It took a lot of explana- recreation department

Recreation Director Glen Gray explained that the increase in many cases was simply the mandatory increase in the minimum wage.

Councillor Russ Miller questioned the increase for the canteen manager from $4.50 to $5 an hour, but agreed after Gray explained there is one woman to look after the whole operation at both arenas, with the job covering developing a work schedule, taking inventory, ordering, and maintaining the can-

Lifeguards in town pools will have a pay from increase maximum of $2.90 hour to $3.60. Miller said that was 12 per cent and asked why? The recreation director sald the maximum is $3.60 and the minimum $3, with the rate paid depending on experience and level of aquatic

The change from range of six dollars to $15 for program instructors to a fint $10 was accepted when Gray explained the fees charged pay for the programs.

Councillor Ross Knechtel stated it didn't matter what the pay isthe program is on a break even basis and doesn't cost the taxpayer anything. Councillor Walter Biehn disputed this view, pointing out there was no reason the town could not make money on a program. Other wages approved by council include $10 per half-day from ski bus supervisors up from $3, $3.60 for gymnastics coaches up from from $3.25, $170 a week for summer program supervisors up from $130 to $140, and $136 for assistant supervisors up from

On the other hand, park attendants salaries were dropped from $3.50 to $3.75 to $3 and hour.
