Fish, ferry, family on trip to east coast

by Doris Fines

A tour of the eastern provinces was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Aitken when they spent three interesting weeks on a sightseeing trip. They began their holiday by stopping at the home of their daughter and son-in-law Joan and Mike Hutchison and family at Elgin.

They crossed into Maine, U.S.A. at Brockville, rode the ferry across Lake Champlain, and enjoyed the lovely drive to Bar Harbour, where they again took the ferry to Yarmouth, N.S. They visited Peggy's Cove and Halifax on their way to Cape Breton Island and the Cabot Trail, then crossed from North Sydney to Port Aux Basques, Newfoundland.

Following the Trans Canada Highway across Canada's newest province to St. Johns they found a fisherman who just came in with his day's catch, they bought a couple of mackerel from him for 25 cents each, large enough for a good meal when cooked for their supper.

In Prince Edward Island they found at St. Anne's Church supper an especially delicious lobster was the main dish. These industrious church members serve lobster suppers six nights a week to five or six hundred people.

The Aitkens followed up the east coast of New Brunswick to the Gaspé Peninsula, which they described as a very pretty drive, especially the eastern side. The conclusion of their trip was a stop at Ottawa to visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Sherlock and Mary Aitken.

Services have resumed in Knox Presbyterian Church after the summer holidays while the minister was on vacation. Rev. George Lewis is back at the helm.

Dr. and Mrs. Garth Bruce, Kim and Dean of Toronto, visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Byron Bruce and family. Dr. Bruce is Byron's nephew, and he is specializing in Pediatrics at Sick Children's Hospital.

STEVEN DUFFIELD holds up his almost-completed mobile at the Rockwood Vacation Bible school last week, held at the United church on Harris St.

Father give good things than an earthly father. He will not give him a stone, when he asks for bread. In that eastern country, the stones look like little loaves of bread. He will not give him a scorpion, when he asks for an egg. The scorpion, lying with its tail curled up, looks like an egg, but the sting in its tail may be fatal.

"If what you ask is the will of God, it will be granted."

Sermon

Rev. R. Finley's sermon topic was, "Ask, Seek, Knock." When Jesus returned from private prayer, there was an aura of peace about Him. That was what the disciples wanted, when they asked to be taught to pray. He said, "Ask and you will receive." You want the best for yourself, others and those you love.

"Seeking" means what you can do working with God. If you really want to learn anything, you will undergo training. Lastly, "knocking" might seem like pounding on a stone door. If you have asked, sought and then knock, God in His compassion will roll the stone away. How much more will the heavenly
