

ACTON VOLUNTEER firefighters and children lined the back of the Studebaker fire truck for Saturday's Santa Claus parade. The truck was one of three exhibits the firefighters had in the parade and contributed to making it a big success.

HALTON REGIONAL Police Staff Sergeant Bernard Ward watches the Acton Citizens Band during Saturday's Santa Claus parade. Police officers dotted the parade route to keep things running smoothly.

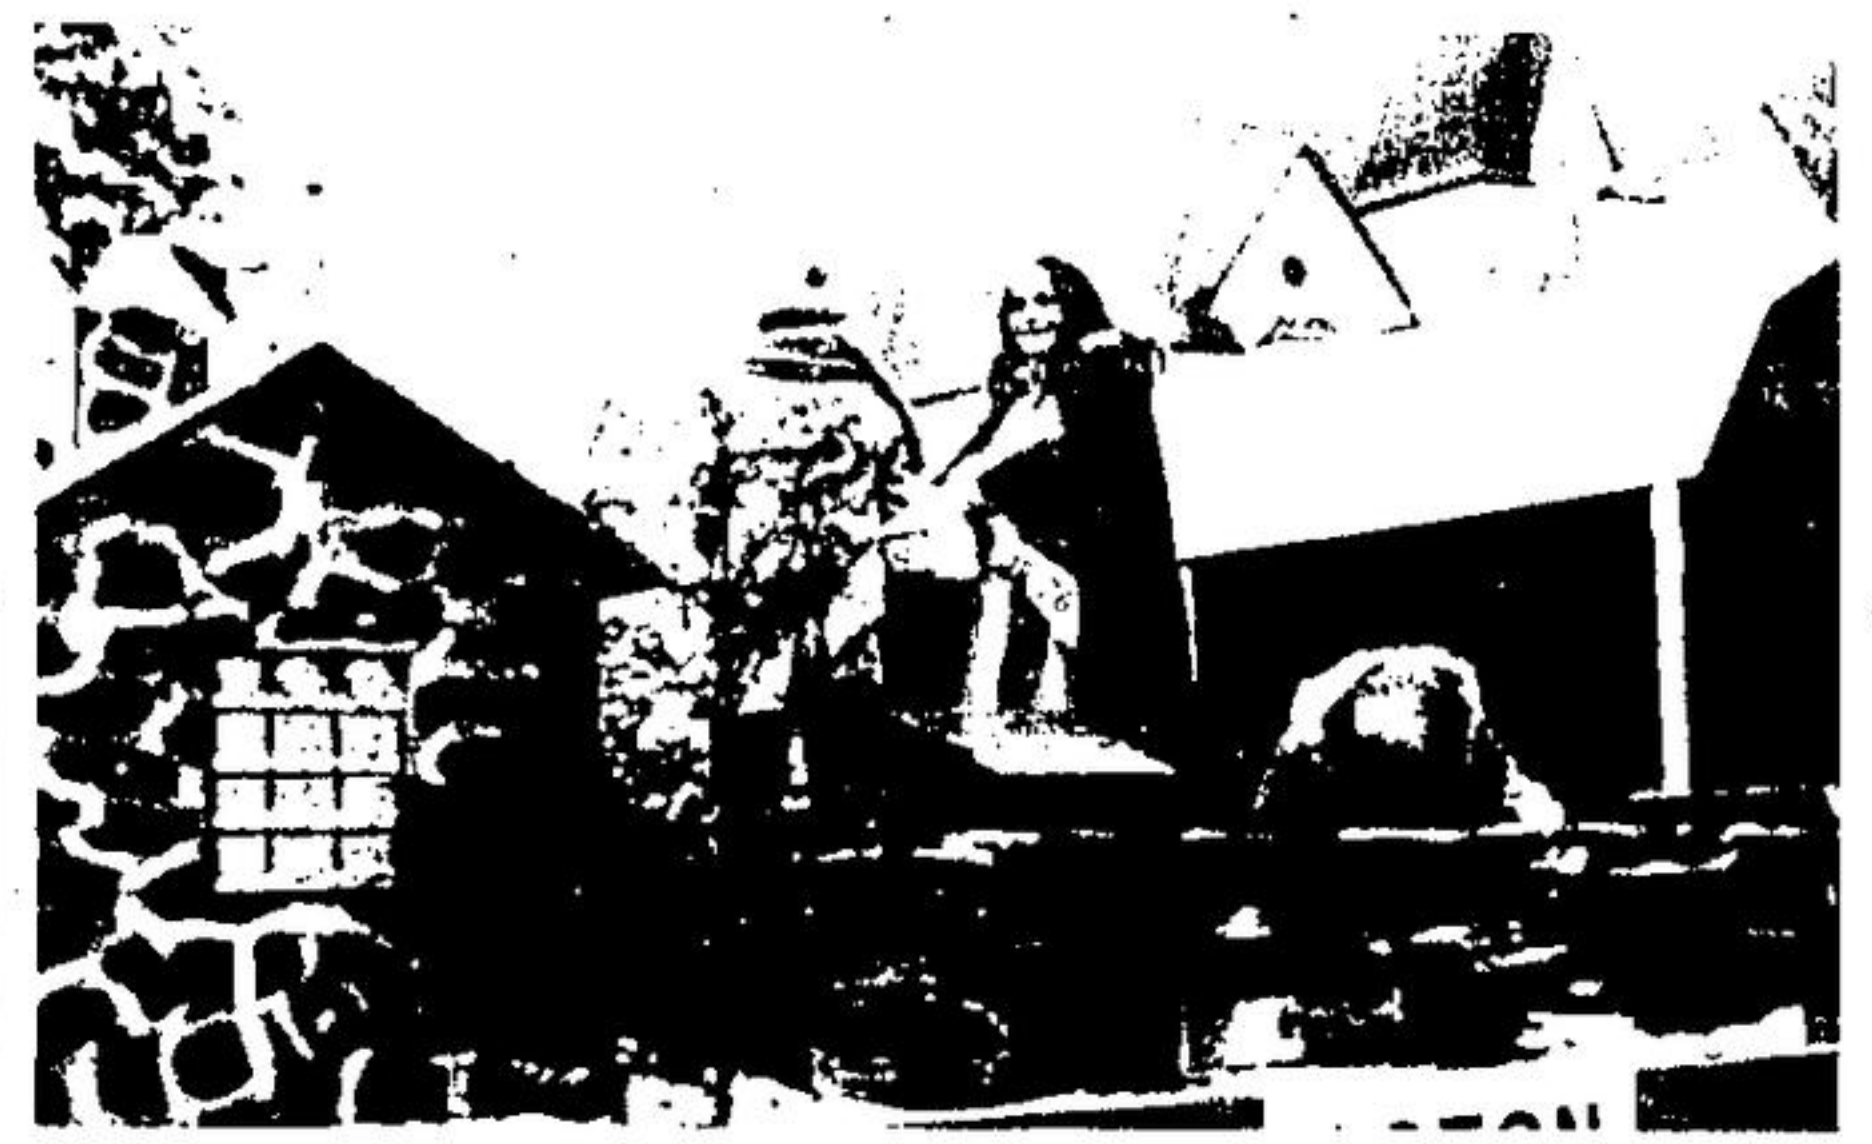

WHO SAYS YOU can't fool Mother Nature? Beavers and horses (disguised as sticks) got together for Saturday's Santa Claus parade, and the horses didn't even realize it was a Beaver and not a human on his back.

CHURCHILL COMMUNITY Church float saw area people come out to the Santa Claus parade Saturday. Freezing rains did not deter the youngsters from having a good time. The float won second prize.

HUGE SNOWMAN walked down Mill St. on Saturday, and surprisingly enough, the freezing rain didn't harm him. The Acton Y's Men and Y's Menettes entered the replica of a snowman in the Santa Claus parade on Saturday.

MISS ACTON FALL Fair 1976, Jill Parady, was on hand during Saturday's Santa Claus parade to throw candy to watching children. She and her helpers, Maggie and Kathy Hall, rode down the parade route on the Acton Agricultural Society float.

THE GIRLS WHO came gift-wrapped to the Santa Claus parade Saturday were the Acton Brownies. Bright colored wrapping paper covered boxes on most girls who would enhance any Christmas tree.

The Acton Free Press

Guess who came to town?

101st Year — No. 25

ACTON, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1975

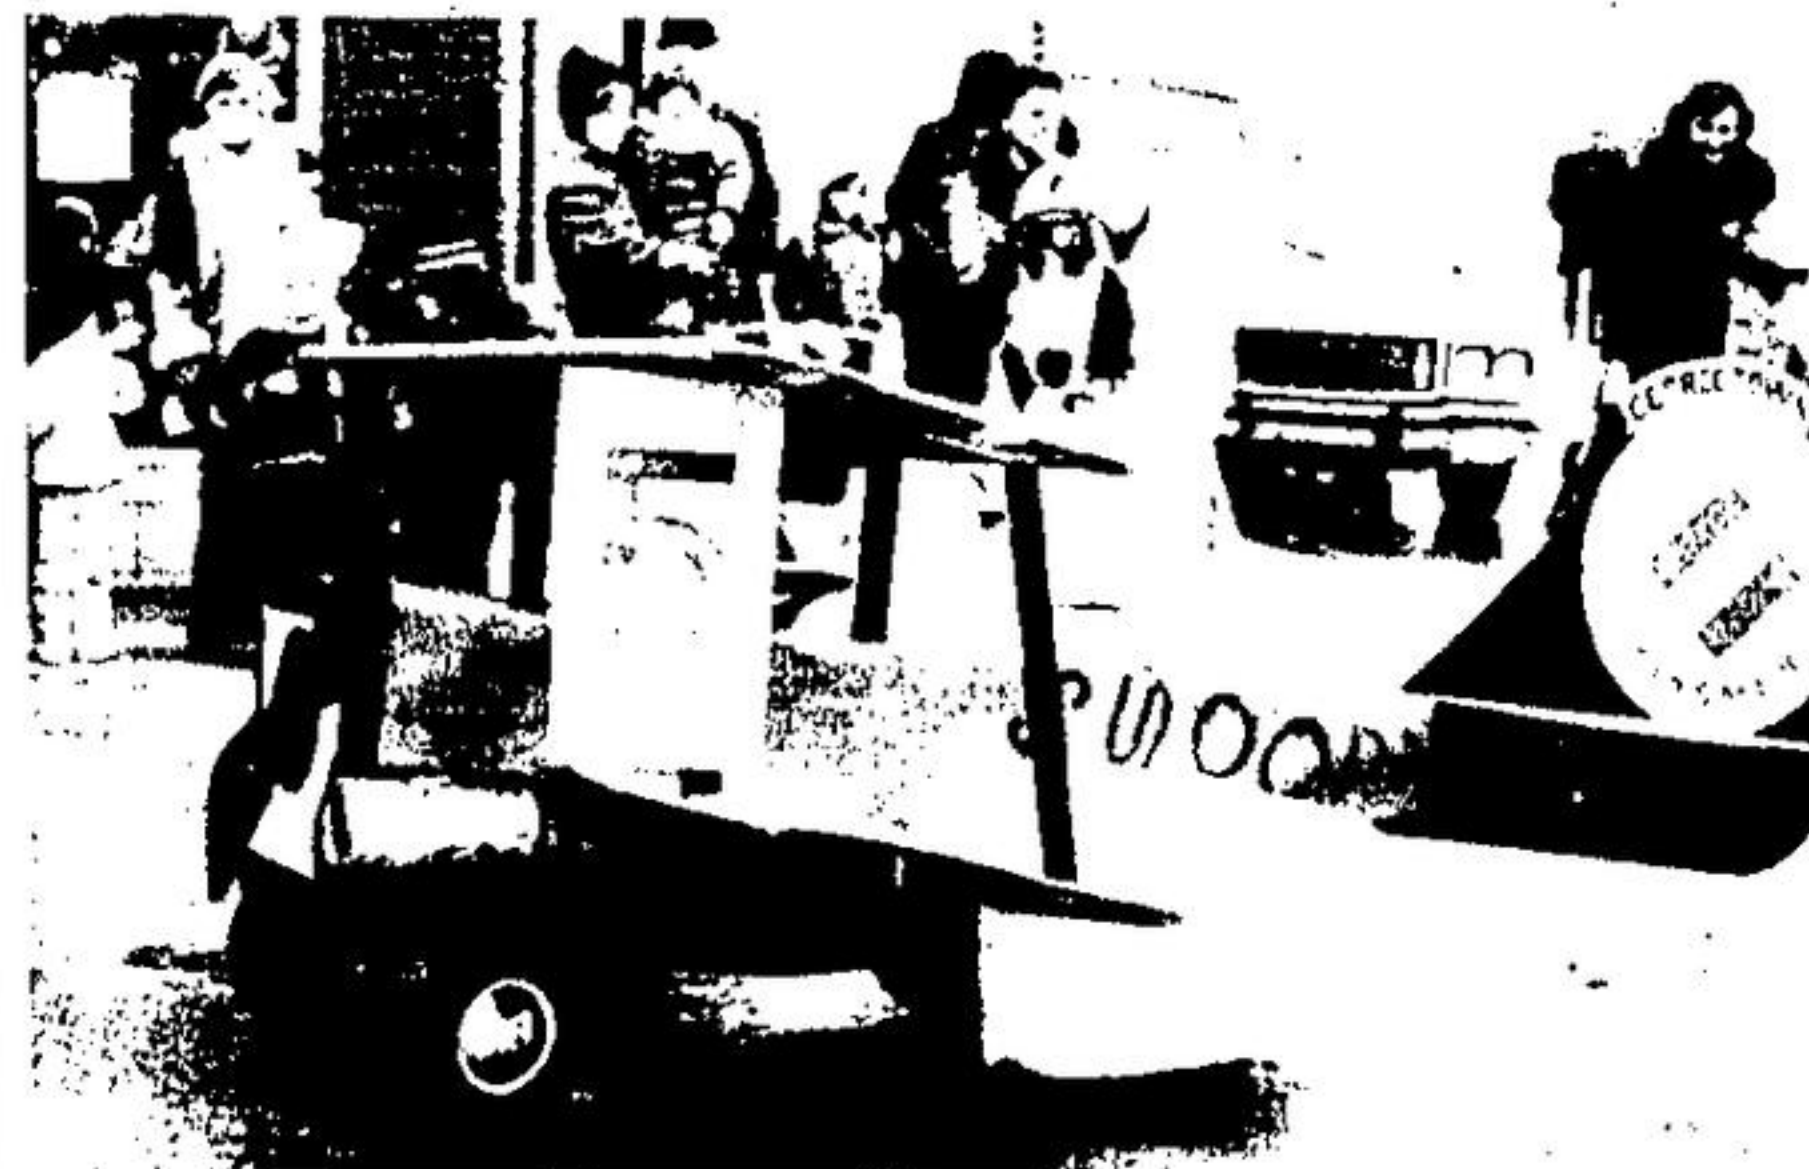

SECOND SECTION

FREEZING RAIN prevented Robbie Harnden from getting a front seat view of the parade, but he was nevertheless visited by a friendly clown during Saturday's Santa Claus parade.

TWO OF SATURDAY'S float judges Halton MPP Julian Reed and Halton Hills mayor Tom Hill watched the parade and took notes.

ONE WOULD THINK that after these many years, Snoopy would finally have caught that Red Baron. However, everyone's favorite dog was in the Santa Claus parade in his famed bi-plane looking for his foe, thanks to the Georgetown Kinsmen.

LET ME TELL you—it was a simply marvellous parade. And now I'm waiting at the Y for Santa Claus to come and talk to me. So says (we think) Stacy Fedora, Georgetown.

COLORFUL BALLOONS were given out Saturday at the Y after the parade, by an equally colorful clown.

THIS PARADE entry wasn't registered with the judges beforehand.

DOROTHY THOMPSON sat high atop the Jr. Farmers' float during Saturday's Santa Claus parade. Several members participated in the parade with winter activities as their theme.

FIRST PRIZE WINNING float in Saturday's Santa Claus parade was from Speyside school. Children lined the gaily decorated flatbed and charmed the spectators and the judges.