

Your future in College hockey?

On Saturday, May 13 a revolutionary seminar will take place at Wilfrid Laurier University on University Ave. in Waterloo. The top 18 colleges from the United States and 12 Canadian Universities will be explaining what college hockey is all about and how you can obtain a scholarship to a college.

It is to dispense all myths and wrong ideas about going to college through the hockey program.

The reason for bantams, juveniles and midget aged players to attend is to become acquainted with the rules that govern university eligibility, what high school standards are acceptable and what about financial aid at Canadian and U.S. Colleges. Does junior hockey jeopardize your eligibility? One way to find out is to attend.

The fee is $2 per person and registration forms are available from Bonnie Fay, Secretary M-MHA.

Both NCAA and CIAU will make half hour presentations with open question period and open forum following. The program gets underway at noon til 1 p.m. for registration and a film of the 1977-78 NCAA Championship game between Boston University and Boston College will be played at 1 p.m.

Acton entry in ladies' fastball

Acton will have an entry in the Halton Ladies' fastball league this summer, as soon as manager Ed Wood finds the players.

All positions are open and there is no age restriction for the players, he told the Free Press.

The Halton Ladies' league consists of nine teams: the Georgetown Gettoettes, two Glen Williams teams, two Milton teams, two Hillsburgh teams, one team from Hornby and Acton.

"It's not a powder puff league by any means," said Wood. "It was formed for fun and recreation, but it is also very competitive."

Membership in the team is open to anyone in Halton Hills, and tryouts are this Sunday morning and Tuesday evening at Prospect Park.

Spring programs

Only five of ten courses offered by the Y are running this spring.

Y public relations officer Carol Clark told the Free Press that boys' basketball, for boys nine to 13 years old, has a registration of 12, and is Monday evenings. Louis McGlashan is in charge of this program.

Boxing, for exercise and fun with Armand Steeves is being taught Mondays and Fridays. Mrs. Clark said the regular people show up for this each time it is offered. Disco exercising, to shape up and improve dancing, with Stephanie Lister has a membership of 20. It runs Wednesday mornings.

Human awareness, getting in touch with yourself, has a registration of nine. Mar Simpson is heading this Thursday evening class.

Gail Manual will be teaching the pre-school gym on Fridays.

Courses not running due to insufficient registration are golf, creative dance, ladies' take a break, ladies' keep fit and yoga.

Red light for go karts

Halton Hills planning board stuck by a previous decision, this week and said to go to a go-kart track on Ten Sideroad, near Norval.

A petition, presented by Robert Davis, and signed by 90 per cent of the landowners in the area, protested such an operation.

John Malecki claimed he wanted only a recreational zoning for his track, not commercial as some neighbors seemed to think.

He contended there was no difference between a golf course and a go-kart track since both are recreational, and promised he could eliminate any noisy nuisance.

"At 150 feet I can't hear the go-karts." He claimed his uncle had a track 30 feet away from his house and the noise cannot be heard inside the house.

Mr. Malecki pointed out he was more concerned about undesirables being attracted.

Group walks

Twenty-four people walked for an hour and a half along a section of the old Toronto-Guelph radial railway Sunday.

High school teacher Ken Ellis led the group, which on arrival at the radial railway museum on the Guelph line, received a tour of the car barns.

to the neighborhood than the neighbors, since its operation, and emphasized it is in his own interest to have control and strict security measures. He termed a go-kart track a community family recreation centre which would fill a need now being filled out of town. He said it would also give employment to students, since it is a seasonal operation.

Councillor Pat Patterson declared a conflict of interest, as he had during previous discussion.

Mr. Davis said the petition opposing the track was signed

Tennis Talk

by Ray Briggs

At a recent meeting of the Acton Tennis Club executive vice president, John Kavanagh, reported on the status of the court construction program which started last fall. Mr. Kavanagh advised that prior to winter setting in, approximately 38 per cent of the total reconstruction was completed and the balance is scheduled for completion by mid June of this year.

On completion of the work the club will enjoy four new courts with improved playing surfaces and lighting facilities, and Mr. Kavanagh confirmed that club members are expected to have a first class club for most of 1978.

The executive decided to proceed with membership enrolment which will be held at the Prospect Park Arena on Saturday, May 6, and Sunday, May 7 between 10 a.m. and 12 noon on both days.

Until the new courts are available, members will be able to enjoy playing privileges at any of the other Halton Hills Association clubs. Membership fees remain unchanged from last year.

Among other topics discussed were details of activities planned for club members during the upcoming season. This year the club will introduce a player ladder competition for both senior and juniors. Teams will be entered in both senior and junior inter-county leagues and any interested junior players are requested to contact Don Gregg at 853-0187.

Two A.H.S. students in Splash Flashes Peel-Halton

by Judy Paterson

High School students Julia Sit and Jocelyn MacMillan have advanced to yesterday's Peel-Halton gymnastics final after strong performances in their respective age categories, in Halton final competition last week.

Julia, competing for only her second year, managed a sixth place finish out of 18 competitors in the junior balance beam event, at the Halton finals last week.

This is the second trip to the Peel-Halton for Jocelyn, who last reached this level in ninth grade. She was third in all round senior competition.

Zonya Baker, who has been performing well all season, and who won the East Halton junior all-around title two weeks ago, had an off day and did not qualify in the Halton finals.

On Saturday April 8 Acton hosted an Invitational competitive synchronized swim meet. Despite many problems, including club cancellations, the meet ran smoothly however, just three teams competed: Burlington Synchro, Burlington Y, and Acton. For the first time in all our competitions Burlington Y squeezed by Burlington Synchro for first place, by 2 points with Acton in third place. Our girls swam extremely well and we had good placings considering we did enter all events. Our junior team placed second in the non-card holder event while our senior team was first in the non-card holders and third over-all in the Senior teams.

Congratulations to all our swimmers for a fine effort.

On Sunday April 16 Acton hosted a star examiners clinic for people interested in receiving their examiners' certification. Twenty-four people attended and the following Acton people will soon be certified examiners: Marsha Hogan, Teri Flinders, Liz Cooper, Helen Hoerig and Betty Ashley. Cathy Ashley and Lynn Virag, presently certified, were on hand to assist at the clinic.

Acton is so fortunate to have so many people becoming actively involved and I want to thank everyone for their co-operation and support.

At this clinic the examiners helped examine some swimmers for their star awards. Congratulations to Linda Carson of Georgetown Star II; Charline Couture of Acton and Katey Wynneck of Rockwood Star III.

WEATHER RESISTANT PROTECTIVE CARBOZITE WATER-REPELLENT COATINGS

A SUPERIOR COATING FOR NEW, LASTING BEAUTY!

CARBOZITE is really a miracle coating that was developed especially for wood, metal, brick, stucco, cement and asbestos. It SEALS, PROTECTS and RENEWS their finish. It penetrates and bonds with interior and exterior walls, becoming a permanent part of them and providing homes and buildings with the protection they need.

A PERFECT WATER-REPELLENT FOR EXTERIOR SURFACES!

In many instances, buildings covered with stucco, asbestos siding, become porous and start to absorb moisture in the air...dust...dirt...soot, etc. They become water soaked during and after a rain. When asbestos siding is new, it is water repellent, but in time, the pores open and dampness and moisture sinks right through and sets into the framework, and in many cases, dry rot sets in. The use of Carbozite reduces the danger of water absorption.

Because of the Silicone content, buildings made of brick, stucco and cement can be protected from dampness, cracks, crevices and ugly discolorations, with this unusual product.

CARBOZITE COATINGS CONTAIN SILICONE WATER REPELLENTS

CARBOZITE is a beautiful armor-like finish containing, among other ingredients, Silicone, which gives CARBOZITE its water repellence, its lasting toughness and durability and helps eliminate blistering, peeling, chipping or cracking which is so common when ordinary exterior paints are used where peeling already exists, follow directions in preparing the surface before applying CARBOZITE. The use of a primer is recommended where necessary. The enduring and protective qualities of water repellent Silicone and specially-selected modern chemicals, when incorporated into CARBOZITE COATINGS, impart a special resisting quality which shields homes and buildings from all the destructive elements of nature: RAIN, SUN, SNOW and ICE.

CARBOZITE COATINGS were developed after years of experimentation and research. CARBOZITE is a blend of fine pigments, oils and superior ingredients including Silicone, scientifically combined to assure better coverage, hiding and durability. CARBOZITE flows freely and smoothly... resulting in substantial savings in the cost of application.
