

High school news

by Janet Howe.
Tonight and tomorrow night at the Acton high school, another performance by the drama club will be staged. The play is called David and Lisa.

Ticket prices are adults, $1.50, students with card, $1, elementary and middle school students, 50 and senior citizens and pre-school children are free. The doors will open at 7:30. So come on out and see the play the club has worked so hard to put on.

The athletic banquet last Thursday turned out to be a very big success. The school cafeteria was full for the banquet. The cafeteria ladies and student volunteers provided the dinner which was enjoyed by all.

After the dance the awards were given to students who participated in the different events throughout the year and did exceptionally well. After all the awards the dance began in the gym. The gym was brightly decorated and it was obvious the Society worked very hard to make the evening a great success. Congratulations to all those who took home awards!

On Saturday, June 10 and Sunday, June 11, interested Outers will go on an overnight bike hike.

Last Monday classes at the school were not run as usual. The morning began with students going to next year's first semester classes. Then there was a 70 minute lunch hour and in the afternoon students went to their future second semester classes. The classes on Monday ran only for 20 minutes each, but for next year they will each be 70 minutes long.

Grade eight students from McKenzie-Smith middle school also joined in the timetable test run. Doing this gave all the students the chance to see what their next year courses will be like and if not satisfied students can make changes this week.

Students are busy getting ready for the big talent show on the last day of school. The happy last day is June 23.

UNIVERSITY AND College students have been hired by Halton Regional Police to mark homeowners' valuables in a North Halton blitz this summer. They were at Georgetown high school last Friday stamping social insurance number on students' bicycles. John Clark demonstrated to his staff how to do the work. Left to right, Alice Bone, Lorna Sayers, Loretta McGarry, John Clark, Barb Miller, owner of the bike, Sharon Rasmussen, Pauline Bone, Anne Lindsay, and Janet Greensley.

Valuables marked

University and college students under the leadership of John Clark of Georgetown will be visiting schools and homes in North Halton this summer to mark valuables. The program is sponsored by the Halton Regional Police and has the students putting names or social insurance numbers on bicycles and other valuables in the homes. This can be done by engraving pens, or indelible pens which can only be seen under certain conditions.

The students will be concentrating on areas hard hit by break ins, but hope to reach all North Halton homes.

They started last week visiting Georgetown schools, where they got a very good response. They will soon be working in Acton and Milton. Later in the summer, a brochure will be going out to homeowners notifying them the students will be going door to door to mark valuables. A telephone number will be published on the brochure for those not home during the day. The summer workers will visit homes after hours also to mark goods of those not available during the day. This will be by request only.

Mr. Clark heads up seven girls for the project. They are Lorna Sayers, Acton, Janet Greensley, Sharon Rasmussen, Pauline and Alice Bone, all of Georgetown, and Anne Lindsay and Loretta McGarry, both of rural Georgetown.

Summerfest

Acton Citizens' Band and Acton Arts and Crafts group took part in Summerfest in Georgetown Saturday. The event was sponsored by Halton Hills Arts Council. Attendance was estimated at about 1,500 at the event, the first of its kind.

THREE-LEGGED RACE delighted the young participants at the Beaverce in Acton all day recently. There were 140 boys there.

Robert Little news

by Scott Nolan and Janet McLeod

Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Hurst's class are going to Hamilton Place to see the Wizard of Oz. When the 3 and 4 classes went to Hamilton Place they enjoyed it very much.

Mrs. Gardener has been away for a while. We all hope to have her back soon at Robert Little. There is going to be a run-a-thon for Big Brothers. A lot of students are participating.

The fluoride gel has been given to the students. The C.T.B.S. tests are now over. Field day will be Thursday, June 8. There are five events and three must be chosen as the minimum. Three pitch for the girls are as follows: Blue Jays, 21; Leafs 17; Canadiens 17; Expos 13; Rangers 13; and Islanders 9.

Today the grade 5's are going to McKenzie-Smith for an orientation day.

M.Z. Bennett news

by Victoria Rodriguez

On Wednesday, May 31, the Junior Track and Field Day was held at M. Z. Bennett. We had various sports such as running, long jump, high jump, etc. Ribbons were awarded for pupils placing first, second, and third. In addition, everyone who took part received a participation badge. Everyone had lots of fun, and it was a very successful Track and Field day.

On Friday, June 2, Mrs. Mulder, Miss Blades, Miss Lawson and Mrs. Sears took their classes to Hamilton Place to see the play entitled The Wizard of Oz. Everyone enjoyed it and the play was terrific.

MACHINIST DAN SWEENEY puts the finishing touches on a brass golf tee for Norman Harris of Churchill Road South, Acton, during the Varian Associates' employee open house in Georgetown Sunday afternoon. Many children accompanied parents.
