

Dearing - Dudnik vows at Toronto August 2

St. Demetrius Church, Lakeshore Blvd. Toronto, was the scene of a very pretty Greek Orthodox wedding on August 2, when Lydia Dudnik became the bride of Thomas Albert Dearing.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. (Mike) Dudnik of R.R. 1, Guelph, Ontario, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dearing of, R.R. 5, Belwood, Ontario.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Rodnarchuk, in the traditional Ukrainian style. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Victorian style gown of hand crocheted lace with chiffon sleeves. A jilette headpiece held her flowing train. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, daisies, cornflower and baby's breath.

Attendants: Natalie Dudnik was her sister's maid of honor, wearing a yellow A-line gown of organza over satin. Janet Beatty, niece of the groom, was flower girl, and wore the same colour gown. Both carried bouquets of pink roses, daisies, cornflower and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids, gowned alike in green satin, wore floppy hats and white accessories. They were Nancy Dearing, sister of the groom, Linda McKenzie, Susan Van Sickle and Janet Harrison. All carried bouquets of daisies, cornflower and baby's breath.

David Herbison was groomsmen, and ushers were Sandy Dudnik, Ospringe, brother of the bride; Mike McGowan, Erin, Murray Wilson, Orangeville, and Gary Dunc of Guelph.

The evening reception for 200 guests, was held in the church auditorium, which was beautifully decorated with gladioli and sweet peas, in the Ukrainian colours of yellow and light blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudnik received for their daughter, Mrs. Dearing wearing a lime green A-line gown, white accessories, and a yellow-orange corsage.

The bride's travelling costume was a two-piece pant suit, which she donned for their honeymoon trip to Huntsville.

The groom is an industrial electrician, employed by C.I.L. Brampton, and the bride is a Correctional Officer, employed by the Ministry of Corrections at Mimico.

Mr. and Mrs. Dearing are residing at 263 Ontario St. Apt. 504, Milton.

GORGEOUSLY APPLIQUED handicrafts from Bangladesh have been donated to the Acton Oxfam group for sale by Mrs. Lillian Eaton. President Daphne King is delighted with the gift and says the crafts will be sold at an Oxfam sale in October. The items were made by impoverished women, some of whom were assisted by Mrs. Eaton's daughter-in-law Mrs. Bruce Eaton.

Well-known Choristers beg for new members

Acton's men's singing group, The Chorallers, are in grave danger of disbanding if more members are not recruited.

This was the word from Jim Higgins, the man in charge of the group. He told this paper that a special meeting was held Sunday evening and the existing men discussed whether or not the group should break up. There are only 15 singers now, down six from last year, and down 11 since the group was formed in 1964.

Singing at hospitals, homes for aged, and parties, the voices of the Chorallers are a familiar sound throughout the area. Mr. Higgins recalled they had appeared in public 110 times in the past 11 years.

Officers for 4-H

"Let's Bake Bread" was the theme of the first September meeting of the Ballinfad 4-H Club held recently at the home of Mrs. W. McLean. A discussion of the required ingredients was followed by a practise session when members baked their own loaves.

During the business meeting the following slate of officers was elected: president, Jackie Koperdraad; vice-president, Karen Kirkwood; secretary, Lydia Koperdraad; treasurer, Cathy Gardner; press reporter, Lydia Koperdraad.

Other members of this group include Doris Ella, Beverly Leitch, Lorrie Ramm and Sharon Kirkwood.

Ballinfad II Dough-Does was the name chosen for their group by the Ballinfad II 4-H Club at their second meeting at the home of Beverly Leitch. Members discussed freezer whole wheat bread and took turns reading from the members' pamphlet entitled "Bread Making Techniques". Basic white bread was made by those present and to round out the evening members sampled some freezer whole wheat bread.

The girls went straight to work in the kitchen. Teresa McCarron, the assistant leader, had prepared Puffy Dutch Mincakes. They were all tasted by the girls and were very good. The girls took turns preparing the freezer whole wheat bread. Kneading was shown to the girls. The bread was prepared and put in the freezer.

Dublin women donate money for handicapped

Twenty members travelled to the home of Mrs. Duncan Moffat, Emmottville, for the September meeting of the Dublin W.I.

The meeting was opened by singing the Institute Ode, repeating the Mary Stewart Collect and the Lord's Prayer. President Mrs. E. Norton passed out papers with the names of the 68 countries belonging to the Associated Country Women of the World (ACWW) and each member gave her reply to the roll call. Correspondence was read by the secretary, Mrs. N. Douglas.

Letters of thanks

A letter from the Home Economics Branch was read offering a short course on "Salute to Vegetables," but this was declined by the group. A letter advising of the Arts and Crafts display was read, and also a letter of appreciation from the North Halton Association for the Mentally Handicapped, thanking the Dublin W.I. for their donation to the new AHC residence. The Health Committee advised us of a sale to be held at McCullough's farm on October 8.

A lengthy discussion took place concerning the annual bus trip, and it was decided to invite the husbands along for an evening bus trip, perhaps for a dinner and show, date to be selected later. It was decided that we would have a booth at both Milton and Erin Fall Fairs to sell our cook books.

Entries at the Milton and Georgetown Fall Fairs were finalized with the members handing in their articles for display. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. M. Nellis, convener of the International meeting. She gave a very interesting talk on the ACWW, giving a breakdown of the levels of branch, district, zone, province, country, etc. It was also decided to order an ACWW pin for each member, as each FWID member is also a member of the ACWW. Mrs. Norton then passed around some pamphlets about the ACWW, its services and goals, and a pamphlet about its president from England. A contest was then held, to name the 68 countries of the ACWW, trying to remember them from the roll call. Winners were Mrs. D. Hunter and Mrs. K. Smith.

The meeting closed with the singing of O Canada, and the Institute Grace. Lunch was served by the committee, assisted by the Hostess. Courties were given by Mrs. D. Hunter.

Bake bread at Greenock

Greenock 4-H club held its first meeting of the fall season at the home of Miss Elva Pearen last week.

The club project for the next seven weeks is entitled "Let's Bake Bread." Under the guidance of their leaders, Mrs. Eleanor McUlloch and Miss Pearen, the eleven members hope to learn to do just that.

While Miss Pearen prepared the mixture for Puffy Dutch Mincakes, Mrs. McUlloch combined the ingredients for Freezer Whole Wheat Bread and demonstrated the procedure for kneading dough. Each girl then tried her hand at kneading. Thank goodness it is hard to overwork bread dough! The dough was then frozen until the next meeting when it will be baked.

Later the Puffy Dutch Mincakes were fried and coated in icing sugar to provide a tasty snack for those present.

The president of the Greenock 4-H club this year is Barb Ware. Norma Leslie is the vice president and Donna Milton, the secretary.

Women can now get out with peers

programs. For two hours each Wednesday, women who would not normally get out of the house and away from the cleaning in it, are given the chance to relax with peers.

A baby-sitting service will be provided.

Mainly fun
The aim of the program, according to organizers, is mainly fun and to get the women out of the house and meet others if they are "stuck at home."

This is the third year for such a program, which has proved very successful. In previous years, the women have listened to speakers on such subjects as women's rights and hypnosis.

Bonnie Bottomley is the program co-ordinator along with Marilyn Hughes. These women set up the speakers and the program in general.

Jean Vaughan is in charge of the exercises. She has been a member of the club for the past two years, and just recently decided to teach it.

The program begins October 8.

MR. AND MRS. Thomas Dearing were married at St. Demetrius church, Toronto. She is the former Lydia Dudnik.

By Wendy Thomson

Well, things are getting more and more disorganized around here as I try to sort out the few things we'll take, from the huge pile of odds and ends we'll sell when we move.

Every day I try to tackle one area of the house, but some days I'm lucky if I manage to get through cleaning one drawer out! Other days I feel like an ant looking when you disturb an antpile, scurrying around madly in all directions, carrying eggs, and seeming to go nowhere.

Other days, when things get too bad, I decide the lawn looks shaggy and go mow it. I think I have the most mowed lawn in the area. But now the weather isn't quite so nice (the past few days anyhow!) I haven't had the excuse to put off this terrible job of choosing which of the family treasures gets the hatchet (or auction block or whatever.)

One of the biggest jobs I haven't even looked at yet. That's going through all my own papers and notes and things, fondly reading each scribbled word, and deciding which ones (and I'll have to be very honest with myself) aren't really any good and which might be worth saving for the days in the future when we're snowed in (preferably half-way up a mountain) for a month or so and I can get some writing done.

Two things in my "Things-to-use" folder, I'll tend to right now and paper. The first is a note to a Mrs. Robertson who reads this column and who, along with her husband, (Hugh?), has visited the 1904 Dining House in Rockwood.

Mrs. Robertson asked my brother, Ian, (for the recipe of the Tomato Sauce he used, and left her address—which he promptly lost.

After months of hoping it would turn up somewhere, Ian asked if I would print his letter to Mrs. Robertson and hope it reaches her.

"This is the recipe for Tomato Sauce as closely as I can describe it. I usually follow a recipe quite vaguely so my proportions might be a little more or less than I am giving."

TOMATO SAUCE
Sauté in bacon drippings:
1 or 2 chopped onions
1 crushed clove garlic
1 chopped celery stalk with leaves
1 chopped green pepper (optional)
1 finely diced carrot
Stir well and add:
2 cups tomato puree or drained canned tomatoes
1 tsp salt
pinch basil
1 tsp molasses
1 tsp pepper
Cook approximately 10 minutes

NOTE: You can also add a pinch of celery seed, or 1 tsp. dry mustard, or 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce.

"I don't suppose I make this sauce the same way twice, but after making the basic sauce you'll find your favorite way of finishing it off."

The second sheet of paper I'm clearing out is a letter from Mrs. Evelyn Rodgers of the Welcome Inn restaurant in Hillsburgh which I mentioned once before. On one of my days when everything went wrong, I ended up there and had such a good meal that the one hour there wiped out all the day's frustrations.

During the Hillsburgh Potato Fest a couple of weeks ago, I was one of the judges of the float entries in the parade. Some of the family came along, figuring on a couple of enjoyable hours at the fair.

However, after the parade, the walk up to the grounds, the long (and fruitless) wait in the lineup to get in, we said "Enough" and headed for home.

We hadn't got too far when I saw the "Smorgasbord" sign in front of the Welcome Inn, and decided that would be the perfect ending to an enjoyable morning. It was.

Feeling very reluctant to walk off and leave all that beautiful food just sitting there, I asked Mrs. Rodgers for the recipe of one salad which I'd been quite estatic over, and she sent me it this week.

She wrote "I call it my 'Heavenly Salad' and it is made by my 15-year-old daughter Karen who helps do a lot of the cooking."

HEAVENLY SALAD
Mix equal amounts of:
Mandarin oranges
Pineapple tidbits
Small marshmallows
Coconut
Add whatever amount of sour cream you desire, and enough cherries for color. Mix together and chill for 24 hours.

NOTE: I just learned that this is a favourite of one Acton family who calls it "Five Cupper" and uses one cup of each ingredient (except cherries.)
