Give your living room a break. Build a rec room!

When you first got married, your living room was a real showplace. All your furniture was brand new. You did all your entertaining in there and guests were quick to compliment you on it. Then your kids came along. And then their friends. Your kids are growing up, now your house has to too! Because along with all of them came a need for more space - which you just didn't have. So that beautiful living room was forced to become a family room. A place to watch TV, listen to records, chase the dog or take an afternoon nap. Your furniture soon wore out from all that wear and tear and you were left with no place to entertain guests. Your guests are tired of your kids and vice versa. Now that you've bought a set of new furniture and redecorated the living room, you don't want it looking like a disaster area again. Your living room deserves a break today! But you certainly can't ask your kids to move out!

And you can't banish them to your dark musty basement. Buildall has the solution. Transform that unattractive basement into a warm, inviting recreation room! Give your kids a weekend retreat... a world of their own. We can show you how to do-it-yourself, for the price of the materials alone.

Think what a great place it can be for your kids to entertain their friends or just be by themselves. And it would take the pressure off your living room. If you don't have a basement area, you can even add an extra room. Buildall has all the materials you'll need - plus a knowledgeable staff that can offer expert advice. It's easier than you think. Kids need a place of their own, away from the living room. Let Buildall help turn your basement into a rec room - so your kids won't turn your living room into a wreck room.

So congratulations to Joan Knight, Jackie Palmer, June Bouffield, Jackie Higgins and Pat Wood. As M.C. Rick Campbell remarked, it was the most thrilling match to-date and a first was made when both Pat and her opponent both got strikes in the seventh frame to win the Jackpot for their home partner. The win pleased yours truly very much because it gives me the chance to lord it over John Martin, the headman of the O'Connor Bowl where the TV show is taped.
