

Redmen fall in consolation final Monarch Park cop senior tourney

Acton High School Senior Redmen had their work cut out for them on the weekend at the host club at the Redmen Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Acton Senior Redman Darryl Allison heads up for two hopeful points during the Redmen Invitational Tourney on the weekend. The Redmen lost their opening round contest 39-20 to M.M. Robinson, then defeated Sacred Heart 47-38 before falling 47-44 to Saltfleet in the consolation final.

The Redmen brought some of the area's top teams together for the competition with the Monarch Park Lions of Toronto walking away with the championship trophy defeating Milton 64-52.

The Redmen dropped their first tournament game 39-20 to the M.M. Robinson Rams relegating them to consolation play where they advanced to the final before losing a tough 47-44 decision to Saltfleet Saracens.

In their second round game the Redmen handled the Sacred Heart Crusaders by a 48-37 margin.

The Redmen were in good position to knock off M.M. Robinson in their first round match until

Juniors suffer first setback

After going undefeated in their first 12 games, Acton High School Junior Redmen fell on hard times over the past week dropping two of three decisions.

On Friday the Redmen travelled to Burlington's Lester B. Pearson where they fell 50-43 to the host school. On the weekend they were in Pickering at the Invitational Tourney. There they scored an easy 39-19 win over Henry Street in their opening round, before falling to Dunbarton 35-18.

In Pickering it was John Lobain who led the scoring in both contests netting 11 in the Henry Street match and eight against Dunbarton. Bob Little was runner-up on the stat sheets in both games earning four points in their opening game and six against Dunbarton.

Scoring stats were not available for the Pearson contest.

The juniors are taking a Christmas vacation, according to coach Rick Boychuck, but will be hard at it beginning January 9 when they open their League at home to White Oaks.

Hockey Moms split shut-out by Hespeler

Acton Minor Atom Hockey Moms continued their attempts to move up in the Waterloo-Wellington league standing this past week, scoring a 3-1 win over Fergus last Wednesday evening.

The win coupled with a 4-0 loss in Hespeler on Friday night, left the Moms with a six win and nine loss record for fourth spot in the league, four points behind Hespeler.

Fergus scored the first marker of their match in Acton last week but a Troy Foster goal with only one second well." The Moms were completely outplayed in Hespeler, according to Leatherland with the goaltending of Scott Williams and Evan Hayter the only thing keeping the score respectable.

Hespeler tallied once in the first, twice in the second and then counted a single third period goal on their way to the win.

The Hockey Moms continue to fight for play-off positions tonight (Wednesday) when Woodwich is in town for a 7:05 p.m. start.

The Moms will be in Tillsonburg over the holiday season competing in tournament team we did not play

Cornwell second in award race

The Canadian Motorcycle Association announced this week that as of December 10 Georgetown area rider Jon Cornwell was still in second place in the race for the White Memorial Trophy.

The battle for the premier motorcycle racing award in Canada in 1979 is going down to wire.

Cornwell has earned 121 points in CMA sanctioned events this year and trails first place Chris Evans by 15 points. He is ahead of the third place rider by almost 30 points.

Midgets undefeated in 14

Ed's In-out Midgets were the first Acton Minor Hockey team to take a Waterloo-Wellington league title this season. With only two games left on their schedule the In-outers are ten points ahead of their nearest competition.

Ed's team has compiled an impressive 10 wins and four ties through the first 14 games including a pair of victories over the past week, edging New Hamburg 3-2 and Orangeville 5-4.

In the Orangeville match the In-outers dropped behind early but fought back in the early part of the second stanza to gain a 3-1 lead on goals by Tim Evans, Mark Duval and Gord McArthur.

Orangeville tied the count in the third period before the In-outers tallied a pair giving them a lead they maintained over the remainder of the contest.

Tim Evans fired both third period Acton goals giving him the hat-trick with Scott Timbers earning an assist. Timbers, Duval, Rick Smith and Rob Vermeulen earned assists on the first three Acton markers.

Tim Baker was between the Acton pipes facing 27 shots while the In-outers tested the
