Free Press / Editorial Page

Seek consensus on Mill

It's always difficult to get a good response from a questionaire.

However, that's the best way a group of Chamber of Commerce members could think of, when they planned taking their case on Mill St. reconstruction to council January 26. They want to know what other Acton people think.

Do Acton people want an improved downtown section? Would they object if parking were banned on Mill? Would merchants be willing to pay higher taxes to help pay for off-street parking?

The Chamber hopes very much that quite a few people will take the time and trouble to assist them in preparing their case for council.

The Chamber of Commerce is one group in town in which everyone can participate. Please try.

Out-of-country postage up

A 100 per cent increase in postal rates, effective January 1, forces a huge hike in cost of subscriptions to the Free Press out of the country.

Postage on papers which had amounted to about $10 a year will now be $18 a year, causing a new subscription rate of (hold your breath) $25 a year out of Canada. The Free Press has been losing money on mailing these papers for some time, but the increase in postage this year makes a readjustment necessary. There are about 30 Free Press subscribers effected and personal letters are going out to them.

A part of history missing

It's very unfortunate no old pictures of the Beardmore houses in Acton have been located. The feature story in a recent Free Press about the Beardmore home in Toronto underlines the fact there have never been reprints in the Free Press of pictures of the beautiful old family homes in town.

Gordon Beardmore's home was located on the property where the Church St. apartments are now; Robert Little had his first school on that site before, and the school building was altered to create the beautiful house.

Billy Beardmore's house was on the lot which became the bowling green, behind the present Canadian Tire store.

If anyone could locate pictures of these houses The Free Press archives would be greatly enhanced. The photos would be rephotographed and returned unharmed.

Start of last year

Councillors are starting their third year under regional government-the last year of their threeyear term. There will be an election next December to determine area and regional councillors.

What a terrific number of changes there have been in the past few years! The Acton, Esquesing and part in larger councils, and seem to have done well for us.

Of this and that

Answer to garbage problem

Jan. 9th, 1976.

R.R. 2, Rockwood, Ont.

I am not surprised that there has been so little response to the Region's effort to get public participation in Halton's so called

Solid Waste Recovery Programme. The programme was doomed with the participation of Ontario's Ministry of Environment. Anyone who knows anything about

Solid Waste knows that the Environmental Ministry, from the Minister on down, supports long term landfilling, and informed people know long term landfilling is not in

In a recent letter to the Toronto Star, the Hon. Minister George Kerr, advocated landfilling quarries with garbage, something Halton rejected and proved unsanitary in 1973. It is important to note that the Hon. Minister doesn't represent North Halton (Halton-Burlington) anymore, and his advocation of filling quarries with garbage should be of deep concern to the people of

I have submitted many briefs on Solid Waste. I contested the Maclaren Report on Solid Waste. I spent much time and effort writing that critique, and it is important to note that when it was presented at Regional Council, not one word was contested by the authors of the Maclaren Report, who were present, so I can only see presenting further briefs as an exercise in futility. I know the just as other environmental groups in the area know the answers, only the politicians

answer to Halton's Solid Waste problem,

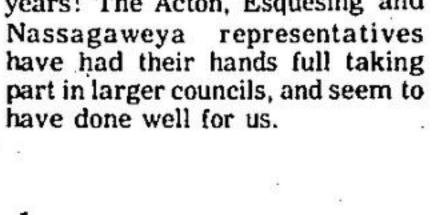

the best interest of Ontario or Halton.

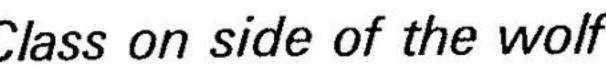

Tel (416) 854-2366

North Halton.

Dear Sir.

January 11 to 17 is National Education Week on smoking. The Halton TB and Respiratory Disease Association has lots of literature if you want it....184 Balsam Drive, Oakville, 845-0858. It's a service that's provided free thanks to Christmas seal donations.

PERCHED ON A FEW branches not far from their feeding station, sparrows patiently wait to receive their daily ration of grain from an Acton family. Several of our feathered friends are finding this witter

This is the time of year when instant experts and fallible fools such as newspaper columnists make idiots of themselves by predicting what the next 12 months will looking into an old rubber boot. It stinks a little, you can't see anything in there, and the thing probably leaks, heel and toe.

Looking into a New Year is rather like

I prefer to do a little looking back and a little looking forward, make some hasty generalizations based on the arthritis in my hig toe, and hope everybody will have forgotten what I said by the following

Let's look back-1975 was the year of

The Big Strike. Everybody who was somebody, and a great many who were

As a direct result, Canada's credibility

as a producing nation, a reliable nation, a prudent, sensible nation, took a nosedive.

things like: "Migawd, I'd be safer betting on the exact hour and minute of Foreign investors were heard saying nobodies, went on strike at least once.

week. Which they will.

Sugar and Spice

Canada."

weaknesses.

by bill smiley

Napoleon's return from Eternal Exile than

I would be putting money into that Crazy

It was also the year of the Grand

Gimme and the Chronic Catch-up as everyone and ha elderly aunt, clad in sackcloth and othes, moaned piteously,

heat bosoms and scrabbled tooth and nuil

to get a bigger clunk of the national toot than everybody else and her elderly uncle.

could no more have a deficit, according to that reincarnational Moses misleading his people to the unpromising land, Mayor

Drapeau, than a nan could have a baby.

giving roast turker was transformed by our Grand Guru into boiled seagull.

It was the year in which the Thanks-

It was the year of election upsets, political promises, union threats, dire warnings, insane leadlines and callow assumptions. In shot, it was a year much like the one before it and the one that is coming after it-at amusing and horrifying record of man's moral and mental

It was the yearthe Montreal Olympics

The following is a copy of a letter sent to councillor Ern Hyde by Acton high school environment science class.

reinstated in Halton Hills. Our class spent half an hour taking down points on why you would suggest bringing the bounty back on wolves and points

I agree it would cost the taxpayers quite a sum of money to pay for the sheep lost by farmers. But what bothers us is how do you know that it is the woives who have been killing sheep? Do you have evidence? We would like evidence. How do you differentiate between wolves and wild dogs? Have you had professional conservationists on wolf. We believe the wolf is an endangered species. Environmental Science Class 201

study makes us question if it is the wolf or wild dogs. We suggest a solution. If it is the wolves - trap and transport (there would be plenty of room for wolves up north since they have been cruelly slaughtered on the basis they were maneaters).

Kill if chasing sheep. (This is better than a bounty since a bourty would encourage men walking the firest and blasting anything that moves.)

Can we not compromise with nature? Do we have to kill every animal that gets in our way? Is killing the answer? Why did God make the wolf? All animals have an important part in this world we live in. We have already disrupted this intricate chain, so why ruin it more.

If it is possible, our dass would be very happy if you showed the film. Death of a Legend, at one of your council meetings. This film is about wolves and how they are persecuted and how they play an important part in a world which is trying to get rid of

Death of a Legenc: National Film Board of Canada, 51 min. The Halton Board of Education, Instructional Media Dept., 2050 Guelph Line, Burlington, Ont.

> Acton high school Environmental Science Class 201 made an intensive study of the wolf. Our

6 Manchester St., Cambridge (Gait), Ontario.

The Acton Free Press.

Halton Hills (Acton).

Gentlemen: I am sure that some older Actorians, like me, read with interest "Uncover history with note in bottle" in the January 7th issue. I well recall the Caswell family and a boy about my age name little George or Charlie and wonder if perhaps his father built this house in 1911 rather than 1811. Scene Street was pretty poor in those days. Camp coffee was a real treat! It was about the consistency of molasses and you put a spoonful in a cup of hot water. Cream and sugar were already in. This perhaps accounts for the olly paper. I feel that the boy put the paper in the bottle as I can identify most of the names and we sure didn't help balld the house! Douglas O? Lucie Edwards (Mrs. Harvey Walters). Josie McLeod (Mrs. Kentner) deceased. Gladys Huffman, in Toronto. Stella C. (McLam) Adamson, Galt. Joe Hynds, in U.S.A. Johnnie Mc ?

We all lived within a block of each other. There were two McLeod boys. One was Gordon, perhaps the second was Johnnie, but it doesn't ring true.

Perhaps you will hear from someone

Sincerely, Stella (McLam) Adamson

But that was the bad news. Now for the good news. It was also a great year, in some respects for you and me.

weather difficult for food. Any bits of suet, bread or any amount of grain will not be wasted when fed to the > Personally, I had a fine year. Just listen to this list, and yours is probably better if you think back.

I discovered a bracing, healthful new sport, crosscountry skling, and within a month was known as The Terror of the Trails (by two old ladies of 86 and 89).

I developed into Canada's most nauseatingly proud grandfather, as Pokey and I cemented an already firm friendship, culminating in an orgy of mutual admiration this past Christmas when the little devil got at least eleventy-seven presents. I love him because he is bright, lively, handsome, and a real hell-onwheels kid. He loves me because he can get me to do anything, literally, that he wants me to do. In this league I am known as The Spoiler.

While we're all in the family, other things made it a good year. My wife and I stayed married, and together, a rather unusual combination after a quarter-century. We even like each other, which is almost incredible, after what each of us has put up with.

My daughter, apparently celebrating Women's Lib year, or something, got herself pregnant again and I am expecting my first granddaughter (daughter underlined) any day now. Notice I said I am expecting. It used to be the mother who was expecting, but things are all cock-eyed these days.

Still in the family, I met a whole gaggle of cousins from the West I'd never seen before, cousins from the East I hadn't seen for 25 years, and sisters and brothers 1 hadn't seen for a couple. A great reunion, enough family stuff to do a fellow for the next decade.

There were many other high moments for me during 1975. Did some Auld Land Syne-ing with newspaper friends. Caught a big pike and rode in a tiny Aeronca over the brooding, empty widerness of northern Saskatchewan. Caught a big cold and rode in a taxi through the brooding, teeming wilderness of Toronto.

Beat my wife two-out-of five in golf. Ignored the postal strike by writing 52 columns, even though some will never see print. Teetered through another three terms of teaching. Discovered that in another few years I would be eligible for a category-F pension. F stands for Five cans of pork and beans a week, which such a pension will provide.

All in all, a jolly good year, one for which I wouldn't trade for anything, except a chance to do it over again.

Now for a brief look into the dim distances of 1976.

Last year we were bored silly by Women's International Year. I predict that this year we will be bored right out of our skulls by two mountains of ennui - the American Bicentennial and the Canadian Olympic Games. Not much else can be glimpsed there, in the murk and muddle. Union will go on threatening, politicians will go on promising, the rich will get richer and the poor will get bables.

But gloriously, people will go on being people; despicable and noble; anguished and triumphant; hating and loving; being born and dying. It's a great life, and the only one we have.

You go on doing your thing, and I'll go on doing mine. At the end of 1976 we'll make out our lists, and compare notes. I predict right here and now that we'll have just as many ups as downs, and will . remember the ups and forget the downs.

The Free Press Back Issues

20 years ago

Taken from the Issue of the Free Press

January 19, 1956 J. Newton succeeds S. Tennant as local fire chief, following recently announced officer's appointments by the Acton Firefighters Association.

Slight damage was caused about the chimney well at the home of Lorne Mullin, on No. 25 highway, two miles south of here, when fire broke out Wednesday shortly before noon.

Winner of Saturday's Treasure Chest draw at the post office corner was Mrs. Ella Morton, the first and only name called.

Over a dozen relatives and friends enjoyed a turkey dinner Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. McEachern. The occasion was the birthday observance for both Mrs. McEachern and Miss Nellie Hall.

Two more cases to add to the rash of burglaries that has been bothering this town in recent weeks were reported this weekend. As in the earlier break-ins, the "take" was small, but, also like the earlier burglaries, few clues were left for police to

Sunday school awards were made at St. Alban's church last Sunday morning. Presented with Bibles for proficiency were Heather Withers, Laurie Duby and Danny Holmes. Hurlbut Stories of the Bible were awarded to George Ware, Leslie Anne Duby, Sharon Bradley and Katherine Higgins. Bible pictures were received by Shirley Barratt.

50 years ago

Taken from the issue of the Free Press

of Thursday, January 14, 1926. The 28th annual meeting of the Board of Acton Free Library was held Monday at 10:30 a.m. in the office Police Magistrate Moore. Rev. Mr. Baugh, the chairman, gave a resume of the year's activities. He spoke of the efforts of the Book Committee to select the best books available which they have catalogued and available for the readers every three months. Occasionally a book would creep into the number selected which the committee felt was not desirable reading for the younger patrons of the library and these were immediately with-

The need of a new library building was freely expressed. The members live in hope that at no distant date such a library building may be a reality in Acton.

A steam shovel is at work on the high bank on the right-of-way of the Canadian National Railway at Dolly Varden. Earth is being excavated, loaded on cars and transferred to Georgetown. New piling and new fill-in is being placed near the viaduct there to widen the railway land at the switches at that point.

The annual skating party of the members of the Young people's league of the United church and the Young People's Guild of the Knox church was held Monday. The party, which numbered over a hundred, spent a couple of hours skating at the rink and at ten o'clock proceeded to the School Room of the United church where a substantial lunch awaited them. After lunch an hour was spent in social intercourse which proved very pleasant. Rev. Mr. Stewart and Rev. Mr. Ximmerman hobnobbed with the Young folks during the service. Acton Citizens' Band provided a rink band for the occasion which supplied suitable music.

Mrs. J. A. Mowat gave an interesting address on The League of Nations at the meeting of the Women's Institute.

100 years ago

. Taken from the issue of the Free Press of Thursday, January 6, 1878.

A stranger passing through the village of Rockwood on Tuesday evening would not have been long in coming to the conclusion that there was something more than usual on the tapis. Hotel stables were crowded to their capacity and in fact the whole place seemed to be alive. The reason of this unusual state of affairs was the occasion of the holding of a grand concert under the auspices of and in aid of St. John's church. The concert took place in the town hall which was crowded to excess. The concert was under the conductorship of Mr. Maitland of Guelph and consisted of songs, dramatic performances, dialogues, recitations and piano selections.

Three young ladies were nominated for the cake contest and the price of a vote set at ten cents. Miss Mary Smith was the winner having received 128 votes and the next highest receiving 62. Miss Smith expressed a desire that the cake should be sold by auction. The cake realized about $25 and the concert about $130.

Mr. Alfred Anstee then entertained some of the guests from out-of-town at a sumptuous feast after which amusements, dancing, etc. were entered into with spirit until after the "wee sma hours."

The absence of sleighing at this time of year has had a very depressing effect on business.

THE ACTON FREE PRESS

PHONE 853-2010

Business and Editorial Office

at 59 Willow St., Acton, Ontario. Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, the CCNA and OWNA. Advertising rates on request. Subscripflons payable in advance, $7.50 in Canada, $10.00 in all countries other than Canada; single copies 15 cents; carrier delivery in Acton 15 cents per week. Second class mail Registration Number 0515. Advertising is accepted on the condition that, in the event of typographical error, that portion of the advertising space occupied by the erroneous item, together with reasonable allowence for signature, will not be charged for but the balance of the advertisement will be paid for at the applicable rate, in the event of a ypographical error advertising goods or services at a wrong price, goods or sarvices may not be sold. Advertising is merely an offer to sell, and may be withdrawn at any time.

Dilts Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd.

David R. Dills, Publisher Kay Dills Editor

Don Ryder Advertising Manager

Copyright 1976

Halton's Solid Waste problem is serious, just as is inflation, and if we are to solve elther problem, we have to take drastic measures, half measures or 'band aid' policies won't do.

seem to be uninformed.

The answer to Halton's garbage problem is: 1) Ban the non-returnables. 2) Implement two garbage pick-ups per week in ur-ban centres. 1st. pick up for re-claimables (glass, metal, etc.) 2nd. pick up for refuse.

3) Make it illegal to put out glass, metal, and other defined reclaimables as garbage. 4) Set up strategically placed depots (defuct dump) where rural people can take reclaimables, 5) Start an immediate feasibility study to ascertain the possibility of burning unreclaimable garbage to heat and power public institutions, with the object of supplying power to nearby industry in the summer season. 6) Implement a purchasing policy in Education, Police, Hospitals and Governments, stipulating that stationery used by these authorities will contain 40 percent post consumer waste. 7) Pressure the Provincial Government into giving grants to Industry building garbage hurning power plants to supply their needs, or for converting to such facilities. 8) Put something about Solid Waste and the adverse effects of landfilling. Having lectured and currently lecturing on Solid Waste in both this and other areas, I can assure both Regional and Town Councils that the public have never been so aware of the problem as they now are, and my advice to our local and regional politicians is to get "with it" on Solid Waste, or they won't be in office after the next elec-

someone on this Committee who knows

William A. Johnson

Of this and that

tions.

The greatest undeveloped territory in the world is under our hat.

+++

New Sunday closing legislation has caused one large food store in Acton to close Sundays now. Foodland is no longer available to the working families who found it so convenient,

Class on side of the wolf

January 2, 1976

Mr. Ernest Hyde. Councillor. Halton_Hills, Ontario.

Dear Sir: My fellow classmates and myself are very concerned at your recent statement, that you would like to have the Wolf Bounty against bringing it back.

the scene to investigate these happenings? Our class is very much on the side of the

Recognizes names on note

Editor's Note: The date 1811 in the news story was a misprint. The date on the note was, of course, 1911. Thanks for writing!