Everyone's a star at Sunshine concert

ANGELIC Charles Dykstra sings "Freckles" under the spotlight during the Sunshine School concert and Variety Show last Monday night. Charles is an intermediate student at the school.

Thirty-one young students from the Sunshine School for the Trainable Retarded sang, danced and pantomimed their way into the hearts of many when they presented their annual variety show and concert Monday night, June 21.

The stage in the Martin St. School Auditorium in Milton was theirs for the evening, and they made use of every nook and cranny during their square dances and gymnastics demonstrations.

Sunshine principal Gwen Jeffares was close at hand throughout the concert as she accompanied the various acts on the piano.

Songs, recitations
The show began with the complete cast singing "O

Canada" after which the younger children were escorted off stage.

The 10 senior students who remained recited "Psalm 100" and sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Spirit of God."

Eight couples from the intermediate and senior classes then did the "Dip and Dive" square dance - with musical accompaniment from a hoedown type record.

Next it was the primary class's turn to demonstrate their acting talents.

Pretty Linda Coleman, who is a junior student at the Sunshine School, recited favorite nursery rhymes for the audience as the small children acted them out on the stage.

Then little Charles Dykstra stood in the spotlight to sing a children's song called "Freckles."

Following Charles' solo Mark Virus, Bradley McCutcheon, Donna Cannon, Francis Leben, Amanda Humphreys, Karen Muir and Sylvia Vandenberg (junior and senior students) turned somersaults, skipped rope, bounced balls and performed a number of other gymnastic skills on rubber mats spread out along the stage.

"The Bumble Bee and the Caterpillar" - a pantomime featuring lots of human flowers, trees and butterflies - starred Steven Reese and Bradley McCutcheon in the lead roles.

Bradley stole the show as he wriggled across the stage on his stomach and made "caterpillar noises" behind the curtain.

'Toy Shop'
A second pantomime (presented by senior students) was entitled "The Toy Shop" and starred Donna Cannon as the storekeeper and Cani Reise as the shopper. Shirley Thompson was the wind-up doll, Francis Leben the toy soldier, Sylvia Vandenberg the rag doll, Mark Virus the old man and Amanda Humphreys and Karen Muir acted as baseball players.

"Toy Shop" star Donna Cannon then performed a solo singing "Joy is Like the Rain."

FLOWERS AND TREES had active roles in "The Bumble Bee and the Caterpillar"—a pantomime starring junior and intermediate students from the Sunshine School for the Trainable Retarded during their annual concert and varety show. "The Bumble Bee and the Caterpillar" featured Steven Reese (black leotard) and Bradley McCutcheon (lying on stage floor) in the lead roles.

JACK AND JILL—this favorite children's nursery rhyme was acted out by primary students Donna Gillis and Raymond Gils as part of the annual Sunshine School concert and variety show presented at Martin St. School auditorium in Milton June 21.
