Develop marsh

A $1,301,500 provincial grant to the Grand River Conservation Authority will help finance a $2,511,000 management and development program for the 12,610-acre Luther Marsh Wildlife Management Area, four miles north of Highway 9 between Orangeville and Arthur.

Although the primary function of Luther Marsh is water management, it is also a provincially significant wildlife area. But in addition to wildlife management, opportunities are provided for hiking, picnicking, hunting and snowmobiling.

Some of the management development plans proposed for the area are enlarging the existing property by 4,775 acres, continuation of diverse farming activities, an attempt to alleviate some of the crop damage by waterfowl, to initiate a low-key interpretive program, and to develop a small primitive campground for organized groups.
