

Fiddlers fill arena for annual show

Fiddling their way into the audiences' hearts were many fine musicians at the Acton Fall Fair Old Tyme Fiddler's Contest on September 21. Five categories helped compose the show, with participants mainly favouring the open class.

In the Ladies' class, Kathy Ferguson, Kitchener, was the only entry resulting in a first place win. Two men vied for first place in the Over 65 years category. Isaac Mitchell, Guelph, walked away with the first place while James Flemming, Port Colborne, held second.

In the 18 years and under class, Kevin Reger, Elora, was the only entrant and was given first place prize. In the novelty class, the same thing happened to Raymond Pentland, St. Catharines.

Hugh Lamond, Stayner, won out over eight other entrants in the open category. Ken Majury, Kitchener, was second and Raymond Pentland third. Other entrants were Arvid Obie, Toronto, Patricia Moorehead, Guelph; Cec Warrington, Orton; Nellis Wagar, Guelph; Kevin Reger, Elora and Ray Bilton, Guelph.

Andy Frank, Ron Harris and Bill Thompson were the judges for the event.

WINNERS OF THE VARIOUS categories in the Old Tyme Fiddler's Contest at the Acton Fall Fair on September 21 were Isaac Mitchell, Guelph, Cathy Ferguson, Kitchener, Kevin Reger, Elmira, Hugh Lamont, Stayner, Ken Majury, Kitchener, James Fleming, Port Colborne and Raymond Pentland, St. Catharines. All the winners entertained the audience with a few tunes before departing.

Eight act show brings out talent

Talent was out in swarms at the fall fair amateur show on Sunday, September 21 as eight acts were featured.

Many children from the town and surrounding area "did their thing" on an arena stage in front of a watching audience.

The Milton Girls' Pipe band opened the show playing a few favourite selections. Dressed in traditional garb of Scottish kilts with matching bagpipes, the girls went through their well-practiced routine.

Band popular The Dixieland Band, a well-known musical group around town, wooed and wowed the audience for the next ten minutes. Jim and Geoff Saxon and Paul and Mark Bray played their drums, trumpet, tuba, and other jazz instruments. These young gentlemen continued on to the Milton fall fair amateur show the next week, September 28, where they won first place, receiving a trophy and $65.

Jill Morris with her seemingly elastic body was next on the stage. The young girl went through a series of gymnastic routines including cartwheels, back flips etc. Jill also participated in the Milton amateur show.

Tracy McMillan and Susan Skuce followed with a delightful gymnastic routine. The girls did many movements at exactly the same time. Their timing was almost perfect, and their costumes helped set the mood for the audience.

Tom Barry on the mouth organ was the fifth entry in the amateur show on September 21.

A singing trio was next on the agenda. Tracy Allen, Deanna Pearn and Rita Jacobs entertained the audience with their version of Teen Angel.

Another singing team followed Chris Tchorzewski and his brother Rick, from Guelph, each sang separate songs to give the watching people double the pleasure.

Accordian The Ontario Conservatory of Music was responsible for the final act. Accordian students of Miss Ramsbottom played some of their favourite tunes for the audience.

Pierre Agnes, Nancy Marchmont, Marie Krih, Lynn Graham, Lisa McIntyre and Shirley Van Ryk showed off their talents on the instrument. Miss Ramsbottom and two other teachers, Miss Hancock and Miss Ellison playing as a trio.

Sylvia Scott and Tina Bate-
