

FIRST PLACE IN THE four horse hitch was captured by Beattie Brothers of Stayner during the Acton Fall Fair. Here the wagon is being pulled along the track in front of the judges.

AN UNBELIEVING CRY of delight came from Victoria Lenizky when she was named Miss Acton Fall Fair 1978 Friday evening. She is ap-

ENJOYING BREAKFAST at the Legion on Saturday morning are Elisa McEachern and her mom. Four hundred people attended the event.

65th ANNUAL ACTON FALL FAIR

CAN'T HAVE A fair without food booths! Member of Parliament Frank Philbrook samples the corn.

THE BINGO TENT demanded a lot of concentration. It was a favorite attraction in the midway for many.

ALLAN AND MAGGIE HALL did a duet number on the seat of the Acton Ramblers dunking machine. The Ramblers are currently waiting to play Arthur or Kitchener for the Golden Triangle League championship.

ROSS MCLEAN PUTS his horse through the paces during the single roadster under 15.2 Saturday. McLean finished third behind first place Ralph Walker and Mr. Ross Thomas.

CONTESTANTS IN THE cattle show were at the park bright and early Saturday to prepare their animals for showing. Some cattle farmers spent the night in the Park keeping an eye on their valuable livestock.

IT WAS A USELESS job but Midway and fair organizers tried to eliminate the mud and water Sunday created by twelve hour rains. However, most of Sunday's events were cancelled.

CATCHING FORTY winks was not easy at this year's fall fair. The animal judging took place Saturday. Organizers also went without sleep for much of the busy weekend.
