Pot luck for Women's Institute

A bountiful pot-luck dinner preceded the Women's Institute meeting in Limehouse Memorial Hall last Thursday afternoon.

President Mrs. Booth conducted the meeting. Short reports of recent activities—a hydrocure party, candy making demonstration, first of a bi-weekly marathon cuche-series and a quilting course—were heard and all successful. Mrs. Kirkwood told us Mr. Carbutt of the agricultural museum had suggested that we make a quilt top and demonstrate quilting in the WI hall there. This may be arranged later as the ladies have work ahead.

Correspondence brought an appeal for baking for the Manor tea May 16, a thank you from the Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital for a donation and a donation was made to the North Halton Association for the Performing and Creative Arts.

4H Homemaking Club Achievement Day for "Accessories—The Final Touch," will be held May 3 in EC Drury School at 7:30 p.m. a lengthy letter from Provincial Secretary Margaret Birch and a Home Economics Branch program concerning workshop and courses. Organize 4-H club

By Henry J. Stanley
Close to 100 4-H members attended the organization meeting for Halton 4-H Agricultural Clubs at the Boyne Community Centre on Thursday, March 22.

Chairman of the Halton 4-H Club Leaders' Council, Evelyn Gillies, welcomed all previous and new 4-H members to the start of another year. The rules for each club were explained by Holly Hurren. Holly is helping with the 4-H program in Halton for the month of April until a new Assistant Agricultural Representative is appointed.

A 4-H leader from each club then discussed the year's program. We were extremely pleased that there was enough interest to organize a 4-H Swine Club—this club has not been held in Halton for close to 20 years.

Meeting dates were set for each 4-H Agricultural Club for the month of April. The April meeting is the last date for prospective members to join a club. For further information, contact the Agricultural Office at 878-2314.
