

At the high school

Art attack extends out onto sidewalks

The high school experienced a big "Art Attack" Thursday, May 26 and Friday, May 27 with many students involved and people from the community attending.

Several hundred people wandered through the gym Thursday night watching displays in stretching canvas for acrylic painting, silk screening, cartooning, lino block printing and hand-built pottery. The home ec and industrial arts classes contributed to the display and the school band played.

Tickets were sold to raise money to subsidize trips and excursions.

Certificates were presented to "promising artists" and "senior honours" artists.

Friday morning students were attacking the sidewalks with art, drawing designs all along the walks in front of the school.

Winner of the sidewalk art contest was Leslie Carter. Of benefit.

Art has only been taught at Acton high for the past five years, teacher June Levy explains.

"Art can be an exciting experience," she says. "You can learn new things in art until you're 80 or more."

Students now realize art does have an application in job opportunities, and it helps them see their environment in new and more perceptive ways.

Most of the students involved are in grades nine and 10.

Part-time art teacher is Jim Goring.

Promising

Seniors
On the "senior honour roll" are Bev Anderson, Deb Nadres, Kathryn Beaton, Karen Bollert, Stella Bridgen, Cindy Brill, Dolores Colbourne, Sandra Cunningham, Clay Donaldson, Sandra Dubuc, Elaine Foster, Jeff Gardiner, Chris Geggie, Gary Bollert, Mary Huxley, Deb James, Vicky Kotsopoulos, Michele Kremer, Henry Kroezen, Lee Luciw, Shirley Mason, Joy Musselle, Lloyd Ninaber, Joyce Parker, Susie Putacky, Maureen Salt, Tara Shaw, Nancy Shoemaker, Nancy South, Karen Tuffin, Karen Van Der Eycken, Richard Wunder and Heidi Zeissig.

HAND SCULPTURE is displayed at the high school's Art Attack by Bill Sheppard. The owl is actually formed of two pots, one inverted on the other.

DAN WARREN'S drawing of the crucifixion drew spectators to Art Attack, outside the high school's main entrance.

Acton Scouts to go to Jamboree

In exactly one month, nine Acton Scouts and their Scoutmaster will board an Air Canada flight for Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island. They will be attending the largest national Jamboree in the history of Canadian Scouting.

As of February, 13,500 Scouts and Venturers of the Boy Scouts of Canada and L'Association des Scouts du Canada were registered.

They will be camping in Cabot Provincial Park near Summerside for nine days. The theme of the Jamboree is lightweight camping, therefore living in harmony with the environment.

Attending Scoutmaster Mark Rowe will be taking patrol leaders, Paul Carter, George Garton, Yves Savard, assistant patrol leaders Mark Dawkins, Frank Goulding, David Fuller and Scouts Greg Cowan, Mike Henry and Antony Saxon to the event.

They will be camping in Sub Camp Lynx. For the Jamboree, seven wells have been drilled for water. There will be a large grocery store, five Canadian banks, a full military field hospital, a security force of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, a telephone exchange, short wave radio, a post office, a newspaper and much more.

The camp chief will be the deputy Chief Scout, Lieutenant-General W. K. Carr.

Many events besides towns of Prince

Edward Island and Summerside, Acton Scouts may be fishing on the Gulf of St. Lawrence, building and sailing rafts, going through obstacle courses, doing crafts, log rolling, jousting, sounding an alarm located in the middle of a pond and much more.

It promises to be a most memorable event and we will keep you informed through this paper.

4-H News

Forestry, crops talk

FIELD CROP CLUB
By John H. Reid
The second meeting of the Halton 4-H Field Crop Club was held on May 16 at H.C. Reid's.

We walked through the fields looking for weeds and then we retired to the shop where we judged cobbled corn and identified weeds. We gave oral reasons.

The president, Bill Housfield, thanked the host and the meeting was adjourned.

FORESTRY CLUB
By Bev Wingfield
The second meeting of the Halton 4-H Forestry Club was held on May 24 at the Agricultural Office, Milton.

The meeting opened with the 4-H pledge and roll call followed by the minutes of the last meeting read by Kim Peddie.

Gord Murchison from the Ministry of Natural Resources gave an interesting slide presentation on trees, lumbering, locations for trees, hardwood management and different types of trees in Ontario. Questions were asked and a short quiz was given to the members to keep them on their toes.

Lyle Stokes brought in some branches and Mr. Murchison told us how to group them. A quiz on the trees followed.

Norma Wilson thanked Mr. Murchison for coming.

"FOUND" items such as clockwork formed this sculpture at Art Attack, made by Ron Kirkwood and Claye Donaldson. The gym was filled with displays.

SIDEWALK ARTIST Chris Geggie draws a Viking outside the high school, while Rhona Silcock and Heather Reed trim the curb with colored chalks. A visitor to the school for the day, former Actonian Judy Scoyne of Ridgeway, watches.

Scout and Guide news

by Mark Rowe

The last district event for the Scout year went off quite well last weekend. Eleven Acton Scouts and two Scouters joined their fellows from Georgetown, Norval, Glen Williams and Limehouse for the weekend camp on Friday night.

The event was held on the banks of the Credit River on Highway 24 under warm, sunny skies. Events included Blindfolded tent pitching, obstacle run, compass, fire lighting, bronco busting and many others. On Saturday night each patrol put up a game for our "county fair". After dark a campfire was held. On Sunday the troops tried their shots on missile launchers built by the boys.

It was certainly an enjoyable weekend.

This Saturday, Scouts attending the 1977 Canadian Jamboree will be holding a sponsored walk to Terra Cotta. The hike will leave the Scout hall at 8.45 a.m.

Parents will be needed to pick the lads up at 4.30.

All willing work week kits should now be turned in to your Scouters. The kits and funds should be turned in at the group committee meeting on Tuesday June 14. Be sure that your section is represented. The next group committee meeting will be in August.

Teacher resigns

Joan Sanford has quit her teaching position at Limehouse school, Halton Board of Education announced Thursday. She will be leaving at the end of this school year.

At the same meeting the board revealed Norma Silcock is being transferred from Robert Little school, Acton, to the North Education Centre. Speyside school teacher Norma Helder will be moving to Robert Baldwin school in Milton next fall.

Joining the staff of Acton's new high school next fall will be Evan MacDonald who teaches at Georgetown High School.

"SPECIALIZING IN REMODELLING HOUSES INTO HOMES"

Robert Little

by Sharon Bendicks

The rest of the week will be sort of quiet at Robert Little because 70 of the senior students left for Ottawa yesterday morning at 6.30. Some places the group will be visiting are the Parliament Buildings, Canadian Mint and Old Fort Henry. The students will be in Ottawa for four days. It is hoped they will have a safe enjoyable trip.

Junior track and field day
The Junior track and field day was held Friday with Robert Little taking first place. Robert Little earned 171 points and second place. M.Z. Bennett earned 132 points, some of the first place winners are Ginette Cassie, Janine Clemons, Angie Vuk, Mandy Silcock, Sally Briggs, Nancy Thomas, Stewart Hoy, Jamie Lawson and Greg Marks.

All Robert Littles Relay teams placed first, second, and third.

Congratulations to all participants!

Robert Little participated in The North Halton Track and Field competition held at E.C. Drury school Milton on Tuesday, the relays Wednesday. Almost 70 students competed and gave an outstanding effort. Among the winners are Glen Van Rijk 2 1sts, Mark Duval a 1st and 3rd, Paul Nolan 1 1st, Shirley Van Rijk a 3rd, Nancy Wong a 3rd, Barb Wilson 2 3rds.

Great effort everyone.
