

Pete Pappillon questioned the validity of the July meeting in which Mr. Wood and Mrs. Sheldon made a motion to council that the letters be sent out. He did not feel the two members present made up a quorum. Mrs. Sheldon told him that Councillors Roy Booth and Dick Howitt had told them following a General Administration Meeting, to go through the clerk for the formal resignations.

The question of how to go about getting new members was the next question raised. It was suggested by Recreation Co-ordinator John Cooper that an ad be placed in local papers requesting applications. Mr. Wood suggested going directly to people who are interested.

It was decided an ad would be placed in the papers and if there were not four answers within two weeks, individual people would be contacted. Both Mr. Wood and Mrs. Sheldon have had people approach them wanting to fill two of the open positions, and they feel these people would be suitable for the job.

"I think we should get new members and start doing something," Mrs. Sheldon said.

With Your help

. . . . the Job will be done

To be a successful Member of Parliament one must have a strong desire to serve people — and Gary Dawkins has. To be a successful Member of Parliament in 1975 one must understand and appreciate Youth — Gary Dawkins has proven this in his chosen vocation as a School Principal.

To be a successful Member one must recognize the needs of our Senior Citizens — Gary's service through Rotary and the Royal Canadian Legion has proven that he recognizes this need.

To be a successful M.P.P. one must be able to serve our rural and urban communities, as well as business and industry, and Gary has demonstrated his competence in communicating with rural and urban people and in gaining their support. Therefore, when you consider his education, his involvement with young people and ideal age for service, his desire to be a full-time Member of Parliament, you will be justified in selecting Gary Dawkins as your representative at Queen's Park.
