

Too hot to handle? Jerry Korpela, 12, a grade 6 student at McKenzie-Smith and Peggy Ancker right, a 12-year-old grade 7 student at St. Joseph's had more books than they could cope with, so they decided to hold a book sale. Actually the sale was presented by the Acton Junior library Saturday.

Double-ring ceremony for Smiley—Rowe vows

Vows of marriage were exchanged March 15 at St. John the Baptist Church, Burlington, at the wedding of Kelly Ann Loverne Smiley of Burlington and John Mark Rowe of Acton.

The bride is the daughter of Matthew and Glenna Smiley of Burlington. The groom is the son of John and Helen Rowe of Acton, and is a teacher at St. Francis of Assisi school Georgetown. The couple met while both were attending University.

Rev. B.J. Ryan of Burlington and Father Leo Speagle of St. Joseph's, Acton, jointly officiated at the 10 a.m. double-ring ceremony. Mary Hourigan played the organ and the uncle of the bride, Mike Smiley, sang the Wedding Song and played the guitar.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a white chiffon gown with a princess neckline, lace trimmed bodice and sheer cuffed sleeves. She wore a cathedral veil. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of pale yellow silk roses, white African orchids, mixed with baby's breath and asparagus fern.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister Julie Smiley. Friends Isabella Guthrie and Colleen Vassallo were the bridesmaids. Flower girl was the bride's four year old sister Rachel Smiley. The attendants were dressed in royal blue mid-calf length dresses.

Best man for the occasion was the groom's best friend Richard Rocher from The Pas, Manitoba, formerly of Acton. Ushers were the groom's brother Robert Rowe and friend Rick Saville.

Following the ceremony a luncheon and early afternoon reception was held at King's Court in Burlington for the 65 guests. The bride's great aunt Genevieve, Sister St. Hugh, said the grace which was specially composed for the couple. The bride's uncle, Gord Williams, was the master of ceremonies. The bride's aunt, Margaret Ann Williams made the wedding cake.

Special guests included the bride's grandmother, the groom's grandmother, and the groom's aunt from New York, Louise Wedderburn. Special wishes from the groom's aunt in Jamaica, Sister Cabrini, were received by the couple.

Prior to the wedding the bride-elect was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held by the bride's aunts, another by sisters of the groom at their home in Acton and a bedroom-bathroom shower was held by the bridal attendants.

A shower for both the bride and groom was held by the staff of St. Francis of Assisi school and presentations were made by the groom's grade 4 class at a surprise party.

The bride's mother hosted a trousseau tea and friends of the groom held a stag.

After returning from a Quebec City honeymoon the couple made their home at 35 Raylawn Cres., Georgetown.

New Fourth Line wayside pit

Halton Hills council, Monday night, raised no objections to listing of the Dueneck property on the Fourth Line north and across from Indusmin as a wayside pit. This location has not been listed previously. They did set conditions, with the haulage route the most contentious.

NEC approves pit

The Niagara Escarpment Commission approved the expansion of the existing Rice and McFarg pit between the Fourth and Fifth Line at Lot 21.

The expansion will add 15.5 acres to the present 8.4 acre pit. The proposed NEC plan allows limited expansion of existing small sandstone quarries provided production is less than 22,000 tons a year.

The Rice and McFarg application estimates 377 tons per year of building stone will be extracted from the area. The present pit has been extensively worked and now consists of stone walls up to 20 feet high, said the NEC report. The area is in the Hydro right of way for the 500 kV Bruce Milton transmission line, and the owners have an agreement with Ontario

Hydro securing the rights to the stone on the property.

NEC approval was given subject to the applicant submitting a detailed drainage plan to the Credit Valley Conservation Authority, and a rehabilitation plan to both the CVCA and the NEC.

Board buys high

Selling low and buying high was the spot Halton

The board approved a motion to buy land in Burlington at four times the price per acre it was selling land in Milton.

Councillors George Malby and Roy Booth disagreed with a recommendation by Councillor Russ Miller that the truck route be south on the Fourth Line to 17 Sideroad, or northerly on the Fourth Line to Highway 7.

The route, which was finally accepted after lengthy debate, will see the trucks having a choice of travelling south on the Fourth Line to the Given Road, westerly on the Third Line to Highway 25, or northerly on the Fourth Line to Highway 7.

Council asked the Ministry of Transportation and Communication to upgrade the roads, and surface treat them.

The MTC wants to list the Dueneck, Odorico and Vincent properties, the two latter on the Sixth Line, as aggregate sources for the construction of Highway 403 from west of Highway 10 to Cawthra Road.

The quantities of granular materials required for the project are 301,000 tons of crushed gravel, granular A, and 106,000 tons of hot mix aggregates.

Dueneck told council he milked cows for a living and intended to stay doing that. "If the MTC doesn't go with my plans there is no deal." He said he had no intention of having a large hole in his farm, and would insist on it being rehabilitated so he can farm the area. He pointed out he will keep farming while the pit operation is in progress.

Teacher talks going again

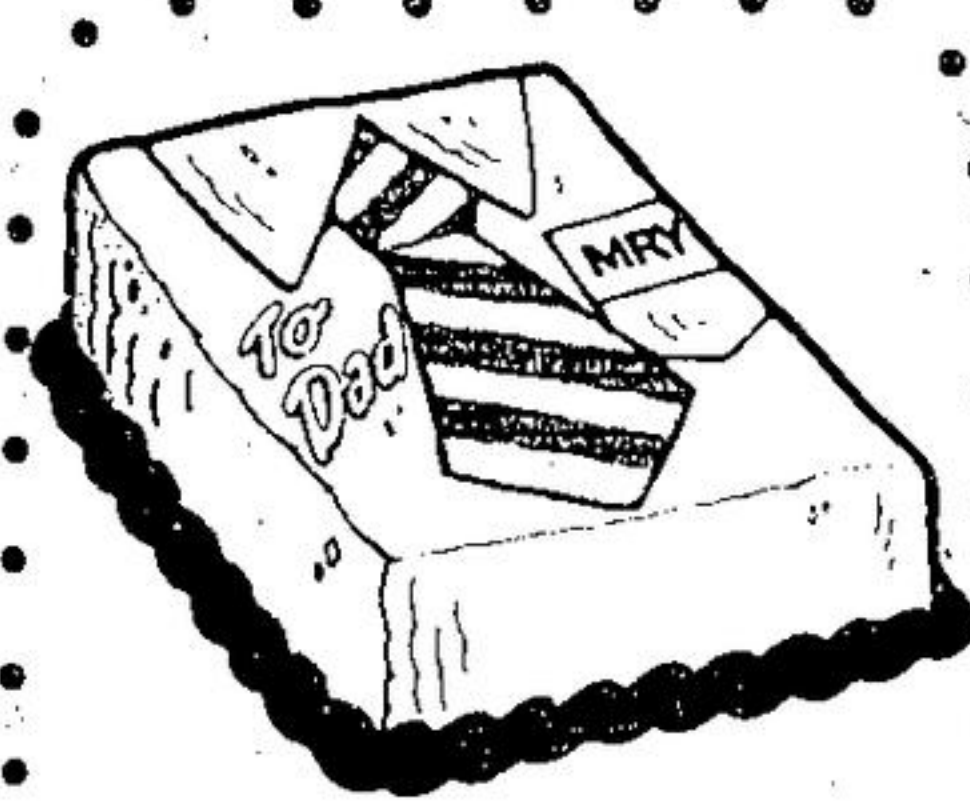

Halton's Ontario Secondary Teachers' Federation, the board of education plus mediator-arbitrator Martin Teplitzky will meet at the Inn on the Park this weekend to hammer out a contract.

Negotiations are slated to start Friday and go until Sunday.

OSSTF President Ron Ness said teachers are prepared to negotiate round the clock to achieve a settlement. Wages and working conditions are among the outstanding issues in the on-again off-again talks which have dragged on since September.

Halton secondary teachers have worked without a contract since the school year began. Halton's Board of Education recently voted an $800 advance to teachers pending the results of the talks.

We're tightening up on people who abuse Unemployment Insurance.

Most people getting unemployment insurance play by the rules. But some people don't seem to know that they can't take a job and collect benefits without telling us they're working. That's why employers are being asked to send us the starting date and Social Insurance Number or extracts from computer payroll tapes for each employee they hire or rehire. This information is cross-checked with the Social Insurance Numbers of people receiving unemployment insurance benefits. Only cases of potential abuse will ever surface. After investigation, anyone found receiving benefits to which they are not entitled will have to repay them. It may be an honest mistake. Some people forget or don't understand they must tell Unemployment Insurance and report their total earnings when they start a new job. In that case, repayment is all that's required. But, a penalty or prosecution may follow when the new system detects people wrongly collecting benefits. If you are collecting unemployment insurance benefits, and start a new job, please say so on your UI claimant report card.
