Artem—Duval wed March 2

A honeymoon in the Bahamas followed the wedding of Carolyn Ann Duval and George John Artem March 2 in St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Father Leo Speagle officiated at the 5 p.m. double ring ceremony with Mrs. Pat Salt providing the organ music. Mrs. Marie Zions was soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Wilfred and Jo Ann Duval, 43 Nelson Court. She is employed by The Acton Free Press. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Artem, R.R. 3 Acton and works at Commercial Shearing.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, Carolyn wore a white jersey gown with Alencon lace overlay on the bodice and cuffs. A wide-brimmed hat, trimmed in matching jersey and lace was complemented with a sheer blusher veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white gardenias.

Maid of honor was the bride's friend Louise Harmsma. Bridesmaids were Andrea Broostad, friend of the bride, and Bev Duval, sister of the bride.

They were gowned alike in jersey dresses of jade green, and carried bouquets of white carnations and yellow roses.

Kevin Marcoux, friend of the groom, was best man. Vic Artem, brother of the groom, and Jim Lazenka, friend of the groom were ushers.

Dave Braidia, cousin of the bride, was master of ceremonies at a dinner and dance held at the Acton Legion. The wedding cake was made by the bride's Godmother Mrs. Jack South.

Prior to her marriage, the bride-elect was guest of honor at four special gatherings hosted by: Andrea Broostad, Louise Harmsma and Bev Duval; Mrs. Ken Papillon, neighbor and friend; fellow workers at the Acton Free Press, and a family shower held at the home of Mrs. Jack South.

Upon their return from the Bahamas the couple made their new home at 128 Church St.

Ice Capades are enjoyed

Spring is here with the rain and all that goes with it, but it is a hopeful sign. It won't be long before the spring flowers, tulips, daffodils and crocuses will be showing off their beautiful colors. These are signs of much better weather ahead which will be welcome by many of us who the bad weather affects.

The Ice Capades in Kitchener was very much enjoyed by all who attended, in spite of a few misfortunes which added to an experience to be remembered.

In spite of poor attendance at the last meeting due to so much illness of our members, it was a good one, and a number of items were discussed, one being an invitation to the Handicapped Bowling Tournament in Stoney Creek on Sunday, May 27 at 1 p.m. We are hoping as many as possible will be able to attend, as it is a chance to compete in something others do all the time. It is good for us and our morale to take part in activities such as bowling. So many of us were disappointed last year, due to the lack of transportation and we would appreciate anyone who would like to donate a few

WI celebrates anniversary

by Mrs. C. Coles

The 61st anniversary of Bannockburn Women's Institute was celebrated with a pot luck supper on March 21 at the home of the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. Sinclair of Georgetown.

The vice-president, Mrs. R. Hollis, presides for the business part of the meeting. The District Annual, to be held in May, is discussed and Bannockburn is to be the host branch.

Kits were given out to the members and plans were made to canvass the district in April in aid of the Cancer Society. Conveners were reminded to have their annual reports ready for the next meeting.

Our special guest for the evening was the District Director, Mrs. John McNabb of Ashgrove. She told us of the remarkable achievements of Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless, the talented founder of the Women's Institute organization. Mrs. McNabb also gave the group some most interesting information on compiling a family history or a house log, telling of the time and research involved. She displayed several family histories, including an extensive one on which she herself has been working.

Prize list changes noted by directors

The lady directors of Acton Agricultural Society met in the Acton Library board room for their March meeting.

Some changes in 1979 prize list were reported. Since everyone is thinking of the "International Year of the Child," this year, the conveners of group displays have changed their theme to—"A Child's Bedroom." In Homecrafts there will be a small section for entries from senior citizens only and the Grand Champion Quilt of the show will be eligible for the Canada Packers Quilt Contest.

Business was quickly dispensed and the last half of meeting was greatly enjoyed by all. Pat Lee, beauty consultant for Mary-Kay products told about the founder of the company and then helped six ladies with a facial and application of make-up suitable for each individual.

Wall-to-wall carpeting laid over a cushion or pad has greater insulating qualities than room-size or area rugs.

To put everyone in a good mood, an Irish joke was told in answer to the roll. Routine business covered the planning of upcoming catering events and other things of interest to the organization.

Devotions were taken canvass on the first Sunday in May. Every house will be visited to get names, number of children and church affiliation if any.

The other churches in town were all contacted to get their feeling for this project and several have volunteered to assist with the canvass.

The chairman of the S.C.A.C. committee in Acton is Mac Sprowl. If anyone would like further information about this venture he can be contacted.

Every household in Acton can expect a call at their door on Sunday, May the sixth.
