

Tim Garton, helpers raise $65 in carnival

JIM BARTON had a hard time lighting the candles at the candle squirt at Tim Garton's carnival for muscular dystrophy last Wednesday on Elmore Dr. The light drizzle kept the candles just moist enough to be stubborn.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT between six-year-old Steven Bard of Elmira and a penguin he bought at the penny table at Tim Garton's muscular dystrophy carnival last Wednesday afternoon.

Over $65 was raised for the muscular dystrophy cause on Wednesday, September 1, at a carnival on Elmore Dr.

Chairman Tim Garton and his helpers Jocko Garton, Mark Dawkins, Allan Klein, Deters, David Dunn, Kathleen Nolan, Nancy Allen, Fred Kappert, Ingrid Kappert and Monica Musselle did not let the drizzle dampen their spirits as they welcomed participants to the fortune telling tent, the fish pond, the candle squirt, balloon breaking penny table, cake draw and doll draw.

Children of all ages vied for prizes donated by local merchants. Candies and toys were included.

Toys of all kinds could be found at the penny table. Neighbors and friends had cleaned out the toyboxes and donated everything their children had outgrown.

Winner of the homemade doll was Mrs. Kay Dills and Allan Klein Deters won the cake draw.

INGRID KAPPERT, Eden Mills, was on hand last Wednesday afternoon on Elmore Drive for a muscular dystrophy carnival. Dressed as a clown, she helped at various booths.

DETERMINED TO extinguish the flame from the candle, Heather Ormsby, five years old, keeps shooting the water from a pistol. She and several other local youngsters enjoyed this game and many more at the Muscular Dystrophy carnival put on by Tim Garton and friends last Wednesday afternoon on Elmore Drive.

SCOTT WILLIAMS gets his sports confused as he tries to knock three cans down with a ball, while wearing ski goggles. His apparel however did not hamper his throw, as seconds after the picture was taken, the cans were scattered.
