Feature Home Of The Week

A better way of life

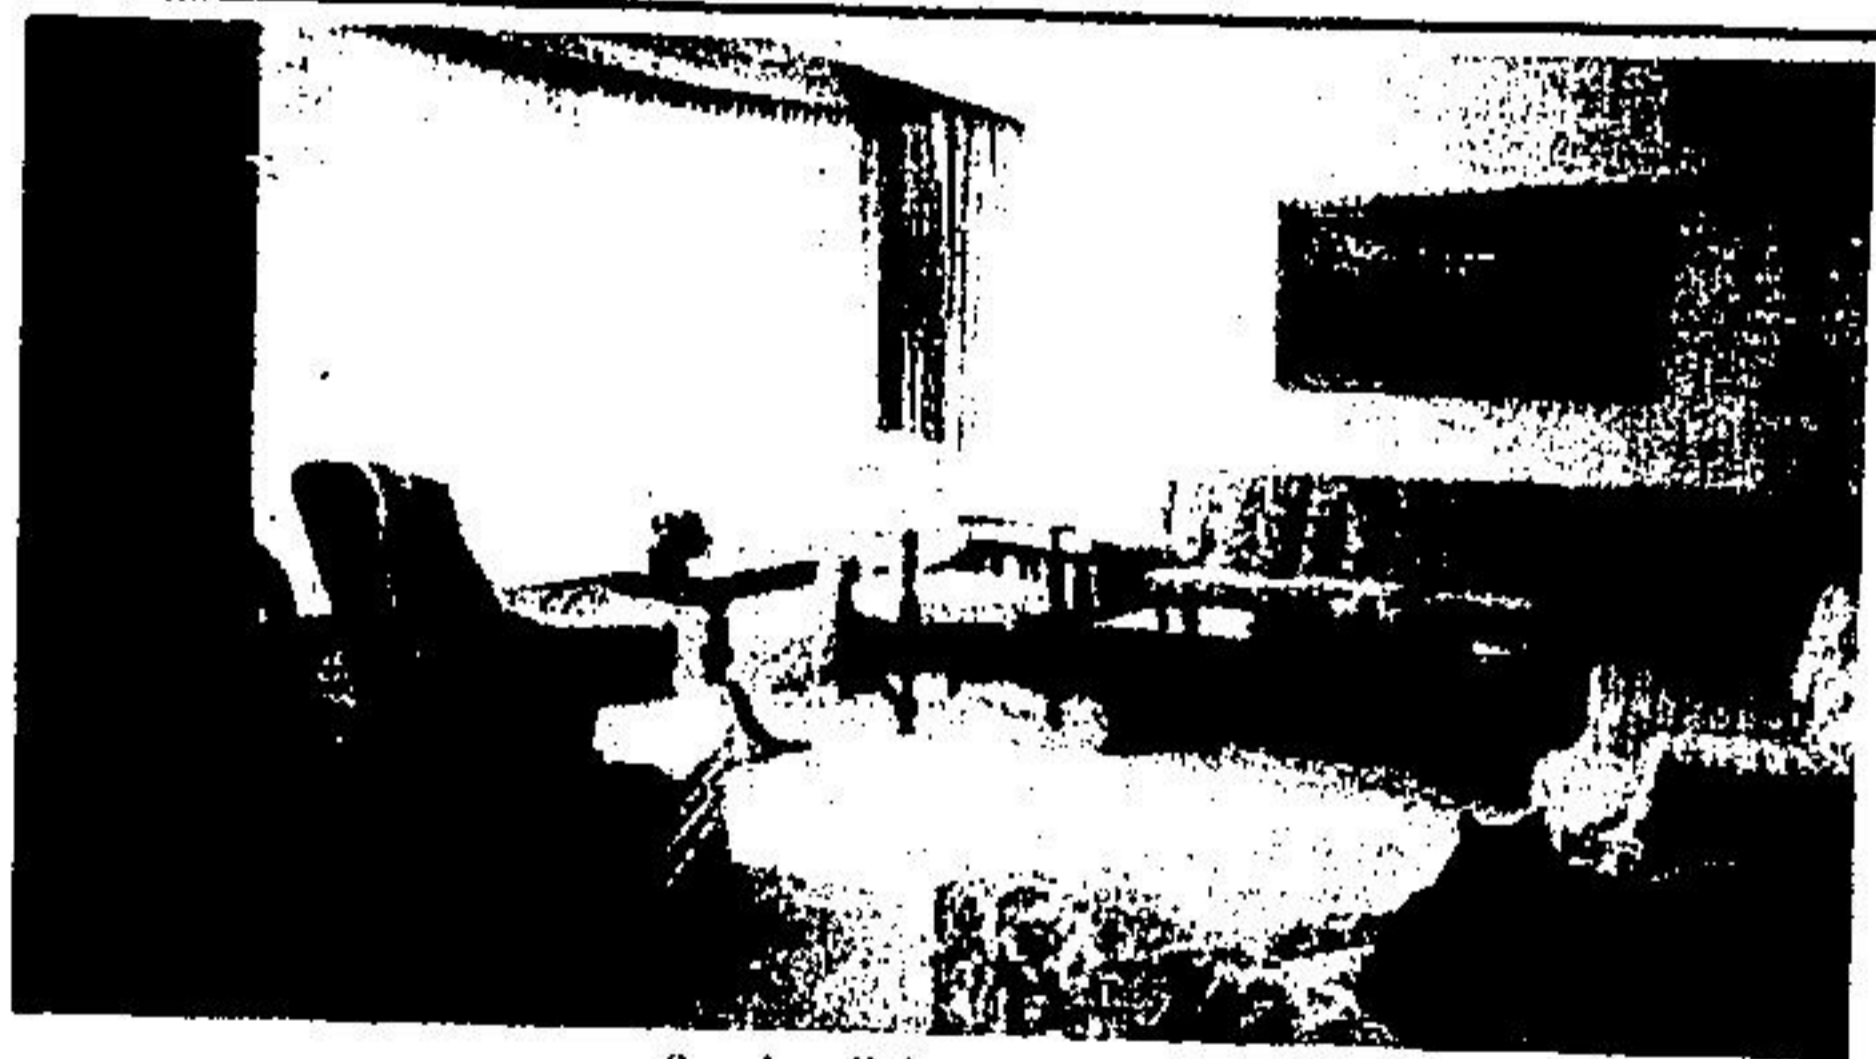

A dream kitchen.

The working family members who enjoy swimming in an inground pool will find this three bedroom home a dream. The new inground pool was installed this past summer and it is a feature the entire family will appreciate. Doctors declare one of the best ways to exercise is swimming and the family lucky enough to purchase this home will be able to combine recreation and fun right in their own backyard.

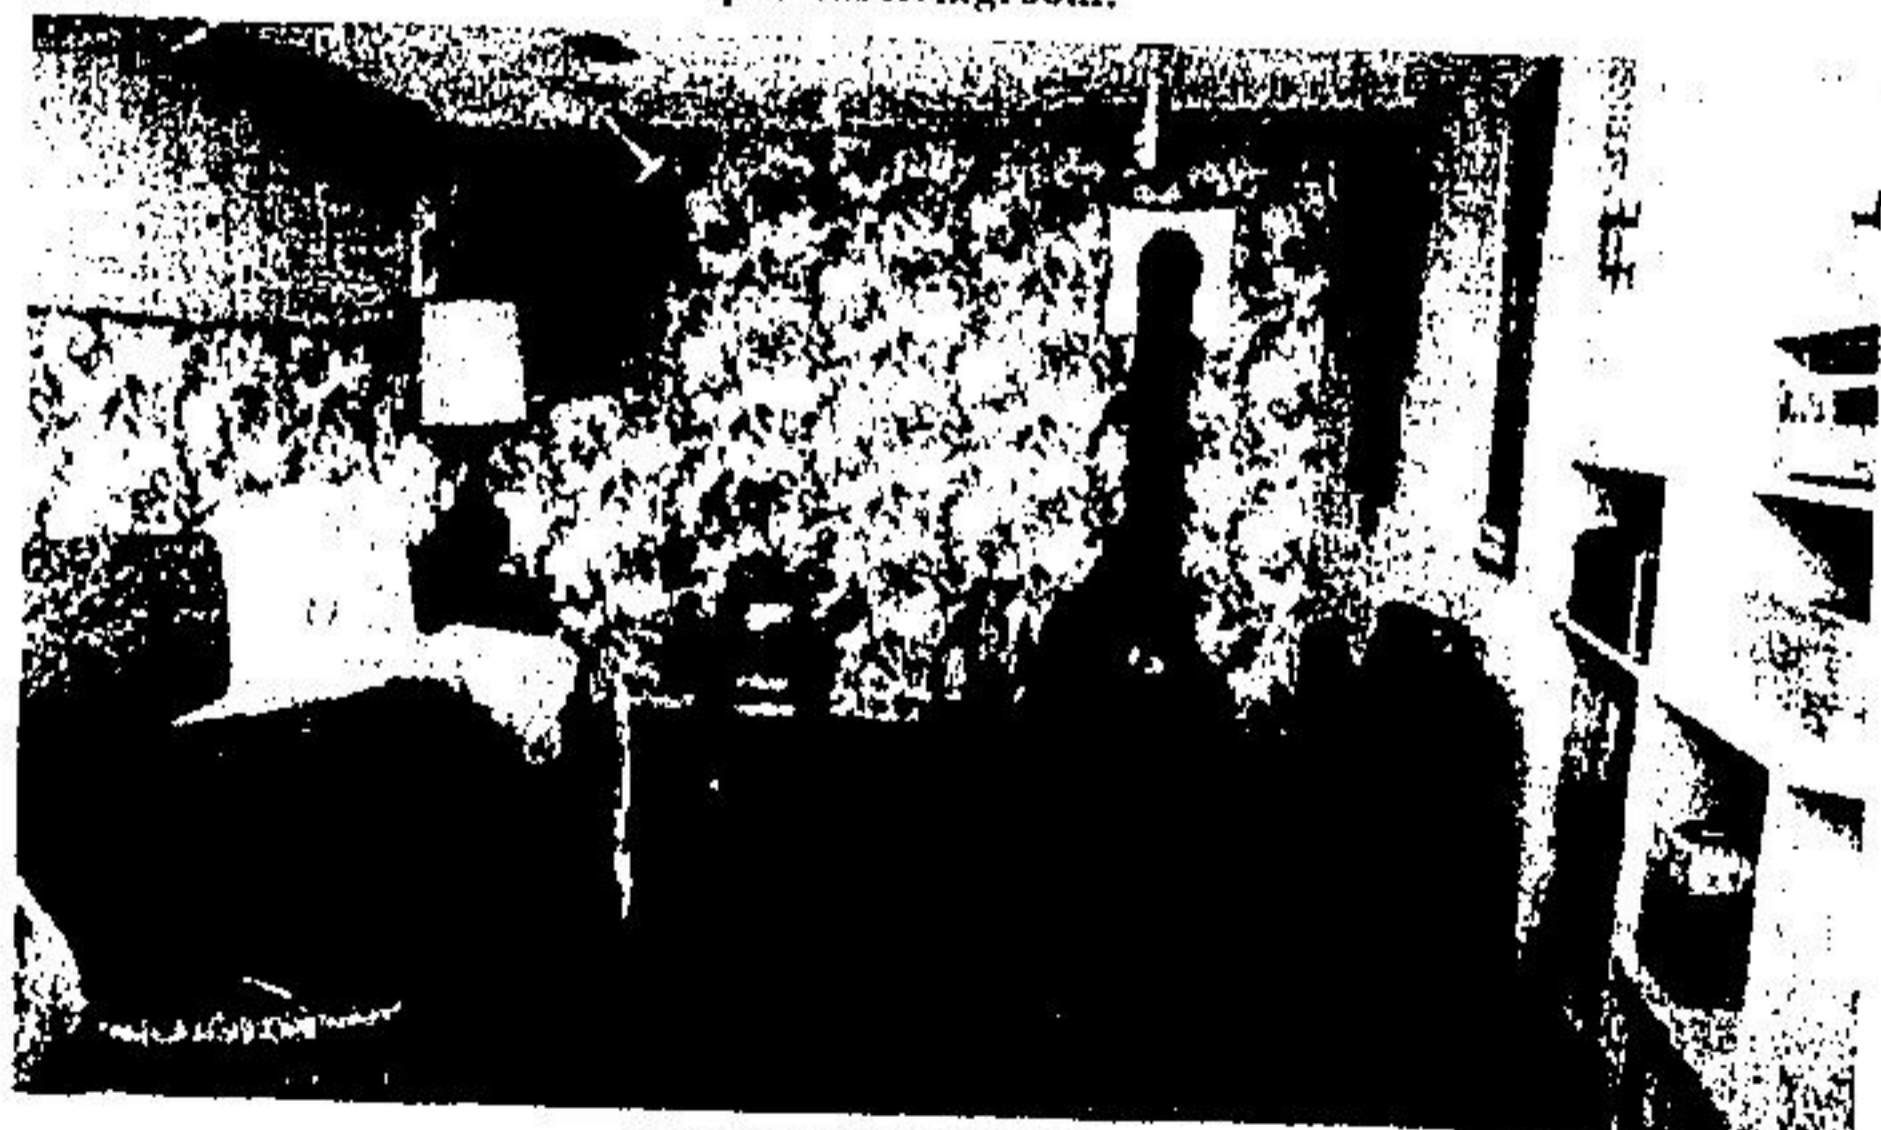

Other features of this three bedroom home a family can love without half trying is a finished recreation room with fireplace, built-in cupboards and book shelves. There's broadloom down so your toes can curl around and stay warm in the cold winter days.

Naturally, with all these features, there is also a paved driveway and a single car garage, and the entire house is spotlessly clean.
