We are practising Cross Country in which Kim and I are competing. Our course is a measurement of 500 m. around our school grounds. We hope we have a good chance of winning. Mrs. Pearce who is teaching grade one, is having her class do a project on sea creatures. They are watching movies on whales and other fish.

In our playground, we have a soccer field, it is always full of determined players of all ages.

On Wednesday night we had a parents meet the teachers night. All of the children enjoyed showing their mothers and fathers their classrooms and introducing them to their teachers. After they went to the Resource Centre (Library) and had tea and coffee and cookies. (B.F.N.) Bye for now!

Acton High notes

by Janet Rowe
If this year's student-card sales, are any indication of the coming year's student enthusiasm, it's going to be a great year!

The annual Student Association, student card selling campaign was not won by one class, but six. The classes that achieved 100 per cent were Mr. Andrew's grade 9 class, Mr. Boychuk's grade 10, Mr. Swanston's grade 10, Miss Kastner's grade 9, Mr. Sales' grade 10 and Mr. Swallow's grade 9 class. ## Patrol leaders have camp

The beautiful fall weekend weather was not wasted by the Scouts in North Halton District.

The annual Patrol Leaders and their assistants' training camp was at the Everton

Scout Forest on the Sixth Line of Eramosa. Patrol leaders from troops in Georgetown, Norval, Limehouse and Acton participated in the camp. They all enjoyed the many games and activities which showed them the aspects of leadership which could be used in their own patrols.

The clear cold nights ensured everyone had a good healthy sleep, especially after Saturday's activities. Patrol counsellors for the weekend were Al Fraser of Fifth Georgetown, John Sharples of First Acton, John Blackwell of first Norval, Bob Baitstow of Third Georgetown and Don Tipple of the same troop. The staff were Mark Rowe, Bob Barber, Kevin Vierra and Tim Skarrow. Lots of new friends were made by all.

First Acton Scouts attending were Calvin Robinson, Derek Boyle, Brian Steckley, John Barratt, Don McDonald and Adrian Alder.

M.Z.B. news

by Trevelynn Mason

The grade three students have started their swimming lessons at the Acton Indoor Pool. They will have the lessons altogether. Later in the year the grade four and five classes may go to the pool for a couple of times also.

The grade two classes visited Chudleigh's on Tuesday, September 19. They jumped in the hay and saw how the apples were picked and stored.

Wednesday evening (tonight) is "Meet the Teacher Night" at our school. The children are supposed to introduce their teacher to their parents. We hope that many families are able to come to the school for this event.

St. Joseph's

by Susan Lidbury
St. Joseph's school is now one year old and we'd like to welcome our two new teachers to our school. Miss Crins teaching the grade fours and fives and Mr. Morris, taking the place of Mr. Lipp, teaching the grade seven and eights.

Our kindergarten enrolment has doubled since last year from 11 to 23. The kindergartens stay for the morning and are bussed home at lunch hour. Mrs. Maronese is also our grade six, seven, and eight French teacher.

Our grade ones and half of our grade twos taught by Mrs. Munkacs are getting acquainted with the school and each other. For environmental studies they are starting map work.

Mrs. Graham's class, the other half of the grade twos and the grade threes, is learning about what God made for them. Mrs. Graham is also the grade seven and eight music teacher.

Miss Crins who is teaching the grade fours and half of the grade fives found they have two aspiring actresses in their class by the names of Belinda Farras and Jennifer Macdonald.

Mr. McGeagle's class has had the pleasure of being the first to have their classes in our new portable. The class says it's nice and quiet. They have no interruptions and enjoy the gorgeous view. Mr. McGeagle teaches the other half of the grade fives and the grade sixes.

Mr. Morris our other new teacher is teaching the grade seven and eights. He has also started our intramural sports.

The student council members have been elected. Their executive is: president, Joanne McArthur; vice president, Frank Pacheco; secretary, Andrea Brozic; and treasurer Kevin McGrath. They have started the fund raising activities with a bottle drive.

Clean-up for Cubs

Cubs spend part of their meeting time Monday picking up candy wrappers and other garbage on the lawns around the Robert Little and St. Joseph's schools. Although they received points for the amount of garbage picked up, one perceptive lad shouted to his mates "They're just doing this to get us to clean up the yard." Luckily he didn't dampen enthusiasm any.
