

Bands, floats, paraders, horses

Crowds thronged the streets for the traditional noon-time parade Saturday, happily visiting with friends as they waited for the inevitable delay period to pass. At last Acton Citizens' Band and the usual cruiser started down the street and the lively parade was on its way for another year.

Dignitaries in the lead included fair president Brent Marshall with his son Bryce, M.P. Frank Philbrook, M.P.P. Julian Reed and candidate M.P. Otto Jelinek, all in open cars.

Top, floats, selected by judges, were The Outers who won $40, Bank of Montreal for $20. and Y.M.C.A. for $15. The Outers advertised their glass drives and the Y's Men their Santa Claus parade. The bank employees tossed out candy (not money.)

Another tradition is the appearance of the old fire truck, driven by John Dunne.

Mapleview Lodge residents ride along in style.

Walking the route and waving to parents and friends were Brownies, Guides, Beavers, cubs, scouts, Venturers and members of sports teams in uniform. Minor ball players had a truckload.

Very impressive were the Legion massed pipe band and color party, Acton Legion color party and paraders.

Dutch Boys band also added flags and color to the route as well as their spirited music.

Sand Hill pipe band and B.J. Wright band were also welcome additions to the music.

Miss Acton fair Victoria and runners-up rode in state, while last year's winner Susan Thibodeau paraded on horseback. Past winners also waved to the crowds.

Decorated bike, trike and buggy entries, on a float, all get prizes donated by Eric Haynes of Lesney Industries.

Celly the cell was entered by the cancer society.

L and L Ford had new cars in convoy, plus Dalry Princess Marie Murray.

Building Products entry featured siding for homes: The Free Wheelers Association presented an entry promoting soap box derbies. The Carlsberg team added height and weight.

Other entries were put in by Bo Deetack Shop, Halton Hills Furniture, Bella-Maye Roszell for Vanda cosmetics, Acton Trucking company with a series of vans, Les and Emma Darlington from Guelph with a tiny wagon. And St. John Ambulance brought up the rear.

HERE COME the Brownies and Guides, adding their traditional part in the fair parade.

AN AERIAL VIEW of the fall fair parade was the easiest way to see things. Bob Andrews and Red Price help their youngsters to a better view of the happenings.

BELLA MAYE Roszell had lots of fun advertising Vanda cosmetics.

BANK OF MONTREAL float placed second in the parade Saturday. The samples? It was candy.

DUTCH BOYS band starred in the parade.

Y's Men's float drew spectators' attention to their Christmas parade.
