

Scaling the face of a cliff at Rattlesnake Conservation Area is not for the faint hearted.

Nothing like a bonfire to warm cold toes after skating at Mountsberg Wildlife Centre, near Campbellville.

No need to sit home brooding with winter blues, conservation areas throughout Halton are beckoning with winter fun.

If St. Moritz, Aspen, Colorado, or Whistler Mountain, B.C. are beyond the pocketbook, not to worry, almost everything offered at these exotic spots are offered for almost nothing at Halton's various conservation areas.

There's peace and serenity in crosscountry skiing at Terra Cotta.

It's a bit awkward at first, but snowshoeing at Terra Cotta was "fabulous" according to this young couple.

Never too young for outdoor fun.
