A honeymoon in the Bahamas followed the April 19 wedding of Bonnie Marie Armstrong and James Steven Puddicombe at Knox Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Armstrong of 83 Lake Avenue in Acton. She is a dental assistant and lives in Hamilton.

The groom, also of Hamilton, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Puddicombe of Port Rowan, Ontario. He lives and works in Hamilton where he is a numerical control method specialist at the Canadian Institute of Metalworking, McMaster University.

Escorted down the aisle by her father the bride chose a gown of textured polyester trimmed with lace and seed pearls with chapel sleeves, square neckline and a flowing train. The headpiece and veil were borrowed from a friend of the bride, Cathy Runham. The headpiece was of lace and seed pearls with a full-length lace trimmed veil.

The bride carried a bouquet of sonja tea roses and stephanotis. For the special day, the bride carried on tradition by wearing a necklace of pearls which was given to her mother by her father on the day they were married, and also a good luck horseshoe which was brought from England.

Maid of honor was a friend of the bride, Janet Allan, of Acton, who wore a peach polyester dress with a chiffon cape. Bridesmaids were Cathy Runham, a friend from Mississauga; Brenda Bould, a friend from Guelph and Laurie Puddicombe, sister of the groom. All the bridesmaids wore peach polyester dresses with floral chiffon capes, and carried colonial bouquets of miniature white carnations accented with peach ribbon throughout.

The best man for the ceremony was Merle Long of Port Rowan. Ushers were Fred Puddicombe of Port Rowan, Dave Kenline of Walsingham and Mike Heirwegh of Delhi.

The Rev. A. McKenzie officiated at the double-ring ceremony and Ted Hanson played the organ.

Dinner was held at the Stewart Memorial hall with Jack Gilbertson, uncle of the bride, acting as master of ceremonies. A dance followed at the Acton Music Centre.

The beautiful wedding cake was made by Mrs. Betty McIntyre and decorated by Mrs. Edna Nellis.

Out of town guests came from Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Guelph, Sundridge, Dundalk, Tillsonburg, Simcoe, Georgetown and Port Rowan.

Prior to her marriage the bride-elect was guest of honor at three showers. A miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Grant Allan, and another by Mrs. Ed Norton, both of Acton. The groom's mother, Mrs. Clarence Puddicombe of Port Rowan, also gave a miscellaneous shower.

The newlyweds made their home in Hamilton.

Cathy Hemsley weds in Creemore

St. John's United Church, Creemore, was the scene of the April 8 wedding of Catherine Anne Shuby Hemsley and Kerry John Elliott.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hemsley of Creemore. She lived at Ospringe until she was ten years old, when the family moved to the Second Line, Acton, and then to Creemore. Cathy is employed as a Loans Officer for the Toronto Dominion Bank, Stayner.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Gowan, Creemore. He is a self-employed painter.

The Rev. Cecil Carnachon officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony. Clark Millar provided the organ music.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore an empire-styled gown of Chantilly lace, trimmed with lace flounces and seed pearls. The chapel train flowed from the waist in layers of lace and flounces. Cathy's elbow length veil had four scalloped edged tiers which were trimmed with matching Chantilly lace. The headpiece was a tiny halo of pearls and flowers. She carried a dozen coral roses and two orchids.

Sherri Ogilvie, Creemore, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Karen MacDonald, Creemore; Maxine Elliott, Burlington, and Kim Hemsley, sister of the bride, Creemore. Flower girl was Marcia Elliott of Meadówale. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore peach colored gowns with matching shawls, and white wide brimmed hats. They carried bouquets of cream and coral daisies. The flower girl wore a white eyelet dress with a coral sash and carried a basket of daisies.

Chris Elliott of Burlington was best man. Ushers were Dale Hemsley, Caledon East and John Kurl, Oakville. The groom and his attendants all wore cream colored tuxedos. The groom wore a tailed jacket.

Kent Tocher, Hillsburgh, provided the music for the evening reception and dance held at the Creemore Legion Hall. Ted Tyler, a close friend of the family from Acton, acted as master of ceremonies.

Cathy's mother received her guests wearing a peach colored dress with a floor length cape, gold accessories, and an orchid corsage. Kerry's mother received wearing a pale green dress with a flowered cape. An orchid corsage complimented her ensemble also.

Guests came from Acton, Guelph, Toronto, Oakville, Meadówale, Burlington, Creemore, Stayner, Barrie and Caledon East.
