

Who needs matches, when you have two sticks? A group of seniors from day camp start a fire for their cookout at the Blue Springs Scout Reserve Thursday. The two-week camp put on by the recreation department, came to a close last week with the annual cook-out and sleepover. Starting the fire are John Lortio, Jennifer Kelly, Desmond Derosé, Paul Taylor, Laurie Sears and Jeff Ayland.

Peggy Balkind HWP president

Mayor's chair on display

An historical display about Acton's past political life is being developed as a promotion for Actario ticket sales but it will become a permanent fixture in a "nostalgia corner" in the refurbished town hall.

The mayor's chair, standards and wooden seal of the former municipality have been rescued from the basement of the library and are now on display in the Family Cleaners window downtown.

But there will be more added to this engaging display. A photograph of Acton's last mayor, the late Les Duby, as well as the listing of all past mayors, Reeves, deputy-Reeves and councillors of Acton will be added in the next couple of weeks.

Bahais view Holy land slides

On Friday, July 11 the Bahais of Halton Hills held a fireside meeting at the home of Don and Isobel Weaver with Isobel and Barry Thompson showing slides of the Holy land.

Guests attended from Milton, Pusituch and Halton Hills.

Halton Hills Bahais were well represented at the Bahai summer school in Parry Sound. Subjects were Bahai holy places, Islam and the relation to Bahai and the individual believers.

Caravan for watershed

The Halton Region Conservation Authority has launched a new public relations program in the form of the "Community Caravan for Conservation." The caravan is a 22 foot trailer that will be travelling throughout the watershed this summer to promote a greater interest and awareness of the local natural resources and their proper management.

A turkey vulture caricature guides visitors through the unit.
