REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES

A BLUE 1967 BUICK was gutted by fire last Wednesday when owner Clare Mathies attempted to drive the vehicle to a repair shop. "She started to smoke under the dash," Mr. Mathies said while Acton Fire Fighters poured water on the smoking hulk. He said it was "missing" the night before and that he was on his way to get the car fixed. He drove about a half mile from his R.R. 3 home on the Fifth Side Road north of town when he had to stop just west of Highway 25.

Park rental stays at $25

The $25 rate for the exclusive use of a town-owned park will remain in force, according to a recreation department recommendation.

Originally the Ward One and Two Recreation Advisory Committee, now defunct, had suggested a 10 cent per capita charge over 100 people. The recreation director pointed out it would be difficult to count the number of people over 100, so would be virtually impossible to collect the ten cent fee.

Committee is opposed

Halton Region's Administration Committee remains firmly opposed to the concept of uniform water rates across the region. Regional staffers have urged consideration of the common rates for some time. A report from the area treasurers in the region expressed concern on some points, but indicated no opposition to the concept.

Society representatives attend conference

Mrs. Susan Sale, Chairman of District Education and Mrs. Marion Patterson, Canadian Cancer Society Education Chairman, of the Acton Branch, participated in a two-day Education Conference October 2 and 3 at the Prince Hotel in Toronto. It was a tremendous experience.

Along with 300 other Cancer Society volunteers, Marion Patterson attended workshops conducted by professional health consultants and teachers. The delegates learned about the cancer education materials available to people in the community and about the most effective way to use these materials to educate the public about cancer safeguards. The conference was very informative and a real incentive to everyone who attended.

"The Canadian Cancer Society has an important message to tell," said Marion Patterson. "But in this age of mass information it is at times difficult to be heard. Our message is quite simple, all we're asking is that people practise the Seven Steps to Health."

The Canadian Cancer Society's Seven Steps to Health are: Have a medical and dental check-up; watch for any change in your normal state of health; find out about any lump or sore that does not heal; protect yourself against too much sunlight; do not smoke; have a Pap test; and do a monthly breast self-examination.

Marion Patterson said, "The Canadian Cancer Society has a wide variety of learning materials available free of charge for schools, clubs and any other interested organizations. We have films for youth, adults, men and women's groups and pamphlets in every language," she said, "as well as school kits, mail and fair displays and a roster of public speakers."

Anyone interested in obtaining cancer education material should contact Mrs. Hugh Patterson at 853-0896.
