a friendly match between teams skipped by Rev. McKenzie and Ted Tyler at the club located on Churchill Road North.

BRUCE McARTHUR WRAPS his arm 'round his broom at the same time as he releases a rock at the Acton Curling Club. Mac Sprowl, left, and Gord Toth move in quickly to hover over the rock's glide into the house at the other end of the ice.

DON ROSS STAYS in a crouched position to observe how his rock slides. Vice-Jerry Sproat and lead Roy Rozell, right, start sweeping the rock's path on an ice sheet of the Acton Curling Club.

Second Shift: The Jumping Jacks jumped away with all games and totals from the Canadian Champs. The Streakers stripped down the first two games but the Underdogs dogged ahead for the last game and totals. The Road Runners sped off with the first two games and totals but the Jaws scooped up the last game.

Viking trio

Sabres' three forwards of Viking descent have been forged into a single line, aptly called "The Scandinavian Connection." Andre Wysevin (15), whose lineage goes back to Norway, is centering Alf Behrens (12), and Brad Koefoed (11), both of whom are of Danish extraction, says manager Bill Campbell.

night. Joe Donald's breakaway goal at 1:36 of the 10 minute sudden death session sent the fourth place Merchants home carrying a perfect 3-0 record on Georgetown ice this season. Larry Wilson felt Donald a perfect pass to set up the game winner. Raiders' giant rearguard, ex-NHLer Tom Polanci was very nearly the hero of the night when he whipped a low drive past Dundas goalie Gerry Aussem with five minutes to play in regulation time, breaking a 2-2 tie. Two minutes later, however, Polanci got his stick in the way of a drive from the blueline by Merchant Ross Busselle. The pack deflected past Keith Ballett and Raiders were headed for overtime for the third time this season. It was not the only Georgetown defensive mistake in a game Raiders should have had locked up in the first period.

Standings: Streakers 26, Roadrunners 33, Jumping Jacks 31, Jaws 27, Canadian Champs 22, Underdogs 8.
Top Ten: Kevin Archibald 625 (216), Bob Felker 506 (188), Jody Sheppard 503 (180), Trevor Hoy 503 (203), Kim Barber 487 (212), Peter Turkoz 481 (182), Sandee Allonby 480 (171), Mardelle Phillips 471 (186), Mickey Phillips 464 (186), Craig Gordon 458 (204), Gail Robb 458 (189), Gary Mandarino 451 (164).

Seniors
The Storey Tellers stole the second game and totals but the Missiles took the first and last game. Millstones took the last game but the Volcanoes took the first two games and totals. The Earthquakes shook apart the first game picked up the last two games and totals.

Standings: Missiles 35, Zanies 35, Earthquakes 32, Volcanoes 24, Storey Tellers 17, Millstones 10.
Top Ten: Sue Thomson 685 (279), Dave Mills 625 (223), Gary Bousfield 558 (188), Pat Storey 506 (203), Heather McEachern 545 (225), Ed Couture 526 (201), Brian Larsen 521 (195), Dave Peihl 508 (175), Kathleen Cheyne 505 (179), Debbie James 502 (233).

"TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT"
By Ken Campbell

"The exposure of a sex and security scandal at the heart of our society". The account of the storm which broke within the public educational system of Ontario, when an aroused citizenry "who pay the educational piper and whose children are swayed by the beat of his piping decided it was time they called the educational tune."
