

ROCKWOOD FIRE CHIEF Carl Meadows (above) and Acton chief Mick Holmes joined forces at the Robertson property at Crewsons Corners, to battle a stubborn blaze in a Quonset hut used as a welding shop. Ponies housed nearby were rescued. Both brigades answered the alarm.

ROCKWOOD FIREFIGHTERS attack the flames at the east end of Stuart Robertson's welding shop. Acton firefighters took the other end. Damage was extensive and a fund is being set up. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Robertson and their two young children live in the house nearby.

SANTA CLAUS, played by Robert Murdock, is pushed up the chimney by elf Lloyd Nevills as child Jamie Moss watches. They are in Mrs. Tremain's grade four class and took part in Rockwood junior school concert Thursday afternoon. Poem Santa Claus, written by pupil Philip Brace, was read.

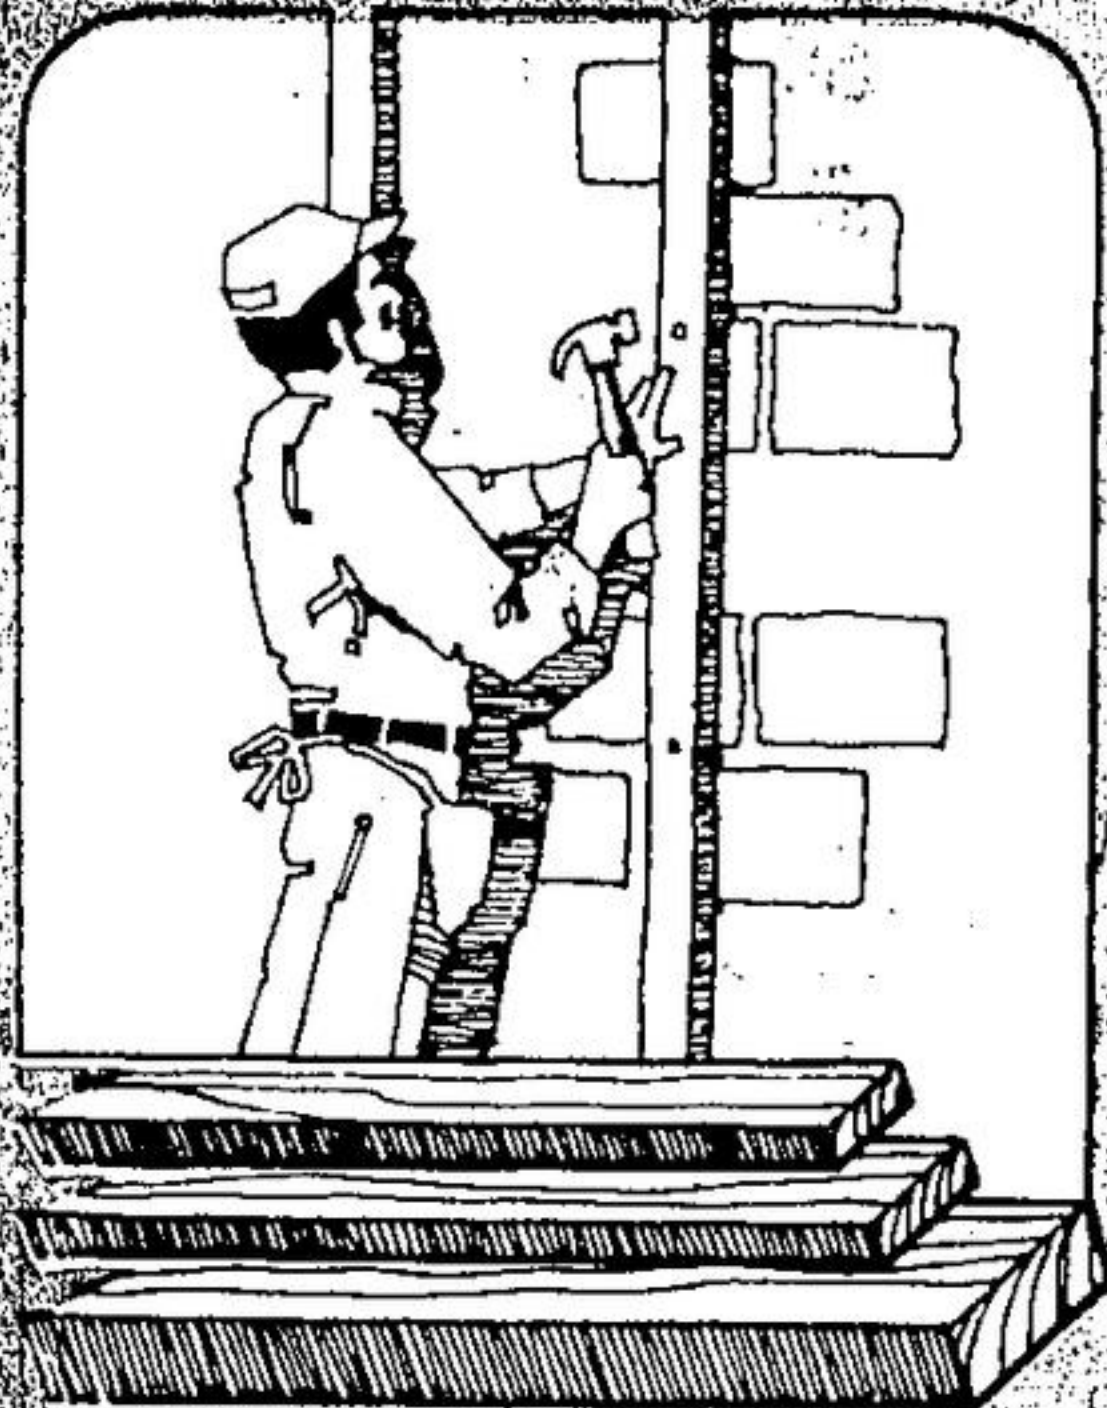

ROVER, played by Mark Richardson, tells the audience at Rockwood Centennial school what he wants for Christmas. The other grade ones listen with delight.

PARENTS AND CHILDREN wait for the program to start at Rockwood school last Thursday afternoon. There was another program in the evening. This year there were so many children involved the concert was split in two.
