

GIANT EGG is held by David Forbes left, while twin Dougie holds a regular size one for comparison. The extraordinary egg measured six inches around, compared to a regular five inches, and almost eight inches around, lengthwise, compared to six inches. The egg was laid by an ordinary chicken belonging to the three-year-olds' parents Janice and Peter Forbes of R.R.1, Acton. When the egg was cracked, it had inside what appeared to be two complete eggs with two yolks and two whites.

Halton taxpayers may pay for 'botchup' Halton residents may find What that means is people all through the region have benefitted by use of the funds, themselves digging into their pockets to come up with half a million dollars to correct a "botch-up" that is now being blamed On Regional Treasurer Don Farmer.

Members on the council's Administration Committee lined up to take their turn heaping verbal abuse at the chief money man in the regional treasury.

The controversy centres around Farmer's handling of interest earned on water accounts in the region.

Councillors have been under the impression for the past five years that Farmer was allocating interest on water reserve funds to the various areas in the region.

Only recently they learned he has been taking the interest into a general fund and using it to control increases in the mill rate.

Asked how much interest would be involved in total, Farmer said it would run between $400,000 and $600,000. Burlington Mayor Mary Munro was furious.

negotiating committee said Tuesday morning talks broke off with elementary teachers at the end of Monday evening's bargaining session and won't resume until provincial Education Relations Commission (E.R.C.) appoints a Fact-Finder to probe negotiations.

The E.R.C. appoints Fact-Finders to review the state of negotiations and examine both side's positions. After examining the situation a Fact-Finder then reports to both partles and makes recommendations.

If after a month talks are still lagging the Finder's report is made public. In Halton a Fact-Finder's report could be made public while trustees are fighting election battles in November. Normally when a contract Lawson said it appeared Monday continued talks without a Fact-Finder being appointed were "fruitless." He said differences between the two parties are "substantial" adding there are "major monetary issues" outstanding. Lawson admitted a lowered pupil teacher ratio is an issue also.

While talks are broken off until a Fact-Finder is appointed bargaining will likely resume once the appointment is made Lawson said. He added he didn't think the two sides will quit meeting while the Fact-Finder is doing his

What you don't know can turn people off.

Attitudes change.

Like the way people feel about electricity.

Once, many people used all they could. Until it was discovered that electricity isn't a bottomless well.

Now, more and more of us use electricity carefully.

Because waste of electricity, like anything everybody really needs, can turn people off.

Today, it's better to turn off a light bulb than turn off a friend.

Wasting electricity turns people Wolf.
