Acton Curling Club News

by Pete Vidler

Our membership may be down this year but the calibre of curling certainly isn't. White out on the ice and while peering out through the glass second-guessing all the skips, I have noticed more good outstanding shots than poor missed ones. Everyone is to be congratulated for such a fine display. All of this talent could be put to good use in the Grey Cup Bonspiel coming up Nov. 27. Sign up now and put your talents to the test.

Maybe this improvement in calibre could be attributed to the noticeable absence of Jerry and Carol Ann Sproat. Oh I guess I shouldn't say that. Jerry made a couple of shots, while he was here. Since this column is being read in Mexico every week, I should take this opportunity to say "Hi" to Jerry and Carol Ann and to say truthfully that you are indeed missed at the club. We miss Carol Ann's exuberance and Jerry's twitching. They tell me, Jerry, that no-one will ever replace you as top "lead" in the club.

Monday 9-9—After two weeks of curling it is difficult to predict what teams may lead the pack. This draw is especially difficult as the teams appear to be evenly matched. Right now Colin Baker's rink of Flo Barber, Mac Sproat and Chris Geggie and Bill Dumarsh's team of Susan Patrick, Dan Towler and Lois Mackenzie are tied in first place. There is no team in this draw that has yet to score points in the standings. They all have cracked the initial barrier of zero.

Monday 9-11—Two teams have perfect records so far in this draw. Ted Tyler Jr.'s rink of Ina Mellon, Gord Toth and Yvonne Rosenquist are tied in first place with Sherry Few's team of Dolores Tyler, George Robertson and Mary O'Leary. In two weeks time these same two teams will meet. It should be an exciting game. Ted Jr. curled extremely well in defeating the ever-tough Fred Archibald last week. And Gord Toth is still curling with exceptional skill. In fact Gordie tells me he has yet to lose this year. On the other hand the ever-consistent Sherry Few has won by huge margins in both his wins this year. However, look out for Ab Robinson's rink of Donna Cripps, Lee Gosselin and Karen Knickle. They won big last week. Bill Cripps has yet to win but I'm sure he's due.

Tuesday 9-9—Three teams have perfect 2-0 records in this draw. Brian Robertson's rink of Anne Pickering, Sandy Keir, Norma Hickling, Pat Chamberlain's team of Karen Shortill, Dave Robertson, Marj Loutlet and Bob Bradley's rink of Jane Robertson, Gabe Rosenbersky and Lily Higgins are all tied up. This week Bob Bradley plays Pat Chamberlain so one of these teams will drop a notch. Tough rinks to beat this week will be Del Hicking's, Ken Marchment's and Fred New's as they are all hungry for their first win.

Tuesday 9-11—Gordie Toth sipping for the working Vic Patrick has led Vic's team of Nicole Campbell, Ted Hansen and Betty Francis to a share of first place in this draw. The other team at the top is Ben Wingrove's rink of Kaе Hansen, Carol Korpella and Bill Porte. Chester Anderson's rink of Helen Otterbein, Bob Lovell and Wendy Porter won big last week and could be a definite threat. Bill Toth is hungry for his first win.

Wednesday Afternoon—So far Marilin McArthur's team of Susan Beemer, Ann Ridley and Thais Brown lead the pack in this draw. This week they face Shirley Hunter's explosive rink of Shirley Rosenbersky, Gail Vukovich and Marilyn Pendergast. Fiona Fieback will be looking for her first win when she meets up with the ever-jovial Jean McPhail known for her late charges.

Wednesday 9-9—Sitting tied at the top in this draw are Brian Robertson's team of Fred New, Martin Oehlrich and Chuck Beaton and Chuck Peeble's rink of Tom Nicol, George Robertson and Rich Bruce. Chuck really lay into Jack Holmes' rink last week taking seven of eight ends. However, that was Jack's first game in this draw and I'm sure he will make himself known yet. Brian Robertson must be curling really well this year since he is at the top in two draws.

Wednesday 9-11—In the men's competitive league, Fred Archibald's team of Bill Cripps, Pete Vidler and Doug Ithynard are tied at the top with Andy McKenzie's rink of Udo Fieback, Doug Wilson and Richard Hignett. This week Andy receives a bye so his perfect record will remain intact while wild Freddy has to lead his team against the ever dangerous Bill Toth. Ken Marchment and Dan Ross will both be looking for their first wins when they tangle together this week.

Thursday Night—Gwen Tyler's foursome of Sue Beemer, Anne Pickering and Marion Wilson are tied with Nicole Campbell's rink of Dolly Moulden, Pearl Baker, and Mary Smith for first place. Gee! That Sue Beemer is really doing well in all ladies' draws. This week really proves to be a big one for the top two teams as they meet out on ice two. After eight ends, of head to head curling one of them will remain in top place alone.

Friday 7-9—Tony Verbiik's rink of Finni Verbiik, Al Knickle and Karen Knickle look like dynamite along with John "the inturn" Mintern's rink of Alice Mintern, Doug Appleyard and Bev Appleyard. Both rinks have won twice and have won big twice. And in two weeks' time they meet up with one another which should prove very interesting. Dennis Rowley had a big win last week as he and his team of Joyce Rowley, Gabe Rosenbersky and Shirley Rosenbersky scored 20 points. They could be tough in future matches. Colin Baker and Udo Fieback are still looking for initial wins.

Friday 9-11—Well, finally Brian Robertson meets his match. In other draws he is four and zero but here he has yet to win. You can't win them all, Brian! Leaders in this draw are Fred Archibald's rink of Kaе Hansen, Gord Toth, and Joan King and Bruce McArthur's foursome of his lovely wife Marilyn and Pete and Nancy Vidler. Besides Brian Robertson, Mick Holmes is also looking for his first win. In fact Mick is really experiencing difficulty as he has only scored in two ends in two games. However if last year is any indication Mick will be heard from. Howard Campbell's big win last week should ignite his fire for future games. This draw looks as if it could go down to the last rock in the last game.

Cager girls at Stayner

AHS varsity girls' basketball team managed only one win in three tries up at the Stayner tournament Saturday.

Acton led 10-9 at the half over North Bay, but ended up on the short end of a 25-20 score, in the first game. Northview Heights from North York fell 37-22 to Acton. Fiesherston nipped the AHS squad 27-22 in a game in which nothing went well for the local team.

Orillia and North Bay met in the finals. Over the three matches, Sue Thomson was the highest scorer with 45 points for Acton, and Sue Lehn netted 11.

Some parents, including the Thomsons and Cooks, who lunched and treated the team between games, accompanied the team to the annual tournament.

Bow hunting season popular in Halton

Halton hunters and sportsmen have responded enthusiastically to the opening of a bow and arrow deer hunting season this fall.

The season began Oct. 25 and ends Nov. 30.

"I know of about 12 of our members who have bought bows for it," said Lorne Lyons, hunting director for the Halton Sportsmen's Association.

Although there has been a deer hunting season in Halton before, Lyons couldn't remember one that was just restricted to the use of bow and arrows.

"It's more of a challenge with a bow," Lyons said. "I know there have been times where we would have had a deer if we were using a gun."

He said a shotgun shell will scatter, making accuracy less important than with a bow. With a gun a couple of back cartridges can be shot if the first shot misses, but with a bow a hunter has only one chance.

"Pick up arrow"

"And after you miss, you have to pick up the arrow," he joked.

Although it's harder to hit the deer, Lyons thought there was a better chance of killing the deer with a bow.

Lyons put a five-inch sheet of plywood behind a practice target and shot a hunting arrow at it from 40 feet away. He claims the arrow not only went through the target, but it also went through the plywood.

"Can you imagine what that does to a deer?" he asked.

Two types of bows

Two types of bows, the longbow and the crossbow are available for the hunter.

Lyons said the longbow is harder to adapt to than the crossbow which he compared to shooting a gun.

"You can learn how to use one in an hour," he said.

Members of the club are split evenly on which bow they use. The association has a practice range which Lyons said is used extensively. The targets are 40 yards away because this is as close as a hunter usually gets.

"You have to be pretty good on the practice range before you can go hunting," Lyons said.

Three killed

To date, Lyons knows of only three deer which have been killed by bow-hunters.

The Ministry of Natural Resources office in Cambridge has documented only five killings in the district which entails Waterloo, Wellington, Wentworth, Brant and Halton regions. They estimate at the most about 30 to 35 deer will be killed.

Bruce Buckland, from the ministry, said they are offering credits to all hunters who bring deer hides into the Cambridge offices and a fluorescent cap with a crest for any deer fawns.

After work

Lyons said he does most of his hunting after he gets off work.

A longbow can be bought for as little as $35 and as high as $200. The crossbow which most of the hunters in the association are using is available for $70. Lyons said arrows cost between $1.50 and $6 each. Deer hunting licences cost $10 and are only good for one deer.

On October 31, Hamilton YMCA hosted Ontario's first recreational diving meet. One Acton diver Brad Jenkinson, attended this meet, with coach Judy Patterson, and represented us well. He placed 11th out of 24 with about 7 clubs competing. Congratulations, Brad!

Synchronized swimming

On Friday, November 26, 7 p.m. - 10 p.m. there will be a Halton Region Synchronized Swimming competition in Acton.

Clubs participating at our meet will be Burlington Y. Dundas, Milton and Georgetown.

Since this is our first regional meet of the 1976-77 season it will be a conditioning meet only. Routine meets will be held later in the spring.

Acton will be again presenting a water show. The date is December 10, 7 p.m. We hope to have all levels of swimming, diving and synchro represented in this show as well as a staff contribution. See you then!!
