Programs underway, attendance satisfactory

Nine little ones are registered for pre-school gym, scheduled for Fridays, and Wednesday evening Yoga has seven registered. It was hoped there could be a class during the day, but, says Dot Redekop, organizer, an instructor could not be found.

Open volleyball Monday evenings has eight registered and although open basketball has not yet started, there are already nine registered. Mrs. Redekop explained that program will start soon.

No Wintario grants for local groups

Grant totalling $247,194 have been approved for 13 projects in the Region of Halton from the proceeds of the Wintario lottery. The amounts range from $20,625 to $103. There were no grants to any Acton groups. The biggest grant was made to the City of Burlington to aid in the costs of constructing an educational and recreational facility structure to serve community and particularly senior citizens' needs.

Three groups in Oakville will be receiving grants, and two Georgetown groups will receive a total of $1,792 for various purchases for their groups. One is the Kinsmen Girls' Softball League, which needs to purchase equipment, and the Credit Valley Artisans to share in the purchase of a kiln, a pottery wheel, table looms and other equipment.

DITCHES ALONG HIGHWAY 7 pose a problem for vehicles driving between Acton and Rockwood, and the larger the vehicle, the bigger the problem.

Legion news . . .

by Harry Norton
With all the rain during September keeping members inside the Sports Committee under comrade Fred Allen has made good progress in planning some fall and winter activities.

The Dart League starts regular play on Tuesday Oct. 11 with the games starting at 20:30 hrs. Come out and see if the boys are good at Bulls Eyes.

The Cribbage Industrial League starts on Thursday Oct. 13. Games start at 21:00 hrs. Players are still needed for some of the teams so if you want to play Crib leave your name and phone number with the Steward at the bar. The recently purchased shuffleboard has been installed and is very popular. A team has been formed and is being entered in the County Industrial League. Lets hope enough Comrades get hooked on the game so we can get a House League started.

I have learned that the ladies are pretty good at putting things (and men) on the spot or in their place so maybe the men's team could be coaxed into playing a game (shuffleboard that is) with a team from the ladies. What do you say Gals?

If Pat asks for your help think twice before you turn him down on this very worthy cause.

See you at the Branch.

Tanners promote exports

The tanning industry will be stressing exports, says Peter Dunham, president of the Tanners Association of Canada.

He hopes tanners will make trade missions soon to China, the Soviet Union and Iron Curtain countries. Representatives of the industry are talking with federal government officials about possible upcoming trips to promote business.

Mr. Dunham says that presently about 10 per cent of all tanned leather produced in Canada is exported. Several years ago the figure was as high as 35 per cent.

The industry is presently "in a state of limbo" Mr. Dunham commented. Tanners are hopeful and optimistic that there will soon be a federal government decision, as a result of the anti-dumping tribunal. A government interim report, enquiring into the damage to the shoe manufacturing industry from imports, proves there is definitely damage due to these imports from low wage countries. The government is now reviewing the report and action is expected soon.

Mr. Dunham says that Canadian tanners have unsurpassed expertise in their field and there is no shortage of hides.

Since the tanning industry is closely related to the shoe manufacturing industry, the tanners are actually only producing about 60 per cent of capacity. "There is no question that any government action which is favorable for the shoe industry will have favorable effects for the tanning industry," Mr. Dunham says.

Both Beardmore and Frank Heller and Co. had representatives at the Canadian Leather Show in Toronto last week.
