Two new familles have moved into the neighborhood. A welcome is extended to them both. Mr. and Mrs. Hans Laumann and two children, Silken in grade 5 and Goerg in grade 2, have moved into the house formerly owned by the Bradford family on the 1st line.

Mr. and Mrs. Giammarco and three children of Oakville, Simone in grade 5, David in grade 2, and a baby 10 months, have moved into the Ulric house on the 3rd line. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ulric and Jessica have moved to Winnipeg.

The Ospringe Cubs and their leaders had a pleasant recreational evening last Tuesday, when they went swimming at Acton.

Geese back In the early hours of Sunday morning I heard the geese fly over. Along about noon I heard the familiar honk again, but could only spot one lone goose winging its way north-east. At least they are coming back, and we hope, bringing spring with

I've come to a rather startling conclusion. You have heard the old saying "God only helps those who help themselves." Could be the truth. My driveway could sit for a week and no one would offer to clean it out (not that I expected them to, I'm appreciated. Ospringe I Embroideramas had all seven members present at their fourth meeting. It was held at the home of Janet and Teny vander Heide. Different designs were discussed for the free choice article, the girls are to make. The rest of the time they continued work on their samplers.

Meeting The Ospringe Stitch Witches held their fifth meeting at the home of the assistant leader, Judy Johnston. Kathy Johnston read the report of the last meeting. Most of the evening was spent working on the samplers, and three new stitches were learned. Refreshments were served.

Museum

On Tuesday March 16, grade 6 of Ospringe school, with Mrs. Vera Denny and Mr. Lorne Brown, went to Elora museum and attended three work sessions about Pioneer days. They baked gingerbread, Johnny cake, and cookies, from the old fashioned recipes, and were given these to eat before they went home. They made butter, and found out how all the old tools worked. They also saw wool from its raw state to its completion. This trip was in connection with the Pioneer unit which the students are completing in social studies. They had a wonderful day, and really enjoyed it all.

Rev. R. Finley's sermon topic was "Born for This." Jesus said, "I was sent to bear witness to the truth." As Jesus was taken before various dignitaries, the crowd became a mob. They worked on Pilate to pass the death penalty. The procurator of Palestine was the supreme court judge and commander of the army. Pilate bated the Jews. He had already made two bad mistakes, and couldn't afford to make another. His standard had a little figure on it, to which the Jews objected. Pilate wouldn't take it off. Jerusalem needed an expensive viaduct, and Pilate took the money from the temple. When Pilate asked the mob, if he should release Jesus, they cried, "No, crucify Him." He brought Jesus out and asked, "Are you the king of the Jews:" Jesus answered, "I am a king. I was born for this." Pilate said, "I find no cause." The people yelled, "Crucify Him." Pilate asked if he shouldn't crucify Barabas. The mob said, "No." Jesus was scourged. It speaks well for His condition that He was able to walk after the Church service The third Sunday of Lent sermon was based on Jesus' choice of the twelve disciples-how he went humbly among those in whose station of life He dwelt. From these simple men He made his choice. So He calls us-a man's life is useless if it is not useful to others. We must care what is happening to mankind.
