

Christmas program at Evangel Sunday

Children with candles glow in church service

ANDREW WALTON looks over presents wrapped at the Baptist Christmas Service Sunday.

REV. DAS SYDNEY led the Baptists in their special Christmas service Sunday. Service included Christmas carols and a filmstrip on Jesus' birth.

Despite the icy weather, Evangel Pentecostal Tabernacle was well filled for the Christmas concert there Sunday evening. The church bus was able to make its usual morning rounds despite the poor condition of the roads, and it also picked up the same children in the evening.

welcomed the children and adults, and gave a short talk. The beginners' boys presented a welcoming number, and the primary and junior classes had special segments on the program.

The nursery class with the four and five year old girls presented the traditional nativity scene. A real baby took part in the tableau; the baby was very good, but Mary cried! The congregation joined in carol singing and Peter Binnie sang a solo. A short children's film which retold the Christmas story was enjoyed.

All the children received bags of candy. The Sunday School teachers prepared the special evening and Mr. Rennie says the church families "made a special effort" to attend.
