

BACK TO ACTON DAYS

PUFFING AND PERSPIRING, five Acton runners carried flags from Glen Williams to the town hall in Acton, Friday afternoon. Receiving the flags are (L to R) Les Duby, Douglas Fread, Charmaine Bigelow and Louis Charlebois. The runners are Heather Near, Frank Houston, Bruce Andrews, Rodger McEachern, and Rick Boychuk.

KENT TOCHER, well known area musician, was one of the entertainers in front of the town hall Friday.

PETER THE HORSE had his picture taken many times on the weekend as children posed for photos on him. Peter belongs to Sharon Crawford of Bolton, left. Debbie Patey of Huntsville enjoyed a ride on the pony as well as her picture being taken. She is a former Acton resident, who will soon be returning here to live.

MARILYN OTTAWAY, centre, daughter Kim, and son Brad got into the spirit of things on the weekend and dressed up in old fashioned costumes for Back To Acton Days. They waited on costumers at her store, Marilyn's Village Boutique in the clothes.

MARIE AND MARTHA Kekic serve up barbequed pork dinners at the Station Hotel.

BLUE GRASS CONCERT was a big hit Friday in front of the town hall as part of the Back to Acton Days celebrations. A few hundred people lined the streets, sidewalks and steps of the hall to enjoy the music.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD Holly Tocher and cousin Ian Gibson, age 2, took part in Back to Acton Days celebrations.

DOWNTOWN MERCHANT Pat Wood served her customers in pioneer clothes.

EMILY MCINTYRE and Gladys Davidson manned the Dublin Women's Institute booth at the Back to Acton Days celebrations on the weekend. The women sold cookbooks and medal plaques.

DONNA JONES of St. Catharines made the draw for the 50/50 draw and the afghan Saturday. Wayne Ruse, organizer of Back to Acton Days assisted.

CUB SEAN McVeigh and Scouts Gord Goulding and Jim McVeigh were on hand at the Scout booth on Mill St.

BACK TO ACTON DAYS took a historical turn with the introduction to a group of citizens the five former mayors of the town. Above, councillor Pat McKenzie introduces the group in front of the Town Hall on Mill Street, Thursday.

Beside councillor McKenzie is senior citizen president Bert Davidson. Beside Mr. Davidson sits the last mayor of Acton Les Duby, with George Barbeau, Dr. Frank Oakes, Ben Rachlin and John Goy Sr.
