Juves drop below 500 with 4-2 loss last night

Wellington-Waterloo record dipped below .500 for the first time this season as they lost 4-2 to New

Hamburg last night. It was a pretty rugged game according to manager Mike Kinal. "If it hadn't been for penalties we would have beaten them easily."

Pointgetters for the juves were Charlie Kinal, Mike Rippon, Terry Winter and Jeff Shields. Steve Crooks was in goal, holding New Hamburg at bay until the final ten minutes. He received a lot of help from the outstanding defence of Rippon. Juves play five games in five days starting January 8, including two exhibition contests at Sarnia.
