Acton Gong Show held at grande finale

An Acton version of Hollywood's Gong Show was the main attraction at last Thursday's playground finale in the arena. The finale signified an end to the town run program, held each year for the children of Halton Hills.

Other games at the finale were also enjoyed by the estimated 75 children who came out. Supervisor Rick Rocher estimated 100 parents showed up for the event.

A parade, usually a popular sight, was discontinued this year.

DRINKING CONTEST winner Susan Leslie, 10, watches Marlene Rocher, 12, catch up during the end of summer playground activities in the arena Thursday.

BLACK CAT LADY Ruth Aggiss, left, the leadership development supervisor, presented the trophy to the winning act in last Thursday's recreation department Gong Show in the community centre. The winners produced a skit based on Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

Other acts competed for the prize. In the picture are Ron Skeffington, Karen Glenn, Frank McGraith, Stacey Perry, Peggy Ancker, Lori Fountain and two other members are unidentified.

THE WINNING SKIT at last week's recreation department Gong Show in the community arena featured a spoof on the fairy tale Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. Many parents attended the end of summer playground show.

Nino Braida resigns from Acton Calf Club

by Marie Murray
As the 1978 Acton 4-H Calf Club president, I would like to thank our four most prominent leaders, Cathy and Bob Lasby, Ken Murray and Tom Parker.
Thank you for your patience and encouragement throughout the year. The completion of our 1978 club goals and achievements was made possible by your help.
Thanks to the members and parents for their help and support, Acton Calf Club is more promising than ever. In 1978 our club gained many new members, filled with both excitement and enthusiasm. However, this year a club leader, Nino Braida, who helped put the Acton Club together, resigned. He still continues to help in his spare time, bringing with him new ideas and old memories. To you Nino, I also thank you for your encouragement and experience. The club is yet to achieve its most important goal - achievement day in September. Good luck to all members at achievement day and in the future.
