Retirement reception for 19-year teacher

Clarence Rognavaldson was the guest of honor at a reception in the Legion Thursday afternoon, arranged by high school associates. Mr.
Rognavaldson has retired after teaching at the school for 19 years.
Fellow teachers, students and friends gathered for the informal occasion, when Clarence and his wife Dorothy were presented with silver goblets and a huge card. A specially-decorated cake was made by the cafeteria staff.
Principal Dean Fink spoke of Clarence's dedication and involvement with his students. We are recognizing 19 years of dedication and commitment... we have a profound affection for both of you and wish you health and happiness, he said.
Vice principal Lyn
McLaren followed the kind words with a hilarious episode that included such one-liners as "Teachers never retire, they just lose their class."
Clarence replied, including an attempt at rebutting some of Mr. McLaren's remarks, including the cracks about the spelling of his name. He mentioned that the Board of Education presentation to him at a special dinner had been a pen on a pedestal, with his name spelled incorrectly.
Happy to be surrounded by so many friends, he especially mentioned Mrs.
Marion Reed and Mrs. Hazel
Orr.
I value your friendship and treasure your assistance, he told his colleagues.
The party was arranged by the school social committee, Ken Ellis, Mary Louise
Cayer, Wanda Hall and Pat Kastner. Marion Matthews made the cake. The cafeteria staff catered.

CLARENCE AND Dorothy Rognavaldson cut the special retirement cake at the reception in the Legion hall Thursday. Clarence is leaving the high school staff after 19 years. The cake bore tiny silver tools for the shop teacher.

JIM THOMPSON presented a necklace of nails to teacher Clarence Rognavaldson at the end of school assembly
Friday. Mr. Rognavaldson has taught at Acton high for 19 years and spent the majority of his teaching career in industrial arts.
