

$128,000 Heritage grant goes to Paisley

A grant of $128,000 to assist with the rehabilitation of the Town Hall at Paisley has been made by the Ontario Heritage Foundation.

Foundation Chairman A.B.R. Lawrence said following a meeting of the Foundation's directors that the project to restore the 101-year-old municipal building, on an impressive site where the Teeswater and Saugen Rivers meet, will cost an estimated $320,000 and return the Italianate-style hall to its original splendor.

As part of the project, the auditorium on the second floor will be restored and useful new office space will be created on the first floor and in the basement.

The Paisley grant was the largest individual award in a package of four totalling $178,600 currently earmarked for architectural conservation by the Foundation.

Paisley, a Bruce County village with a population of 1,000, is 35 miles south-west of Owen Sound.

In his announcement, Mr. Lawrence said the Paisley award was among several made recently by the Foundation toward the preservation of important civic buildings in all parts of the province.

Earlier grants included $47,000 to restore the former Town Hall at Exeter; $250,000 to help convert the former Norfolk County Courthouse into municipal offices at Simcoe and up to $103,000 toward work on the 1831 mansion housing Gananoque's Town Hall.

Heritage Foundation representatives have met with Acton people concerning a similar project here.

Restoration of the Paisley Town Hall has had the strong support of the Paisley Local Architectural Conservation Advisory Committee (LACAC). Paisley is among more than 50 communities in Ontario where the municipal council has appointed a LACAC under the Ontario Heritage Act, 1974.
