

Eramosa again asks for details from Park Edge

Final detailed plans for the Park Edge Development in Rockwood are to be tabled with Eramosa Township Council next Tuesday.

though Park Edge representative Gino Civiero asked council Monday to waive part of its rule so that an early start could be made.

consultant, Triton Engineering of Orangeville. The consultant indicated council should see the drawings of the hill, with elevations, so that council will have a sound idea of what it will look like after the project is completed.

Park Edge plans to build an initial 11 homes along an extension of Frederick Street. A nearby hill, favored as a playfield for children, will be considerably reduced in elevation.

Don Test came with some rough sketches of the hill's elevation, on the east-west axis. Council wants details, plus a north-south axis picture.

Councillor John McLeod expressed a desire to see something better than a ditch to solve a nagging drainage problem.

Park Edge Development consultant Test indicated the provincial ministry of the environment has approved the project, while the Grand River Conservation Authority has verbally expressed concern about a swill.

Civiero said there will be some crushing of gravel—likely on the back of the property—for the project. The gravel will come from the hill.

Eramosa is in the midst of improving its requirements of developers. Council adopted the standards at the same meeting, and a copy was given to Park Edge so that the drawings could be brought in line.

subjected to standards that are hard to live with and I think you're getting pretty close now," said Test.

Left to mourn are Mrs. Barbara Pagnan and Mrs. Linda Albane of Guelph and Mrs. Sharon Carere of Southampton; Mrs. Pat Patterson of Acton; Don Schneider of Hespeler; David Schneider of Ottawa; Ken Schneider of Guelph; 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery in Guelph.

How about planting a tree for Rockwood and making our streets even more cool and attractive than they already are.

For a mere $10 you can receive a sugar maple or a Schwedler maple, eight to 10 feet tall, to be planted on the street allowance in front of your home.

The trees are more expensive than this but the village will be absorbing the extra cost. Each tree owner is responsible for planting his own tree.

March 10 is the deadline for ordering and paying for these trees. Contact Martin Adema at the Hydro office, 856-9562 and plant a tree for Rockwood.

Rockwood Sunshine Club is having a great time this year thanks to the weatherman. It's been so easy to get around, our seniors are having little trouble attending their lively meetings.

At the February 28 meeting of the club, Sunshiners learned their president Mrs. C. Robertson will be resigning because of ill-health of her husband. Mrs. Christine Robertson was elected to the office that had been temporarily filled by Mrs. Ann Smith.

Sunshiners then were entertained by Mrs. Mabel Irving and Mrs. Norma Smith on the piano and drums, who led all in singing Irish songs and lively dancing, followed by a euchre game.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Milne invited the Sunshine Club, as well as other Rockwood friends, for an open house March 10 at their home in order to celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary.

Kindergarten is fun, specially when you're registering. Enjoying the day at Rockwood Centennial Public School Kindergarten registration for 1980-81 are Heather Thompson, Little Monique Fluegel, Scott Murison and Sharon McDougal.

Earl Osborne of R.R. 5, Rockwood has been named a national director and chairman of the Extension Service Committee of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada. Mr. Osborne has been with the association for over 10 years.

An agribusiness in the news is Freeman Farms Systems of Rockwood, who have been awarded top Canadian dealer award for farm equipment by the Butler International Company, Wisconsin, suppliers of farm systems. Rockwood seems to have more than its share of super farm and related businesses.

Rockwood Trail Riders held their annual meeting recently. This 16-year-old equestrian club is one of the largest in Southern Ontario and plans many events for the 1980 season.

Executive and directors include: president-Nelson Cole, vice president-Paul Thompson, secretary-Barb Blake, treasurer-Marg Cox and Paul Cooper, Sue Lewandowski, Donna Ledger, Rhonda Rathburn, Helen Stubbington, Mike Beaver, Cindy Johnson.

Plans for this year include five shows; a pleasure trail ride in May; two dances (the first on March 22); two fun days; and two large events, the Trail Horse Trials on August 24, and the Competitive Trail Ride on July 13. These are always well-attended by equestrians from all over the province.

Three more weekend fire calls kept the Rockwood Volunteer fire department hopping this weekend. Two chimney fires and one false alarm prompted the sirens.

Fire chief Carl Meadows comments the fire department has answered many more chimney fires than usual, an estimated 15 this winter.

Don Kitchen, C.G.A. Audit Manager, Office of the Provincial Auditor

Don Kitchen is a natural teacher and puts this ability to good use both in his day-to-day work and in his spare time. One evening a week he lectures accounting students enrolled in the CGA program. Keeping current with accounting and, specifically, auditing procedures is vital to Don's job and he finds that lecturing "keeps him on his toes". As an audit manager with the Provincial Auditor, Don coordinates staff training and professional development for the audit staff. In addition, he manages some of the audits which fall under the responsibility of the Provincial Auditor, such as the audits of Government Ministries and Crown Corporations. When he's not at work or lecturing, Don keeps busy being the treasurer of the condominium where he lives, playing hockey or jogging.
