Sectionals set for Georgetown

Georgetown's Alcott arena will be the location of this year's Central Ontario Sectionals figure skating competitions from November 13-16.

Qualified amateur skaters compete in sectionals in their own areas across Canada. The winners then go on to compete in divisionals in Laval, Quebec, and if successful, continue on to the Canadian championships.

Central Ontario Section consists of 92 skating clubs, taking in an area from Ottawa to Burlington and north to Harrie and Owen Sound. This event will be a great opportunity to see young figure skaters at their best, right here in Halton Hills. Cindy McGilloway and Diane Baginski of Acton will compete in the sub-sectionals in Georgetown, November 1 and 2.

Mason scores four but hotelers lose

Van's Welding, Hellers and Lakeview Centre were winners in Acton Industrial Hockey League action at the community centre Sunday night.

Cyril Hees fired a hat trick to spark the welders to an easy 8-3 win over Kensmen. Floyd Hillier potted a pair of goals for Van's, while Bill Fabian, Bruce Cooksley and Ed Hillier netted singles. Gerry Van Der Eyken, Fred Buchanan and Floyd Hillier all assisted on two goals.

Peter Morrison scored twice and Jack Gudgeon connected once for Kensmen.

Two goal efforts by George McPhail and Gary Lewis highlighted Hellers' 8-2 triumph over Blow Press. Single goals went to Ed Wood, K. Stacey, Jim McDonald and John Kavanagh. George McPhail and Mike Miller both earned three assists for the winners.

Scoring for Blow Press were Leo Williams and P. Lake. John Mason took scoring honors in the league for the night with a four goal outburst for his team, Station Hotel, but it wasn't enough to prevent an 8-4 Lakeview Centre win.

Jim Kavanagh scored three times, Steve Townsley and Jim Haggitt twice each and Wayne Deforest once for Lakeview. Picking up two assists apiece were Lorne Gordon, Bruce MacPherson, Jim Haggitt and Wayne Deforest.
