

Chapman — Mackenzie wed

Two well known Acton lawyers were married January 20 in Knox Presbyterian church.

Margaret Jean Mackenzie, daughter of Mrs. K. Mackenzie and the late Kenneth A., 61 Lake Ave., and Gordon Rowe Chapman, 313 Westcott Rd., son of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Chapman, Oakville exchanged vows with Rev. Andrew H. McKenzie officiating. It was one of his last duties as Presbyterian minister in Acton before moving to a new parish in Perth. Both the bride and groom are self-employed with the law firm of Mackenzie and Chapman.

E.A. Hansen was organist with Mrs. Gerry (Judy) Hacke as soloist. She sang the Wedding Prayer.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her brother Jack Mackenzie. She wore an ankle length gown of off white silk jersey and a boater hat. She carried a single orchid with stephanotis and baby's breath.

Mrs. R. Runham (Catherine Hinton), a friend and neighbor of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of soft pink chiffon.

The groom's brother,

Jamie Chapman was best man. Ushers were Bill Bowslough and Doug Smyth.

Charles Kirkness, Acton was master of ceremonies at a dinner and dance held at the Acton Music Centre. Walter Thomson, Oakville made the toast to the bride. The wedding cake was made by the bride's aunt, Marjery Mackenzie and decorated by Mrs. G. Young.

Special guest at the wedding was the groom's grandmother Mrs. Vernon McKenzie, Ottawa. Other guests were from Brookline, Mass., Barbados, Montreal, Ottawa and Kingston.

Prior to her wedding, Margaret was guest of honor at four showers held by: Mrs. Eric Howell, shower luncheon, Toronto; Mrs. Frank Heller, evening shower, neighbors; Mrs. Charles Leatherland, dinner shower; and Finni Verbik, Nicole Campbell, Betty Francis, Karen Archibald and Susan Patrick, friends, at the home of Susan Patrick.

A honeymoon to Grand Cayman Island followed the wedding. Upon their return, the couple made their home at 313 Westcott Rd.

One Brownie and one Guide were honored recently to be presented with their Religion in Life badges. The girls chose the Mother and Daughter Brownie and Guide Banquet last Tuesday evening as the perfect place to show off their new badges. by Honor Swezey and Susan Lidbury Mrs. Maranese's class is preparing for the upcoming spring season. The kindergarten also made shamrocks for March 17 — St. Patrick's Day.

The grade ones and twos have also been making woven shamrocks. With the coming of spring a very appropriate theme is being studied. This theme is on maple syrup. For math the grade ones and twos are doing "extensions."

Mrs. Graham's class has been studying a theme called "Trees."

This includes research. Miss Critt's class is continuing their study of "Electricity" in Science. A bulletin board is up for St. Patrick's Day.

Charcoal sketches are being studied for art in Mr. McGeagle's class. They are also taking gymnastics, including routines of individual, partners and synchronized.

The sevens and eights are ending the study of the "Revolution."

Kindergarten registration is coming up soon. Anyone who has a child who will enter kindergarten next year is asked to be ready.

The season of Lent has begun. All of us attended a mass at church on Ash Wednesday and received ashes in the form of a cross on our foreheads.

Ebenezer Finleys return from Barbados

Intended for last week By Mrs. H. McLean Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Finley have returned from an enjoyable holiday in Barbados.

This is the season looking toward Lent. In the high Anglican church, it is called Sexuaginta Sunday, 60 days before Easter. Barbados has one of the densest populations in the world, 80 to 90 per cent black. Many churches have a lot of ritual. Jesus pointed out that religious practices could be done badly. They included three things; giving alms, praying and fasting. Alms means giving to the needy poor. In eastern countries, water is expensive. A man could go to the market place, and announce that there would be free water that day. But then he might tell the people, to bless him for giving them the water. A common and beautiful religious custom is prayer, and corporate prayer is a good thing. The devout Jew prayed at 9, 12 and 3 o'clock. Some made sure that they would be in a busy place. Jesus said, "When you pray, go into your room and shut the door." Fasting is a custom with many religious people. It is good self discipline, one or two days per week.

Some would smear white ashes on their faces to make them look pale and suffering. Jesus said, when you fast, fast in secret.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Bob Johns, in the sudden death of her father.

Ebenezer ladies go to Campbellville, on Friday, to join in the World Day of Prayer.

The UCW are planning a pancake breakfast for their March meeting, next Tuesday. Seven ladies attended the Waterloo Presbyterian in Kitchener.

Operetta practices have started in real earnest this week with each cast taking turns to work after school. The costume department has a good beginning on the fittings and the set group is working at their drawing boards. A list of props is being compiled slowly.

Monday was a P.D. day with our teachers working on various committees in the morning. They spent the afternoon and evening talking to parents and students and were very happy with the turn-out.

Tuesday our euchre tournament began with tables of eager players. On Thursday the winning couples will challenge new partners and by March break we'll know who the champs are.

Those competing on Tuesday were:

Our McKenzie-Smith phantom boys played in the Centennial tournament last weekend. In their first game they defeated Tomken Road School from Mississauga 44 to 37. Our second game was against Robert Service from Toronto. This excellent team had a victory over the phantoms 55 to 37. We congratulate our boys on their fine efforts.

Yesterday (Tuesday) our girls basketball team participated in a semi-final game against Stewarttown Senior school. Results for this game will be in next week's paper. The boys will also be taking part in a semi-final game with Centennial tonight. The results for this game will be in next week's article.
