Scout and Guide news

by Mark Rowe

The first weekend of October was really great, weatherwise, and the Acton Scouts and Venturers took advantage of it.

The Acton Scouts held their annual "Oktoberfest" camp last weekend, on the sixth line, Nassagaweya. A dozen Scouts under leaders Ford Alton and Mark Rowe took part in the event. The camp was entirely planned by patrol leader, John Sit. The two major projects of the weekend were an aerial runway over the pond and a catapult. Both were well used and enjoyed. Other activities included stalking, trail signs, semaphore, survival and a tour of Blue Springs Scout Reserve. The leading patrol of the weekend was that of Yves Savard, Antony Saxon, John Sit, Eric Haugen, Edwin Haugen and Paul Carter. The second patrol consisted of Jack Garton, David Fuller, Ricky Dodds, Darren Gillis, Blake Norton and Jim McVeigh. It was deemed by all to be an excellent camp. Many thanks to parents, especially George Garton for his help.

Venturers busy
While the Scouts were getting ready for bed on Friday night, the first Acton Venturer company were just arriving at Camp Samac, near Oshawa, Ontario. The event was a province-wide Venture. Jim Saxon, Brian Hogan, Simon Rainford and Rob Paterson were among the 527 Venturers present. Among the activities run were the Oddball Olympics, motorcycling, go-karting, canoeing, scuba and catapult construction. All this fitted in nicely with the theme of the camp which was Action! Saturday night each group put up displays. One of Acton's projects was the construction of a gateway into their campsite.

In this column I have often criticized the attitude of parents towards our movements. Now I must give praise where praise is due. The Beavers and Wolf Cubs report an excellent turnout of parents willing to help. Response is so good, expansion is again under consideration. The Scouts still require another leader, but are working on some prospectives. This help is marvellous but please if you would like to help then do come out. We still need you.

October's group committee meeting will be on Tuesday, October 12 at 8:15 in the old hall. All section Scouters must turn in registration forms and fees at this meeting. Be sure to attend.

HMMMM, that's good. Scout Eric Haugen and Yves Savard and leader Ford Alton (centre) enjoy a meal at the scout camp on the weekend.

VENTURER JUST LAID the golden egg. Actually he was competing in the Oddball Olympics at the Venturers camp near Oshawa on the weekend.

The dairy industry is an integral part of agriculture in Ontario, and offers to the consumer an infinite variety of wholesome, nutritious foods. Milk and dairy products play a starring role in the planning and preparation of everyday menus. It would be difficult to serve meals without the use of dairy products.

Would you like new recipe ideas for using dairy products? Would you like to try making your own ice cream, yogurt or cottage cheese? Would you like ideas for entertaining and economical, nutritious meals?
