

Dennis Rankin, Scarborough, uses an old-fashioned telephone.

Halton County Radial Railway

The Ontario Electric Railway Historical Association, which operates "Halton County Radial Railway", on the Guelph Line, was formed to preserve electric railway equipment. This property was purchased and the long task of rebuilding a track was commenced. In 1972 the Museum was officially opened to the public.

All the people working and operating the Museum are unpaid volunteers. Income is derived from membership fees, donations from individuals, industry and from fares.

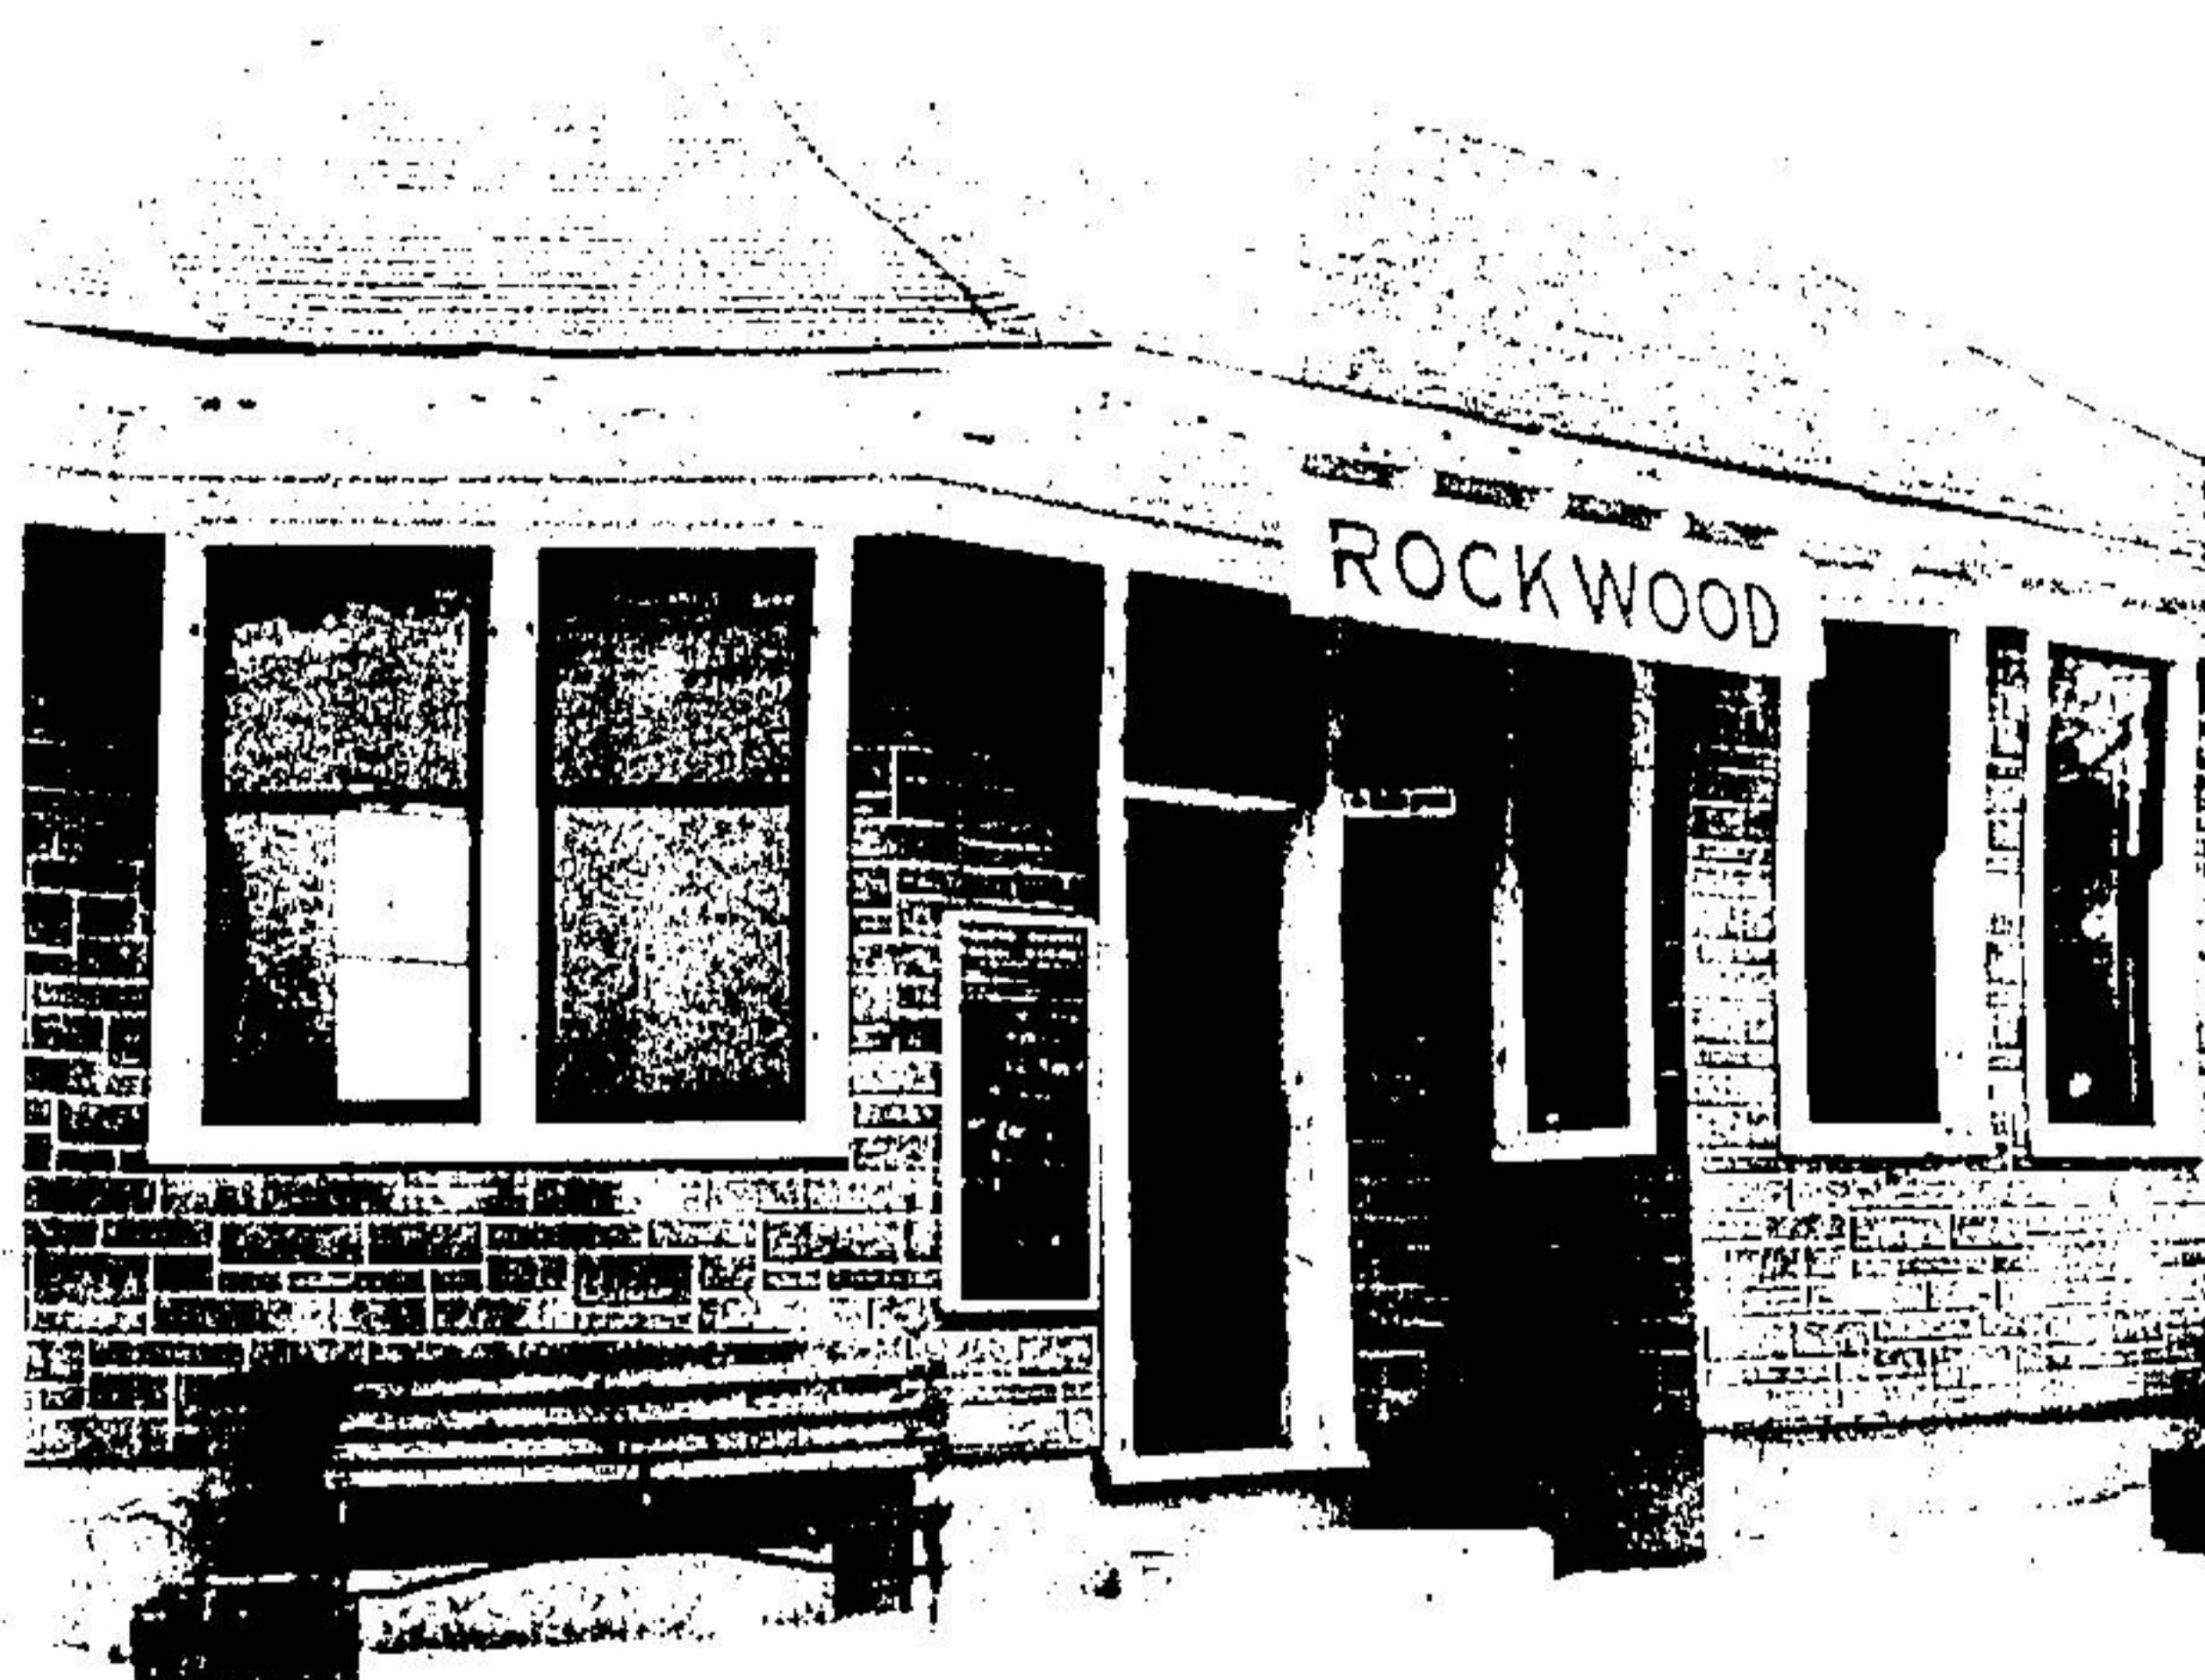

DUPONT
EXHIBITION
HARBORD
KING
PARLIAMENT
PRIVATE QUEEN
YONGE
OAKWOOD
BAY
COXWELL
DANFORTH
KINGSTON RD
COXWELL
KINGSTON RD.
ST. CLAIR
ROGERS
LONG BRANCH

Typical streetcar.

Pot belly stove sits in station.

Rockwood train station built in 1912 was moved to the Guelph Line Site of the Halton County Radial Railway.

Motorman Tom Patterson, Kitchener, boards the streetcar.