Silvercreek store may be reopened

After a lapse of approximately 10 years there may be a store at Silvercreek again.

An application has been made by Mrs. Ise Seiz, RR 2, Acton, to the Niagara Escarpment Commission for a permit to operate the store in 600 square feet of the main floor. The building is almost at the junction of Highway 7 and the Seventh Line.

The remainder of the recently renovated building houses two apartments, and has an

Miss E. Pearen gave a report of the early May 1980 Officers' Conference which she attended, along with 613 sister-members of Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario. R.K. McNeil addressed the gathering, cautioning the members to prepare for increased mechanization; changes will create strain due to new techniques. Mrs. A. Zoeller, our editor of Ontario's Home and Country entertained with a monologue portraying an overly busy member preparing for her branch meeting. Miss Pearen gave us a very amusing duplication of her act. Hon. Pauline McGibbon Lt. Governor of Ontario dealt further with the fact that tomorrow's jobs cannot be done with yesterday's tools.

Pay-what-you-pull method was used to sell items donated by each member for the White Elephant Sale.

Mrs. R. Salter demonstrated and explained to us some methods of preparing and decorating with dried flowers, seed pods, weeds, leaf branches of shrubs and trees.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. D. Milton, Mrs. A. Leslie and our hostesses. Mrs. J. Vanderzand invited us to her home for the Juno meeting when the grandmothers will be in charge of the program.

Gardeners - start...

above the first leaflet with seven or more leaves on it. This will allow the flower to bud again.

Rose Food

Roses need fertilizer as well. Give them some rose food fertilizer every four weeks.

Mr. Tuitman says if treated right, roses will bloom from June right through to the first frost, usually in late October and November.

Mr. Tuitman suggests fertilizing again in July, this time with 14-48. The combination calls for a lower level of nitrogen and higher levels of phosphate and potash to strengthen the plants.

Throughout the summer you must remember to keep your flowerbeds clean. Hoe them, remove the weeds and water the annuals twice a week in a dry summer.

By September the garden will be ready for a winter fertilizer. Choose a 4-9-15, which again is very low on nitrogen along with high levels of potash and phosphates.

Mr. Tuitman said you don't want the grass to grow through the winter, but you do want stronger to withstand the frost and snow.

This is the time to plant the bulbs, such as tulips, daffodils and crocus. They can be planted any time in October as long as you can get in the ground, and they will flower again next spring.
