Latest fashions shown at fall fair

Fall's latest fashions were creatively shown at the Marilyn's Village Boutique fashion show held at the Acton Fall Fair. All are available at the store.

Local women and former Guelph nursing friends of proprietor Marilyn Ottaway professionally modelled the clothing ranging from dress suits to revealing lingerie.

Dutch auctions were also held, with a suit, lingerie and jumper set being bought by the first bidder. A dutch auction is when the auctioneer starts the bids at the suggested retail value and works his way down, until someone speaks up for the items.

The fast moving show lasted about an hour and a half.

Annual barbeque for Y's Menettes

The country home of Pat and Lloyd Nellis was a perfect setting for the annual husband and wife barbeque, which began a new season for the Acton Y's Menettes. No one counted calories that night, with such a tempting array of salads and desserts in front of them. It was also a real treat to have the men tend to the cooking of the meat.

While the Canada Cup game took the men's attention for the rest of the evening, the Y's Menettes held a short business meeting.

It was decided that the members will cater to the monthly Y's Men's dinner meetings again this year and also that the October meeting will be a "craft night" with everyone coming prepared to make bazaar type items for the "Y Arts and Crafts" sale which will be held in November.

Of prime importance was the discussion of the final plans for the group display at the Fall Fair. Various items of creative handiwork were collected from the girls to be featured in the Evening by the Fireside. Their efforts were rewarded with a "First Prize."

Birthdays at Manor

Ten members of Lakeside chapter of the I.O.D.E. were in charge of the regular birthday party at Halton Centennial Manor on Tuesday, Sept. 21. They served lunch, and 24 people with birthdays in September received special remembrances. Fred Kingmill, 92, formerly of Acton, cut the birthday cake.

Gladys Davidson sang a solo and Mr. and Mrs. T. McGrath and children entertained with music.

Theta Phi officially starts its first year

by Susan Johnson
Theta Phi is definitely off the ground!

The chapter officially started their first year Sept. 1 with Beginning Day. The president of Georgetown Co-ordinating Council, Sandra Yates, was invited out to conduct the installation of Theta Phi's president, who in turn installed the remaining executive members. They then had a Holiday Auction with members bidding for mystery packages.

The first regular meeting was held Sept. 7 with a coffee party for rushees held on Sept. 9. This was at the home of Marg. Oliver, with members and eight rushees. The evening started with hors d'oeuvres and punch and then the vice-president, Diane Tappin welcomed the guests and had a few games to play with a skit later that told about Beta Sigma Phi. The evening ended with desserts and coffee.

On Sept. 18 and 19, Theta Phi had their first Ways and Means project at the Fall Fair which was a booth selling submarine sandwiches, tea, coffee, hot chocolate, chips and pop. It was very successful and a new experience for all and a lot of fun.

The second regular meeting was held on Sept. 21, and there will be a mixed social

Bingo time help others

Members of L'Arche Auxiliary are still again inviting friends to play bingo in their own homes, and help the retarded at the same time.

The auxiliary has made arrangements for people to obtain bingo cards in town and then tune in to CHCH TV, channel 11, Saturdays from 6:30 to 7 p.m.

Bingo cards are available at C. K. Browne's store, Main N., Ed's In and Out Variety, Main S., Elsie Syme's Flower Shop on Mill and Halton Hills Furniture and Appliances. Any other store or outlet interested in stocking cards for the Auxiliary is asked to phone Gail Ferguson at 853-0999.

Convention in P.E.I. described to group

The September meeting of Greenock F.W.I.O. was held at the home of Mrs. G. Wallace with a good attendance for the first meeting this fall.

Mrs. R. Sinclair opened with an in memoriam tribute to Miss Ehtel Chapman. She extended greetings to all especially to visitors from Fergus Rock-a-Long WI and Larbert, Scotland. The roll call a fact pertaining to P.E.I.

was answered by 15 members and 6 visitors. Area president, was guest speaker. She brought first hand knowledge of the F.W.I.C. National Convention held at Charlotte University P.E.I. in June this year.

They were shown several slides of those taking part and places they visited; such as Green Gables, home of L. M. Montgomery; the Woodleigh reproductions' miniature castles of Scotland as well as other interesting places in the Garden of the Gulf.

New book
Mrs. Jameison had with her a new book just off the press by Fr. Frances W. P. Bolger "The Years Before Anne". This is the life story of L. M. Montgomery which he has compiled. Fr. Bolger was guest speaker at the convention.

She told as well the traumatic experience of the delegates when air flights were cancelled and of having to find possible passage by train at the last minute. This was also the reason program conveners Miss E. Pearen and Mrs. G. Wallace were not able to attend.

Evening by the Fireside was the theme for a display at Acton Fair. Mrs. E. McGeragle, Mrs. G. Wallace, Mrs. A. Gates and several other members arranged this.

Mrs. W. Aitken announced a meeting of Wellington County Children's Aid Society in Hillsburgh Sept. 22. Anyone who felt interested or able to share their love and their home with a foster child was asked to attend.

4-H project

An invitation was extended to girls 12 to 26 years as 4-H Club members to attend the new fall project a World of Food in Canada. Mrs. H.

Nursery school trips planned for youngsters

Classes are full at Honey Pot Nursery School and many exciting events are lined up for the youngsters.

Mrs. Linda Lindberg, supervisor, Miss Gayle Withers, assistant, and several volunteers have their hands full with the 44 children registered in two classes. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from nine a.m. to 11:30 a.m., is the first group of children. The second attend the same hours but on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

During this time, the youngsters enjoy crafts, stories, sing songs and playing. Children who will be eligible to attend kindergarten in a maximum of two years, are within the ages accepted by Honey Pot.

Today (Wednesday) and Thursday the classes head out to Chudleigh's farm to pick apples. Mrs. Lindberg said she hopes the groups can visit the fire hall, and the library and have a policeman come in to speak to them.

Honey Pot Nursery School is located in the basement of the Glenlea Drug Mart.

A door of Acton high school was damaged, police report.

Pankrantz and Mrs. G. Jackson are leaders.

The local quilting project is progressing and should soon be ready for the frames. Tea, coffee and a delicious
