

I WANNA GO home! wailed a couple of teary tots when the wicked troll threatened to eat them up. It was Theatre Max, Wednesday afternoon at the library. And it was right out of the pages of a story book.

Theatre Y invites residents to sign up

Town residents can take the first step towards forming a keen theatre group when they get hand-delivered invitations to do so this week.

A leaflet announcing that Theatre Y needs people, interested and willing spirits, will be delivered door-to-door. "We really need the people", Eva Sansom said. Anyone who wants to work, add moral support, paint or hammer is welcome. The group is sponsored by the Acton YMCA.

A production of Barefoot in the Park, theatre trips and guest speakers are proposed for the 14-week program. Registration will be held at the Y, on Mill Street East, on September 11. A follow up meeting is slated for Tuesday, September 14 in the basement of the Y at 7:45 p.m.

Fees for the program are $10 for Y members and $15 for non-members.

For more information interested parties can phone Geoffrey or Eva Sansom at 853-1703 or Harry Haylock at 977-3557, or the Y office.

OAC grads jobs "fair"

Fewer Ontario Agricultural College (OAC) graduates from the University of Guelph have found permanent jobs this year than in the last several years, but Mike Jenkinson, assistant to the dean, OAC, is not too alarmed by these figures. "With the government freeze imposed in late 1975, and the generally slow economy, I expected the employment picture for this year's graduating class to be disastrous. It isn't all that

Mailbox thief arrested

Police have made an arrest in connection with the theft of a number of mail boxes in the rural area. Five mail boxes were stolen from R.R. 1, Limehouse homes early last week by a youth and have been recovered by police.

Little Theatre sets 300 goal

Georgetown Little Theatre is out to break a record! This is the year of the "300 club" as Georgetown Little Theatre executive and membership committee prepare to sell 300 season tickets for the up coming season of live theatre in Halton Hills.

At present there are about 150 names on the GLT mailing list but once the campaign, chaired by Valerie Stoddard, is put into motion that number will hopefully be doubled through membership brochures and displays located in and around the community.

For the current season, which officially begins in September with the membership campaign, the group plans to offer two English comedies, one drama and a Christmas program aimed at the family audience.

"How The Other Half Loves" will open the play schedule with a special wine and cheese benefit, proceeds going to aid the Adult Rehabilitation Centre at Hornby through the North Halton Association for the Mentally Retarded.

As a Christmas offering, "The Bungalosa" will be presented during December.

Closing the 18th season will be the smash comedy hit, "No Sex, Please - We're British"

Anyone interested in amateur theatre is asked to call Bob Lee at 877-5407 for more information about the readings or to request a membership application form.

TITLED TOAD and a giant dwarf entertain children at the library Wednesday afternoon. Theatre Max is a professional touring company.
