

Hewitt-Drysdale exchange vows in St. Alban's church July 9

Pink and white carnations and white bows on the pews decorated St. Alban's Anglican church on July 9 for the wedding of Susan Anne Drysdale, daughter of Mrs. Anne Drysdale and the late John Drysdale, 185 McDonald Blvd. and Douglas Andrew Hewitt, son of Mrs. Wills Hewitt, 5A Mill St.

LAURA and Larry Slingerland, 149 Wynford Pl., Acton and Anne and Alvin Pinkerton, R. R., Georgetown, are happy to announce the forthcoming marriage of their children Deborah Diane and Gilbert Lawrence. Their vows will be taken in October at Trinity United Church, Acton.

Escorted down the aisle by her brother, Larry Drysdale, the bride wore a Swiss organza over satin gown, dotted with pink roses. The bouffant sleeves were trimmed with Chantilly lace. Her picture hat accented the gown, and was trimmed in matching lace. She wore a silver necklace with matching earrings, a gift from the groom.

Pat Andrews, a friend of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a pale green polyester satin gown and carried white and pink carnations.

Jim Holes of Guelph was the bestman. At an evening reception held at the Acton Curling Club, the bride's mother received wearing a full length gown of ivory polyester satin with a deep pink rose corsage. The mother of the groom received wearing a blue double knit polyester gown with matching jacket. It was complemented by a pink carnation corsage and white accessories.

Peter Edge started off the dance with "We've Only Just Begun" and Dave Drysdale, uncle of the bride was master of ceremonies. The groom's uncle, Elton McGeer, toasted the bride.

During the dance, the bride's brother, Phillip Drysdale and family, telephoned the curling club from Sydney, British Columbia, offering congratulations. The bride's mother made the wedding cake.

Guests attended from Guelph, Bradford, Brampton, Milton and Acton.

Prior to her marriage, the bride was guest of honor at many special gatherings. Four miscellaneous showers were held by: the bride's aunt, Mrs. Marg McNabb and cousins Brenda Blythe and Barb Mullen; the groom's aunt Mrs. Lilla McGee and cousins Sharon Myslik and Heather Fogel; the groom's aunt, Mrs. Rex Laing and matron of honor Pat Andrews; and Mrs. Joan McCristall, which co-workers attended.

A stag was held at the Legion for the groom.

For travelling to Ottawa, the bride wore a powder blue pant suit with a pink carnation corsage and white accessories. The bride and groom returned home through Northern Ontario. They are now living at 6 John Street, Apt. 4.
